WM. MICHELL, October 21st, 1893. INFESTED WITH ROBBERS.

Two More Robberies Last Night and Another Attempted.

The town seems to be infested with robbers. There were two robberies last night, besides an attempted robbery, and another theft Saturday night has been reported. Some time before 11 o'clock the corner window of Mays & Crowe was broken and four revolvers, which were within easy reach, were taken. One was a 44 Colts, another a 44 Smith & Wesson, s 32 Forehand & Wordsworth and the other a make not known. A Winchester rifle which stood in the corner and just as easy to take, was left. The value of the stolen revolvers is in the neighborhood of $40.

The evening before the clerks of the store were talking about the ease with which this window could be robbed, and decided on taking the numbers of the pistols the following day.

The front window of Sam Klein's second hand store was also broken before 9 o'clock last night, but the robbers evidently became frightened before making an entrance, for nothing was missed. Two young men of the town were standing across the street from Mr. Klein's and heard the crash of the glass. Looking over they saw a man leaving the place and disappear in the alley, but supposing he had broken it accidentally, did not follow him.

Mr. Vanbibber missed forty rolls of butter this morning which were taken during the night, and Saturday night Paul Kreft lost a tent. The mayor contemplates putting on an extra force of

D. P. Thompson on Turkey.

A good-sized audience greeted Hon. D. P. Thompson at the court house last night, to hear his lecture on "Turkey." For an hour and a half he entertained them on the manners and customs of the Turks and their history from 504 years before Christ to the present time, and of the progress made by them in the last century, particularly the last half of the century. The present sultan has introduced a system of compulsory education whereby all males between the ages of 6 and 16 must attend schools, guages. Females are not permitted to yesterday, and left this morning for Dallas. go, and are virtual slaves. When the sultan was asked by Mr. Thompson why not educate the girls, he merely shrugged nations. Mr. Thompson is considered a man of great wealth, yet when he was introduced into the presence of the sultan, the room was furnished so gorgeously as to make him feel ill at ease, the throne alone being worth all of his fortune. The magnificence of the rugs, as well as other furnishings, is simply totally innocent. Also that they had ture, and one of its greatest charms was the secretary of state's chambers yester-

THE ART OF EATING.

A Branch of Education in Which Amerleans Are Woefully Deficient.

"When my children get to the proper age," said the man who was smoking a briar pipe, "I intend to have them taken in hand by some competent person and given a thorough instruction in the art of eating, and, further, in the science of finding out what to eat and ordering."

"What do you mean?" inquired the man who sat next to him.

"I mean this: The average American citizen is woefully deficient in knowledge of what he can get to eat. He falls down when it comes to ordering a dinner. The great majority of people in this country are brought up frugally at home and do not know any thing but the commonest dishes. The consequence is that when a man goes into a restaurant for dinner or to a hotel he gazes helplessly at the bill of fare and sees many things of which he does not know the component parts. He dares not order anything that he is not sure of, for fear of ridicule, and he falls back on roast beef and mashed potatoes. The fact is, he doesn't know anything but roast beef. Same way in a restaurant. When a waiter shoves a bill of fare under a man's nose nine times out of ten he will look it over and then say: 'Gimme a steak and some fried potatoes.' Now, the man who does this day a fter day doesn't want roast beef. He is sick unto death of steaks and fried potatoes. He loathes ham and eggs, and yet he keeps on ordering them in dreary and dyspeptic succession, because he doesn't know any better and he is too pround to confess his ignorance. It's that way with me, and I'll bet it's that way with most of you. I am going to relieve my children of all these things. They're going to know what's what when it comes to eating. 'No roast-beef domination!' shall be my household slogan.' And the rest of the party, says the Buffalo Express, thought it over and concluded that he was pretty nearly

THERE WILL BE NO FIGHT.

That is the Declaration Made by Gov ernor Mitchell. TALLEHASSE, Fla., Jan. 19 .- If Governor Mitchell has any intention of abandoning his fight against the Duval Athletic club, he does not show any signs of it. On the contrary, he seems more determined than ever and has laid plans which he says cannot fail. When approached today he said.

'You can announce that I'm going to prevent this prizefight, for that's what it is, no matter how many other terms are applied to it."

"But it is hinted that Jacksonville militia has declined to aid you," was

"That's not true," said the governor sharply, "but if they did happen to so decline it would not affect my plans in the slightest degree. I'm going to prevent that fight, and that's all there is about it. Corbett and Mitchell cannot tight in this state."

"Have you read that the club has several other plans in view if Jacksonville is abandoned?" was asked.

"I have," said the governor, "and I repeat emphatically that the fight shall be prevented in the state of Florida. I John McCloud was found dead in his grant you that they may sneak off in the bed Monday evening. He left a letter woods somewhere and have it out, but I stating that after careful deliberations don't see how even this can be done. I he had decided to take his life, which shall not call upon the Jacksonville the press would call cowardice, but that militia. Some of them are in favor of he would rather be called a dead coward the fight and have friends who are intesested."

"Then you will employ the militia of some other point of the state?"

"You may draw your own conclusions The adjutant-general has planned to cover every point which might be available, and his men are men who may be depended upon. I am prepared, in any event. Now, then," said the governor, in conclusion, "I think I have made Florida to see a fight and don't see one after spending time and money, he can only blame himself. There will, I repeat once more, be no prize-fight here."

The adjutant-general would say nothing of his plans further than the fight would surely be prevented.
