The Wasco News of Sherman county has been awarded the county printing.

Cougars are reported plentiful on the mountains, having been driven from the interior wilderness by the late storms.

That noise; is it the mutterings of distant thunder? No; it is simply the roar that is arising from Eastern Oregon towns that fondly, but in vain, hoped for the branch insane asylum.—Oregonian.

The Harney Times announces that it will help bear the dear old democratic banner to victory in 1896. The balance of the paper is devoted to advertising almost illegible by reason of its bad print.

Mr. E. E. Lytle has provided his office with a valuable watch dog, in view of the several recent robberies. It is a new breed, known as the Curbetone and Sooner dog, but Lytle is determined to be on the safe side.

It was reported yesterday on the streets that Ben Snipes had been shot in the head at Seattle. The report originated from an operator who told a former clerk of Snipes that he heard it going over the Associated Press wires.

John Rinehart, grandfather of the late Dr. W. E. Rinehart, died in Summerville recently, aged about 70 years. The deceased is a brother of James H., L. B., Henry, William and Jasper Rinehart, all of whom are prominent pioneer residents of that section.

Freight No. 22, while coming in this morning, ran into a small slide while rounding a curve, but not enough to derail either the engine or cars. Engineer Montgomery and the fireman jumped, but alighting in some soft mud, about knee deep, were not injured.

The board has decided on a place near Union for the branch insane asylum, provided land and water rights can be bought at reasonable prices. The action of the board in making the selection was unanimous. The site is on Katherine creek, near Hot springs and Hot lake.

Joe Warteger will have a trial at 5 o'clock this evening for committing an assault on Alex. Hugenine. The trouble occurred in Frank's saloon. According to a witness, Hugenine came in while Warteger was there, and a difficulty arising Warteger struck him. Later Hugenine swore out a warrant against Warteger. J. M. Walton will appear for the defense.

Mr. R. Mays reports the loss of only one animal from the late fatal disease among cattle in the last two weeks. Mr. M. McLeod of Tygh Ridge has lost three recently, and Mr. Putnam, who travels extensively throughout the country for the Union Dressed Meat Company, reports quite a loss of stock in various places in Gilliam county from the same disease.

McClure's Magazine for February will contain an exhaustive study, profusely illustrated, of the life and character of Philip D. Armour. Without slighting Mr. Armour's business genius, and the mammoth enterprises which that genius has originated and conducted, the article will give special attention to a less known side of Mr. Armour's character, his beneficence, and the far from small enterprises in which that has fructified. The article will get an added interest from its pictures, many of which will be from special drawings made on the scene.

TO THE RESCUE.

Tibbets and Party Always Ready to Fight Robbers.

The late robberies have put everybody in an apprehensive state of mind, and figuratively speaking, all have their hands on their revolver. So when No. 1, coming in late this morning, stopped about a half mile short of the depot, Tibbets, the plucky little delivery man for the express company, easily imagined the train was being held up by robbers. He, with two or three others, secured guns some way, boarded the switch engine, and were soon en route to the rescue. Arriving close to the scene they got off from the engine and bravely marched with guns ready for instant use to the aid of the passengers. The latter took Tibbets and his men for the robbers and those who happened to have guns were getting them out and preparing to shoot. Both parties then simultaneously became frightened and ran in opposite directions. When the train finally pulled up at the depot, the trouble was explained. The cylinder head of the locomotive had been blown out just short of reaching the depot, and the train had to stop. The passengers were informed that the supposed robbers were their intended allies, and Tibbets' party soon found out the peaceable intentions of the passengers. Both had a good laugh on the other and the incident ended.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Of all the blood-purifiers in existence Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the only preparation of the kind permitted to occupy space and to be exhibited at the world's fair, Chicago, notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts on the part of other manufacturers for a showing. The rule adopted by the world's fair officials forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums was waived in the case of J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., in a decision substantially as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

State Tax Levy.

Yesterday the state board made the levy for the state tax. The levy was fixed at 43-10 mills on the dollar of assessable property. On the basis of valuation fixed by the state board of equalization, this will yield $72,000 in round figures. Last year the levy was fixed at 7 mills on the dollar of taxable property which yielded an income of $1,069,000. This year's levy did not include the expenditure for the new insane asylum in Eastern Oregon, nor for the two wings to the state penitentiary, as the assessments provided for in the appropriations have already been made.

Barks, but Don't Bite.

I see by your issue of yesterday that "the supreme court of Oregon declares in strong language that the owners of barking and vicious dogs are responsible for all damages caused by such dogs, and that the owners keep them at their own peril." But what if the dog be not vicious but only large and with a bark which can be heard two or three blocks away and keeps that same bark going half of every night disturbing the neighboring people, spoiling their sleep and their tempers not for a night merely, but for consecutive weeks and months. Question—May not such a dog be declared a nuisance and put out of the way, if not kept in the house?

Paupered Linn County.

Oh for the light of other days, vanished alas in the gloaming! Poor, paupered Linn county, once the glory of Oregon, is now a land where "two-thirds of the people are without employment and one-third without sufficient means of support." Oh, Lebanon, though of holy name, how great is thy fall! Arise, Kaffirs, Matabeles, Zulus, Bushmen, Siamese, Bedouins, coolies, cannibals, and give of your stores to suffering Linn county. Remember past benevolence, and appease the torturing, gnawing hunger that must appertain where one third of a county has not sufficient means of support. You know how it is yourself. In times of plenty we sent you missionaries to roast and Bibles printed in English. Now, if you have any gratitude about you, you will return the compliment and send over some carcasses of the zebu, the fleet aoudad and bubale, yea, the tetrodon and the koala, anything that is edible. Everything is meat that comes to the net now. Know you that the citizens of Lebanon endorse Governor Pennoyer's Christmas letter to Cleveland.

Want to Burn the Doctor.

An Associated Press dispatch from Goldendale, Wash., says: Hon. W. R. Dunbar is in receipt of a letter from We-Us, an Indian of the Calawah tribe, asking if it could be arranged with "Boston tyees" (meaning court and jury) whereby they could be permitted to burn an Indian doctor at the stake, who has been doctoring the son of Skamiah's nigh unto death, and by the destruction of this doctor the evil spirit will be destroyed and Skamiah's son will recover. The Indian tradition is that where the medicine man fails with his herbs to effect a cure, he has been possessed of an evil spirit, and that, as long as it exists, it will prevent a patient's recovery. Therefore, utter destruction by fire is the sentence the entire tribe passed upon the unfortunate doctor. Mr. Dunbar, during his many years' residence in Klickitat, has often been called to council the different tribes. He says this is among the worst barbarities he ever knew them to want to inflict, but he believes the custom has long been practiced, but civilization is bringing them to dread the law.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Baker City has no flour mill and North Powder and Pendleton ship flour there by the carloads.

Mount Jefferson broke loose yesterday morning and vomited smoke and steam for the space of half an hour.

Henry Blackman of Heppner has been confirmed as collector of internal revenue for Washington and Oregon.

Charles E. Schmidt, who was sentenced from Wasco December 1, 1891, for nine years for forgery, was pardoned yesterday by the governor.

Following the example set by Portland with her committee of 100 taxpayers and business men, Salem and Marion county are to organize a smaller committee with identically the same objects and aims. The meeting will be held Saturday. The committee will be composed probably of twenty-five.

Last Thursday the bank of Jacksonville opened its official eyes pretty wide on eight pounds of quartz brought to town from near Jackass creek, Jackson county. The lump was brilliant with gold and was supposed to be worth no less than $1,000, and perhaps considerable more. W. B. Flamm, the miner who dug it out of a pocket, would not give the exact location of his valuable discovery. It is said that the most valuable placer mines in Southern Oregon are situated on Jackson and Jackass creeks, in the vicinity of the find.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be much pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

NOTICE.

To All Whom It May Concern: By virtue of an order of the common council of Dalles City, made and entered on the 12th day of December, 1893, notice is hereby given that said city council is about to proceed and order and construct a sewer of 8-inch terra cotta pipe on Lincoln street, commencing at the intersection of Lincoln and Fourth street, on the south side of Fourth street, and continuing thence northerly along the center of said Lincoln street to low water mark of Mill creek, and that the cost for said sewer will be assessed against the property directly benefited thereby, as by the charter provided.

Dated this 26th day of December, 1893. DOUGLAS S. DUFUR, Recorder of Dalles City.

FLOWERS, SHRUBS AND TREES.

SPIKES of pampas grass should be cut as soon as they are fully expended, if they are wanted for winter use for decorating the house.

OLD-FASHIONED hollyhocks have sprung into favor for decorative purposes since Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt used them at the grand fete given at her marble house.

A HYBRID has been procured between Azalea mollis and A. viscosa which preserves the agreeable fragrance of our native plant with the bright colors of its Asiatic parent. A new race of sweet-scented azaleas would be a desirable addition to garden plants.

NO OTHER shrub equals the hydrangea paniculata grandiflora for making a display in August. The large heads of white flowers last for a long time, and when they fade it is to a light pink color which is still attractive, if not so much so as when white. Further than this, the heads may be cut later and used in their dried state as ornaments for the house, placed in vases.

RAILROAD RATTLE.

A LOCOMOTIVE requires fuel and labor to the value of three thousand dollars in the course of a year.

The railways of England and Scotland derive a larger revenue from their goods than from their passenger traffic.

In every mile of railroad there is seven feet and four inches that is not covered by the rails—the space left between them for expansion.

The Victoria railway bridge over the St. Lawrence, at Montreal, Can., contains 3,000,000 cubic feet of masonry work and 10,500 tons of iron.

MOSQUITOES were unknown in Atlanta, Ga., before sleeping cars were run from Savannah into that city. This is evidence that mosquitoes travel first-class.
