THE CASE OF STAGGE

Controller Has Not as Yet Reached a Decision in the Matter.

A FULL EXPOSE IS PROMISED

If the Receiver of the Oregon National Bank Is Retained, His Past History Will Be Published.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Controller Eckels has not yet decided what he will do in the case of Receiver Stagg, of the Oregon National bank, but the probabilities are that he will be retained in his present position. Hundreds of letters from persons in Oregon and Spokane and other portions of Washington have been received by the controller, urging that Stagg be retained. People in the west, who know senators and representatives, have written them here and these letters have been handed to the controller. The first letter which Eckels received from Stagg was not what he expected, but there is another expected by Monday, which gives a history of the career of Stagg. If Stagg is retained it is the purpose of the controller to give out a history of the whole affair, in order that he may be justified before the country. He has already talked the matter over with the president and will do so again so soon as he has Stagg's history to show him. Business men and lawyers have been conspicuous in urging that Stagg be retained. The report of Examiner Eldridge will largely guide Eckels in his action.

THE DEBATE GOES ON.

Henderson's Amendment to the Agricultural Schedule Defeated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—When the house met this morning the tariff debate was resumed. The pending amendment was that of Henderson of Iowa, to substitute the existing rates on agricultural products for the agricultural schedule of the Wilson bill. Wilson asked unanimous consent that Tuesday three hours be set aside for discussion of the coal schedule and three hours for the iron schedule. This was agreed to. Then McRae of Arkansas gave notice that he would Monday offer an amendment to strike out the sugar bounty. After this the debate was resumed, resulting in the defeat of the pending amendment (Henderson's) by a vote of 116 to 63. At this point the Hawaiian message was laid before the house, and consequently it was some time before the house again settled down to its discussions of the tariff. When it did so Crane of Texas offered an amendment to reduce the duty on woolen goods from 40@45 per cent to 25 per cent, and Simpson one to place all cotton and woolen goods on the free list. A long debate followed, but both were defeated. The next amendment was one by Dingley of Maine, to change the rates on lime from 10 per cent ad valorem to a specific duty of 6 cents per 100 pounds. This was also lost. At 5:30 the committee rose and the house took a recess until 8 o'clock, with an amendment by Hitt pending, to force Canada to admit our coal free in return for the free admission of Canadian coal into the United States.

THE NIGHT SESSION.

When the house resumed its session tonight, Talbert of South Carolina spoke in favor of the tariff bill, and was followed by C. W. Stone of Pennsylvania in opposition. Boatner of Louisiana censured the ways and means committee for reporting the bill, which he asserted, savored so much of protective policy. He thought the ways and means committee should have placed a duty upon sugar instead of maintaining the bounty on that article. Strong of Ohio spoke in opposition to the bill, as did Wheeler of Illinois, after which the house adjourned.

The Sugar Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The contest over the sugar schedule is likely to be precipitated Monday by Harter of Ohio. He will move an amendment to the Wilson bill, doing away with the sugar bounty and putting a tax of 1 cent per pound on sugar. Johnson of Ohio will champion absolute free sugar, without bounty or duty. Louisiana's interests are preparing for a hot discussion.

Coal Found Near Yaquina.

YAQUINA, Or., Jan. 20.—The bay is excited over a coal vein that has been struck within 2½ miles of Yaquina city. It is over three feet thick, and carries 84 per cent of fixed carbon. This bids fair to have important bearing on the future of the Oregon Pacific railroad.

NEWS NOTES.

President Helen Shafer, of Wellesley college, died at noon Saturday of pneumonia at Boston.

Ex-Governor William Gilpin died Saturday morning in Denver. He was found dead in bed. Three months ago he was badly injured by a fall. It is thought this was the cause of death. He was the first governor of Colorado, being appointed by Lincoln in 1861.

The voting on the tariff bill will begin on next Monday. From present appearances the contest will develop a deal of heat and bad blood. The sugar men will contest their amendment inch by inch. The chance of making sugar a dutiable article is slim. There is a scheme on foot to put the income tax in as a rider, which may defeat the whole thing, as many democrats will pool with the republicans.

The president has laid before congress another batch of correspondence on Hawaiian affairs, which includes several spicy letters between Willis and Dole, in which Dole reproaches the minister with an unfriendly course, and, being asked afterward by Willis to withdraw those imputations, declines to withdraw any letters. Then Willis wrote back, asking specifications. To this Dole had not replied when the steamer bearing Willis' dispatches sailed.

Senator Quay expresses himself very decidedly against the proposed $50,000,000 bond issue. He believes that the issue without absolute authority of law, would be repudiated, and that loan takers of February let know that the securities go out under a cloud, and says: "The administration has produced a condition of affairs which has destroyed trade, foreign and domestic, and gravely diminished the revenues, internal and from customs. Having by its own action produced this financial status, the administration announces an existing deficiency of $8,000,000, urges the passage of a revenue measure which will enlarge the deficiency by $70,000,000, all and goes to the country for a 5 per cent. loan, the first of a series to relieve it of the consequences of its financial treason." There would be no necessity for replenishing the treasury if the tariff was let alone.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept trying it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it. MADISON MUSTARD, Otway, Ohio. Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Too Indigestible.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Cliquot, a French-Canadian sword-swallower, today swallowed fourteen 22-inch swords at one time, and tonight lies unconscious and suffering from internal injuries at the Union square hospital. Cliquot gave an exhibition in sword-swallowing this afternoon in his room at the hotel. After swallowing all sorts of swords he swallowed a long cavalry saber, and to show that there was no deception about the act, he placed a bar on the hilt which protruded from his mouth and weighed the bar with a 14-pound dumb-bell. Then he took fourteen swords, the blades of which were about an inch wide, and putting them in his mouth swallowed them. A Dr. Hope, for whose benefit the exhibition was given, instead of drawing the swords out singly, drew them all out at once, cutting Cliquot severely and causing the human sheath to faint. A physician was called in and gave Cliquot a hypodermic injection of morphia to relieve the pain. Cliquot was reported in a critical condition tonight, and he is not expected to live.

EVER THE SAME.

Egypt Not Much Different Than It Was Centuries Ago.

The characters in "The Thousand and One Nights" may be almost imagined to step out of their setting of words and to take form and glow with the generous warmth of life before one's very eyes. The natives still drink the same coffee and out of the same cups; they smoke the same pipes; they wear generally the same dress; they play the same primitive instruments that whisper the same strange and plaintive tones; the funeral processions wend their way along the streets as of old; the popular festivals or moolids are still observed with the same untiring capacity for enjoyment; the public reciters still practice their profession before admiring crowds; the water carriers still carry their burdens so welcome to thirsty lips; except in the houses of the rich and thoroughly Europeanized food is still eaten with the fingers and in the same manner, and the hands are washed with the same basins and ewers; the mosque of El-Azhar still, says the Gentleman's Magazine, attracts its crowds of students.

Even the old wooden locks and keys are still in use, and the water jars are still kept cool in the lattice work of the overhanging mushrabiych window frames. Instances of this sort might be multiplied a hundred fold. It is indeed a wonderful change and contrast that is presented to the eye when you leave the European and enter the native quarter. And the mind and feelings turn in unison and become attuned to the changed scene.

The sense of taking part in a new and different life steals over you, and you temporarily throw off your affinity with the west and the nineteenth century. The clock of time is for the moment put back for you.

Face and Figure

Show it if you're a healthy woman. They'll have a beauty of their own, no matter what your features. Perfect health, with its clear skin, rosy cheeks and bright eyes, is enough to make any woman attractive.

To get perfect health, use faithfully Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health, flesh and strength. For periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and "female complaints" generally, it is so effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back. Is anything that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good?"

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
