SHOT IN SAN DOMINGO

The Deserved Fate of a Gang of Conspirators.

ASSASSINS OF GENERAL CAMPOS

They Also Intended to Murder President Heurieux—England May Invade Egypt.

New York, Jan. 25.—The Herald's correspondent at Port au Prince, writing under date of January 12th, says: "The United States corvette Kearsarge arrived here yesterday. Upon arriving in the harbor, the Kearsarge sent a boat to the Ailsa, which was off this port, and brought Acting Rear-Admiral Stanton aboard. He had orders from the navy department to assume command of the North Atlantic station, and to take charge of affairs, especially in Dominican waters. He hoisted his flag on the Kearsarge this morning, with appropriate ceremonies.
December 10th, 1893, General Campos, governor of the Azua district, was ambushed and assassinated while riding upon the public road. A few days later President Heurieux passed over the same road, but with a strong military escort. The sudden shying of a mule while passing a thicket at the roadside attracted attention. The escort plunged into it and captured six men with dynamite bombs, which they had intended throwing at the president had not the strength of the escort prevented. An investigation took place and a conspiracy was revealed. Two brothers named Carlos and Pablos Baez, nephews of the former President Baez, were implicated and imprisoned. December 19th Heurieux sent for a brother-in-law of Marchina and told him to get a suit of clothes, as he was going to take a trip to Azua. "One suit will be sufficient" gave a grim significance to the words. They embarked upon the presidential yacht, the old Deerhound, of Cherbourg fame, and went to Azua. On the 21st Marchina, the brothers Baez and the six would-be dynamite bombthrowers were executed by shooting, the former three on the very spot where Campos lost his life. The rites of the church were refused, and also a request by Marchina to be allowed to write a note of farewell to his wife, with whom he had not been allowed to communicate for 12 months. They were buried in the roadway, where passing wheels and hoofs will soon obliterate all traces of the graves. To the prayers of the family for the remains, to give them a decent burial, the reply was made: "Any one touching these graves will be instantly shot."

Little Hope for Colgate.

KENDRICK, Idaho, Jan. 24.—The Colgate rescue party sent out from here has been forced to return, owing to the deep snow and ice in the Clearwater. The party reached the mouth of Black canyon, where the snow was five feet deep and the river choked with floating ice. After camping three days in the snow waiting a clear-up, they had to return, as the snow kept falling daily and ice gorges grew larger. A party from Post Falls reached Hamilton's cabin, 18 miles below the cabin, on the 12th, where they met the Kendrick party coming back. Martin of Rathdrum, leader of the Post Falls party, will probably winter on the Clearwater, and go up as early in the spring as possible. The rest of the party will return home.

Going After Lobengula.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 24.—Sir Henry Loch has ordered Major Good-Adams with 500 men and four Maxim guns to seek King Lobengula, who is believed officially to be near the Butbye river with 1,000 followers. The mission is intended to be pacific, but has been armed and prepared for any emergency.

The readers of this paper will be much pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

MAY OUST THE KHEDIVÉ.

His Conduct Has Given Offense to English.

CARLO, Jan. 24.—The situation of affairs here, arising from the khedive's recent criticisms of the Egyptian army and British officers, who have been instrumental in organizing the Egyptians into fair fighting material, is decidedly serious, and if the khedive persists in his present attitude it may even lead to his removal from the throne. The protest which Lord Cromer, the British consul-general and minister plenipotentiary, made to the khedive, accompanied, it is said, by a demand for an apology, was made on direct orders of Earl Rosebery, secretary of state for foreign affairs. It is believed France is behind the khedive in his present attitude, and has assured him of support should England attempt to oust him from the throne.

THE MEN MEASURED.

Some Figures Showing a Comparison Between the Two Fighters.

Dr. J. D. Fernandez, on the 10th of January, paid a visit to the training quarters of the two pugilists for the purpose of measuring and examining the men. Speaking critically of Corbett, he said in his report:

"I had never met Mr. Corbett before and was surprised to find him a smaller man than I had imagined he was. He is a big-little man. He has trained until there is not an ounce of superfluous flesh on his body, and he is, in my opinion, in as fine physical condition, with perhaps one or two exceptions, as it is possible for him to be. He is as like a thoroughbred racehorse in conformation as a human being can be. In the development of the muscles of the stomach he is remarkable, and the tendons of his biceps are like whip-cords. While I have seen many men with larger muscles, and who measure more about the chest, stomach, neck and biceps than Mr. Corbett, I have never seen one so finely trained. There was not a blemish in his muscle so far as I could notice from the examination I made. Unlike most men who are athletes, his muscles are not knotted. This he explained to me as due to the fact that he never practiced with heavy weights, as they had a tendency to make him 'slow.' His muscles are not gnarled like those of a blacksmith, but rather the long-set and smooth muscular development of a tiger. It is this which makes him so remarkably quick on his feet and with his hands."

England May Invade Egypt.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A sensation was caused this afternoon when it became known that the government was determined to act energetically in Egypt. At Aldershot a detachment of military and mounted police and some of the best cavalry in the army, with one or more infantry regiments, were ordered to make ready to proceed immediately to Egypt. The government is trying to secure a number of large ocean steamers for use as troopships to convey them there.

NEWS NOTES.

The gold reserve in the United States treasury is reduced to $65,000,000, the lowest point yet reached.

The court of cassation refused the appeal case of the anarchist, Vaillant. He will therefore suffer death.

Senator Perkins, of the senate committee on naval affairs, reported a bill to provide for the establishment of a naval training station on Mare Island, California, to cost $100,000.

Preparations are nearly completed for the ceremonial opening of the midwinter exposition Saturday. A large number of visitors have already arrived in San Francisco, and a great influx is expected yet.

The democratic caucus on Thursday passed upon the internal revenue measure. It will be a part of the tariff bill, and many leading democrats believe that this will result in the defeat of the proposed new law.
