JANUARY JOTTINGS.

Minor Events Which Pertain to City and Country.

Don't fail to read the revised version of the Bible on the first page.

Reports come in that the farmers are plowing in some localities in Sherman county.

The Portland probability man forecasts weather for tomorrow, and says more snow for Sunday.

The assessable property of the district is $1,413,434, and a 4-mill tax would raise the sum of $5,653.73.

The retiring school clerk last year gave in as resources the item of $1,000 delinquent taxes. Mr. E. Jacobsen has collected of this amount $977.80.

"How did you like the result of the prize fight?" was asked a minister of The Dalles today. "I was very much disappointed," he replied, "I was in hopes they would both get killed."

Farmers in the city today complain of cattle eating hay from their wagons while the owners are doing business in town. This is one of the small nuisances, but exasperating, that should not be allowed to exist.

At the school meeting this afternoon the universal desire was to increase the school room and the number of grades up to what they should be. It is safe to say that all of these matters will be compassed by the March meeting.

Laborers at the Cascade locks complain of their employers and say that, while they are paid $1.50 per day, they are charged $4.50 a week for board, and that they are laid off so much during the month that it takes all their wages to pay board and for a few necessities from the company's stores. - Hood River Glacier.

A son of W. S. Locke, while hauling cordwood at White Salmon, fell off the sled, which ran up on his breast and stopped. As there was nearly a cord of wood on the sled, it is little less than miraculous that he was not killed. Fortunately the accident was seen and the sled gripped off the boy in a few moments. - Glacier.

"Rejoice with us for unto us an heir is given—unto us a son is born." We were greeted with the above scriptural quotation as with smiling countenance A. G. Johnson darkened the door of our sanctum this morning and in explanation left the following notice:

A 4-MILL TAX LEVIED.

A Disposition Also Apparent to Increase Room and Grades.

The school meeting this afternoon was well attended. Clerk Jacobsen read the call and financial statement and Chairman Orion Kinsley announced the meeting open for discussion. Mr. Adams, of the board, said that without making any improvements or paying any indebtedness it would be necessary to levy a 4-mill tax to pay the current expenses, and that was the recommendation of the board. Remarking further, Mr. Adams said the school capacity was taxed to its utmost, and that more room must be provided. Notwithstanding the big fire which burnt so many out, and so many ran away, that there were more children than we ever had before in the world and that something must be done to increase the school room. There are 500 pupils now, with eleven teachers, which were already too many pupils per teacher. The only question was as to the best method of increasing the room capacity, and that to do so would require more than a 4-mill tax. In the item of receipts was $200 for tuition, and fifty others from the country have made application for attendance, but it could not be granted for lack of room.

Mr. C. L. Phillips then moved that a 4-mill tax be levied, which was seconded. Judge Bradshaw said that there was another very important matter that had not been touched upon, besides the lack of room for teachers. That was that the schools of The Dalles are three grades lower than provided for by law for a common school education, and that by turning out pupils at the age of 14 or 15 years, we were not doing our duty to the rising generation.

Mr. H. C. Neilson also spoke in favor of increasing the grades to the proper number, and wanted to know what would be the extra expense of equipping a 10-grade school. He said he heartily seconded Judge Bradshaw, and spoke very ironically of being compelled to send children to Dufur or Hood River to learn what should be taught at The Dalles.

Mr. Jack Elton was in favor of voting a 6-mill tax. He said the old indebtedness had hung upon us long enough. He favored having the tax enough not only to pay a portion of the indebtedness, but to build with. That another building was needed, more grades added and more teachers employed. He said that a Mr. Hill was paying $600 a year to educate two of his children in the higher grades that should be taught here, that the expense here would only be half that sum and the money would remain at home. He finally amended the motion to levy a 6-mill tax.

Mr. Adams again took the floor and said there was a better way out of it than that, and that a 6-mill tax need not be levied. Besides, the board did not want to be burdened with any more money than it actually needed. He was in favor of letting the debt go for a while, since there was only an interest of 7 per cent. on it, and the money raised could be better expended in other ways. The academy building, he thought, could be leased for a small sum. It was now tenanted, the windows were being broken, and it was suffering generally from disuse. It would be better to have the county use it for the higher grades than to have it vacant, and thought that it could be leased for a nominal sum, perhaps for nothing. All things considered, he thought that a 4-mill tax would be enough to levy at present, and if improvements were decided upon the board could be instructed at the March meeting to contract an indebtedness sufficient to furnish rooms or lease a building. He said, also, that at this meeting it would be illegal to levy a tax for building purposes.

Mr. Phillips then supported his motion by a speech, and Mr. Elton again spoke in favor of his amendment, sticking to it with great persistence. Being put to vote the amendment was lost and the original motion to levy a 4-mill tax was carried.

Mr. Ruch then moved that the directors of school district No. 12 confer with the academy directors and ascertain the terms upon which the academy could be leased.

Mr. Neilson also moved that at the March meeting the matter be brought up of increasing the number of grades to the 10th. Both motions were carried.

A meeting for gents alone will be given Monday evening at Chrysanthemum hall.

A Pleasant Afternoon.

About thirty-two of the lady friends of Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw were invited to take possession of her pretty parlors yesterday afternoon and to enjoy a few hours in social converse and drive whist. The ladies who were to take the part of gentlemen managed to look so wise, play so "scientifically," and scold enough, so that not even that "necessary evil"—man, was conspicuous by his absence, and the lunch was enjoyed equally as well as though "he" had been present. The games being finished and Mrs. F. L. Houghton and Mrs. N. B. Sinnott awarded prizes, several of the ladies favored the company with musical selections. The score cards were very faint, having a large gilded B on the outside, and small ivory hearts, diamonds, spades and clubs were presented each, with the date and number of the table printed on them. The following ladies spent one of the most pleasant afternoons possible with a hostess who is well up in the art of entertaining: Mesdames W. S. Myers, W. Lord, N. B. Sinnott, S. L. Brooks, Mary French, H. M. Beall, W. H. Wilson, J. S. Fish, G. C. Blakeley, H. Glenn, W. H. Hobson, Chas. Hilton, A. R. Thompson, L. E. Crowe, T. A. Hudson, O. Kinsley, J. C. Hostetter, L. Ainsworth, J. T. Peters, E. C. Pease, F. Bayley, A. S. Bennett, G. C. Eshelman, C. J. Crandall, W. E. Garretson, S. P. M. Briggs, Lida Dunham, F. L. Houghton, J. B. Crossen, H. S. Wilson, O. C. Hollister.

Sleighing Party.

A very pleasant sleighing party went from town a few evenings since to one of the neighboring farms, where were gathered a goodly number of people who put the time in at various amusements, concluding with a very nice lunch. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm, Misses Ada Fulton, Grace Riddell, Jennie Russell, Nellie Sylvester, Ouida Bunker, Ella Floyd, Emma Drake, Messrs W. Fulton, C. C. English, W. Freeman, M. Penet, W. Wilhelm, M. Fulton, A. McLain, G. Gunther, F. Fulton and D. C. Wilder.

Birthday Anniversaries.

Mr. M. Randall and J. E. Barnett celebrated the anniversary of their birthdays last evening with a chicken supper at the residence of the latter. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rorden, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dietzel, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. M. Randall, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. C. W. Rice, Mr. A. W. Turner, Mr. J. J. Woolery. After supper the evening was very pleasantly spent in social chat and music.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. A. Haylock of Kingsley is in the city today.

Dr. H. Logan went to Portland today. He will spend Sunday visiting his son, and will return Monday.

Mr. Jacob Obrist of Fairview, one of Wasco county's successful farmers, called on THE CHRONICLE today.

Mr. A. W. Turner of Willow Creek, Malheur county, Or., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Barnett.

Mr. Robt. Mays has returned from Tygh Valley, and says that there is no snow on the other side of the Des Chutes and has not been for a week, and that the late storm did not reach as far as Bake Oven.

An Awkward Situation.

A physician of Ocota, Wash., while botanizing in the woods near that place recently, stumbled across a big black bear, which got annoyed at his presence and chased him. The railroad was a few yards away, and the doctor took to the track and sprinted along it a few yards ahead of the bear, until a long trestle was reached, when the bear halted and squatted down to watch the doctor hop along the ties. When he was a third of the way across a freight train appeared at the further end. Out on a high trestle, with a bear waiting for him at one end and a freight train coming for him from the other, the doctor felt that the situation was embarrassing. He dropped to a supporting beam, hung from the end of it while the train passed overhead, and then continued his way across the trestle and home by another route.

MITCHELL NEWS.

Neighborhood Comments and the Effects of Wilson's Bill.

Weather excellent. Almost a continuous rain the past few days, but very warm and pleasant for the time of year. Stock are in excellent condition owing to the fine grass at present.

The sick are improving and at present there are none seriously ailing.

Last Monday Mr. Miles, the mail carrier from this place, started at the usual hour, but was compelled to return on account of the high water. Since the heavy rains of the past two weeks many streams have swollen far above the average high water mark. The John Day is higher than it has been since the spring of 1881.

One day of last week the remains of James Thompson were found eight miles below Clarno's ferry on the John Day. One leg was gone to the knee and one arm. He was recognized by a boot that was on his remaining foot. With that exception there was nothing by which he might be identified, since the remains were nothing more than a skeleton.

On the 17th David Luce of John Day valley succumbed to la grippe. Mr. Luce was an old and honored member of society at that place and will be sadly missed out of its ranks. Mr. Luce came from California to his present home in the spring or summer of '63, and since that time has been an industrious farmer and stock raiser, scarcely losing a day from illness in that time. Always strong and well, the shock of his death was real and intense.

There seems to be no prospect but our wool will be relieved of its tariff, and if it should be, sheep men and wool growers of Eastern Oregon, ask yourselves what will be the price you will get for your wool. I saw a statement that several lots of Oregon wool had been sold in the Eastern markets at 7 and 8 cents. The prospects are that the wool of next spring will not command a higher price, yet we pay our herders from $35 to $40 per month and furnish them everything needed, which amounts to not less than $8 more. Besides they can lose the entire herd and are not responsible for a sheep. Is this right in our present financial stringency. Then, too, our shearers get 6 cents per head for shearing. Their expenses amount to the trifling sum of a pair of shears and a whetstone, and the stone generally belongs to a company of from four to sixteen. With that exception they have no expenses for shearing. Many make five and six dollars per day. Why not reduce their wages? Why is it necessary that the one who labors the most in caring for his herds should suffer all the loss? Surely there would be nothing unjust in reducing wages. At present rates, after the herder and shearers are paid, what has the sheep man left for his time and trouble? Not even a thank you. Besides all the above, the ranges are so eaten off it is very necessary sheep should be fed even in the mildest winters, which is an item of expense not to be forgotten. At the present rate of expense and the low prices of our wool and mutton, something must be done or the sheep men of Eastern Oregon must retire from the business. I think it would be well if our sheep men would have a thought on the subject and try to relieve themselves of some of the expenses, which are unjust at present.

Mitchell, Jan. 21, 1894.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists."

THE AMERICAN FARMER, which is now entering upon its 75th year, is the pioneer farmer's paper in the country. It is a large eight-page paper, and contains 56 columns of the choicest agricultural and literary matter, plentifully embellished with fine illustrations. It is

NATIONAL IN CHARACTER, and deals with farming and farmer's interests on broad, practical lines. It

EMPLOYS THE BEST WRITERS IN THE COUNTRY, and everything that appears in its columns is of the highest character. Every department of the farmer's business is discussed in an earnest, practical way, looking to the greatest profit and benefit to the farmer and his family.

It appears on the 1st and 15th of each month, and is furnished at the low price of 50 CENTS A YEAR in advance. This makes it the cheapest agricultural paper in the country.

FARMER LEGISLATION. During the coming year there will be an immense number of matters of the most vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmers be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should all, therefore, take THE AMERICAN FARMER, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other papers for getting this information, and devotes itself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper.

T. A. WARD, Sheriff of Wasco County.
