The janitor of The Dalles public schools is an industrious officer. He saws all the wood himself used by the schools, keeps the grounds in tiptop shape, and has recently finished a big job of painting and papering that would do credit to an artisan.

It costs in salaries about $7,300 a year to run the public schools of The Dalles. The teachers get pay for nine months in the year as follows, per month: Principal $150; assistant principal $70; two teachers $55 each; and seven teachers $50 each. The salary of the school clerk amounts to about $300 yearly, which brings the sum up to $7,320.

Home Needed for Wayward Girls.

President Ira Powers and Superintendent Gardner, of the Boys' and Aid Society, are daily in receipt of communication about young girls who have shaken off their parents' control and are in danger of going to moral destruction. These letters come from all parts of the state, and in almost every instance the girl complained of is under 14 years of age. They show that a reform school for girls is a crying need, and they should impel the proper authorities to do their utmost to have the building near the boys' reform school ready to receive female children as soon as possible. At present nothing can be done to turn these wayward girls into the right path.-Oregonian.

BOB LOST HIS GEESE.

How an Alligator Occupied His Spare Time During the Summe Six or eight years ago Bob Vorus started a goose farm on his mill pond. He knew the value of feathers, and thought the people would appreciate the opportunity of obtaining them near home for making pillows and beds. His big mill pond was such a fine place for them to swim and live and raise in. of geese, and put them on his pond. They were in their glory, and the water was dotted from morning till night as they gracefully glided along over the placid expanse of the pond. Their nests were built in the rushes along its sides, and their melodious voices reverberated along its banks from erd to end. But they did not increase according to Bob's notion-their numbers were diminishing perceptibly. A dead one could be seen occasionally drifting along the edge of the border ing rushes. At first Bob thought it might be minks, otters, skunks, 'possums, or what not that were destroying them, but soon found out that it was alligators, for he actually saw one day one of the ugly reptiles catch a goose and pull it under the water. Partly-eaten geese would sometimes be found. In the course of a few months Bob had the same big pond of water, but not a single goose. Bob hates an alligator, and he and his ten boys have been occupying the dull summer months in killing them. They bring into town two or three every week for the children to get frightened at. The other day they brought up the biggest one yet. It measured nine feet and a half in length and weighed somewhat under four hundred pounds. It was fortyseven years old by the rings on its tail. It had already begun to stow away pine Overcoats. knots for the winter's supply. Itscappetite seemed not to be confined to geese and light wood knots, for an autopsy discovered in its capacious coldstorage reservoir a pair of brogans and

A Jury on a Strike

The most remarkable case in Texas legal history was tried recently at Oakland before Justice English-Mrs. Ella Halloway vs. J. H. Van Alstyne, says a Houston correspondent of the the jury at night. Before retiring the fifty cents each was assessed and their incarceration ordered. A compromise was finally reached by four of the jury returning the fees and the other two paying the fine of two dollars and fifty cents. The higher courts will be in flicted with the case.

Demonstration Not Necessary.

If a train moving at the speed of twenty-five miles an hour were suddenly stopped, the passengers would experience a shock equal to that of falling from a second-floor window; at thirty miles an hour they might as well fall from a height of three pairs Successors to The Dalles Mercantile Co. of stairs; and an express train would, in point of fact, make them fall from a fourth story.

EMPLOYS THE BEST WRITERS IN

THE COUNTRY, and everything that appears in its columns is of the highest character. Every department of the farmers business is discussed in an earnest, practical way, looking to the greatest profit and benefit to the farmer and his family. It appears on the 1st and 15th of each month, and is furnished at the low price of agricultural paper in the country. FARMER LEGISLATION.

50 CENTS A YEAR in sdvance. This makes it the cheapest

During the coming year there will be an immense number of matters of the most vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmers be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should all, therefore, take This American Farmers, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other papers for getting this information, and devotes liself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper.
