An advertiser should not be misled about the service he pays for in a newspaper. And it is nothing less than swindling to claim a larger circulation than is actually possessed for the sake of flimflaming the merchant who wishes to insert an advertisement. THE CHRON-ICLE has a sworn weekly circulation of 1,100 copies. Anyone inserting an advertisement in THE CHRONICLE may know just how many readers he can figure on and whether it will pay him to introduce an announcement into about 1,000 homes in Wasco county.

Other features given are physical characteristics, soil, agricultural products and manufactures, and population of counties and county seats. The latter statistics, as far as we are able to judge, are in all cases much less than is actually the case, and we believe Ayers would have done much better to follow the figures of the last census, and even these gives The Dalles 1,100, Portland 46,386, Pendleton 2,506. The readers of this paper will be much pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical nity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the Francisco newspaper reporter, who evidently was hard pressed for interesting by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. #### Ed. Dolsen Acquitted.

The jury in the Dolsen murder case at Pendleton brought in a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats. Ed. Dolsen was charged with killing Tillie B. Wallace, a woman of the town, known as Jessie Wallace, August 12, 1893. Dolsen was arraigned at the last term of court, charged with manslaughter. The judge instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, which they immediately proceeded to do. The judge then remanded the case to the grand jury. The grand jury at the present term of court indicted the defendant for the crime of murder in the second degree.
