Printers throughout the world will mourn the death of Geo. W. Childs, who died at 3 o'clock this morning. He was a man who devoted his wealth to the suppression of destitution and suffering wherever he met with it, and was a particular benefactor of printers. The Childs-Drexel home for printers at Colorado Springs is one of the monuments to his philanthropy which will ever perpetuate his memory.

A move is on foot to hold an interstate fair at Tacoma, Wash., within the next few months. An invitation has been sent by the governor of Washington to states-Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Alaska the weaker-sighted. and British Columbia, inviting them to unite with the state of Washington, in collecting and presenting to the public, an exhibition of the natural resources of these states. Each state will maintain a separate exhibit, representing her own annually. Without question, the toresources.

There is said to be an insurance scheme on foot in South Dakota intended to give a lesson to the fire insurance companies that insist on raising rates. It is, in brief, to appoint a committee in each city or town or a board of directors, who shall insure every one applying and take his indorsed note or secured note for the amount now charged as premiums by insurance companies. The results are thus stated: "Thousands of dollars in good notes could be secured, and should a fire occur where the property was thus insured it would be paid on the same basis as adopted by the insurance companies. Should there be no fire within the limits of those thus insured in the period of one year all notes could be returned to the makers, and as a city they would be ahead thousands of dollars in the course of a year. At the expiration of a year they could proceed in the same manner for another year or two, three or as long as they so desired. It is believed that some such plan, while keeping the premium money at home, would cause every citizen thus insured to be more watchful in guarding against fire."

IMPROVING THE EYES.

Country Life Is the Best Antidote for Nearsightedness

It is satisfactory to be told by Mr. Ellis that blindness in England is "slowly decreasing," says the Spectator, though Great Britain still stands in this respect behind two other European countries, and three more come before Ireland. Shortsightedness, however, appears to be increasing everywhere, Germany having a signal and sinister preeminence in this re-

A French doctor has noted the remarkable fact that wild beasts caught quite young or born in captivity become shortsighted, the conclusion being that the eye adapts itself to its habitual sphere of vision, and unless "educated," to use Mr. Ellis' term, to see objects at a distance, loses the capacity of so doing. Even in after life the eye may be, to some extent, so educated, though probably only when the myopia is not considerable.

It is thus within the experience of the present writer that his sight greatly improved in days gone by, when he became a volunteer, by practice at the butts, so that while at first he could not see the target to shoot at without spectacles at the three-hundred-vard range, after a twelvemonth or so he only needed to put on spectacles at four hundred yards. But beyond that range he was never able to dispense with them.

Country excursions are therefore extremely valuable as means of strengthening the sight of town-bred children; and the conductors of such excursions should take pains to direct the eyes of the children to distant objects-to the furthest hill, church tower or other landmark, noting, if possible, any in-capacity to discern the selected object, the governors of the five Northwest and then selecting some nearer one for

The result is the kings and noblemen of England, A fund of actual cash, $70,000, has Russia, Germany, France and other European countries gobble them up. Every single cigar made of Vuelta Abajo tobacco is sold to them at prices ranging from twenty to one hundred and fifty dollars a hundred. These cigars are bought and paid for long before the crop is ever harvested. Manufacturers, however, with that remarkable coolness with which some men are endowed, proceed to call all qualities and kinds of Cuban cigars Havana and Vuelta Abajo, when half growth.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cas-cades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future. The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon. Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these
