institution. The country would have been better off it it could have dispensed with the present session of congress entirely. The democrats are afraid to tackle the tariff question in the senate and on the plea of saving time will try to pass it

The Nevada meteor is about the most brilliant affair that has occurred of late in these democratic times. It is estimated that it weighed about 100,000 tons and in its passage the light from it round about was illuminated as brightly as by sunlight. It embedded itself in the earth, making a deep hole 100 feet across. It is devoutly to be hoped that

The East Oregonian gives Mr. Wilson's closing speech on the tariff undue importance by deliberate falsification. The paragraph is as follows:

the Wilson bill will strike the earth about that hard.

Wilson followed Reed with one of the most eloquent speeches yet heard in the halls of congress. He literally tore Reed's arguments to tatters, and as he warmed up with his subject the house and galleries fairly shook with the thunders of applause.

Wilson's speech accomplished no such not say so. Either the East Oregonian is so intensely partisan that it will promulgate lies for party ends, or its grapevine editor is goaded to heroic endeavors by the success of its rival, The Tribune, which pays for its dispatches.

About the time of the 1892 election Eli Perkins, the famous lecturer, had genuine humor on the subject of just made a tour of the world. He said ! before a Pittsburg audience: "Since I was in Pittsburg a year ago I have been around the world, and I find Americans twenty times as prosperous as any people on earth. The poor are twenty times richer than in any part of the world. I found 1,200,000,000 people out of 1,300,000,000 toiling for something to eat. If 200,000,000 Indians and 400,000,-000 Chinamen can get three bushels of barley a year to keep them from starving they are satisfied." Asked if he heard of any strikes in the Orient he said: "Strikes! I should say not. They are too poor and too busy earning money to keep from starving to strike. There is not labor enough to be done in those countries. They are glad to do anything at any price."

Col. Robert Ingersoll may be unsound theologically, but his political expressions are worthy of careful attention. On one occasion, while making a speech a man in the crowd yelled out: "What's the matter with the democratic party?" Ingersoll dropped his line of argument, turned towards his interrogator and replied in part as follows: "What is the matter with the democratic party? I will tell you, my friend. The democratic party was born under the planets that were in opposition. It lives in the objective case. Like a mule, his intention of visiting every church "it has no pride of its ancestry; no hope in his diocese, and consequently we of posterity.' It never originates any-thing. It shines by borrowed light. It among us." has never been united in honest wedlock to a principle, but lived for years in open adultery with a harlot called slavery; lived with her until she died of corruption and was buried amid the sobs and groans of her paramour."

We have one invention in this country which the slower nations of Europe have not devised. That is the railway wrecking car. The reason it is not in use in Europe is that there is no need of it. They do not have railroad wrecks there often enough to warrant its construction. It would simply rust out. But in America it will wear out before it rusts. Railway companies do not like to have the passengers on the train next following a wreck see the ghastly remains of it, so they endeavor to hustle the old iron and splintered wood out of sight as quickly as possible. The wood is set fire to; the iron is caried off. The wrecking car is a powerful piece of machinery. By means of a crane and derrick it can pick up a load of 40,000 pounds 24 feet ahead and swing it off the track. The truck at the front end, on which the crane rests, will sustain a load of 90,000 pounds.

Course of the Colorado River. Lieut. Roberson, U. S. A., recently returned to Los Angeles after making a trip with three companions in a boat down the Colorado river, from Yuma to the Gulf of California. to ascertain if the channel could be made navigable for commerce. The river, he says, changes its course in many places every year at the time of the June rise, shifting its bed often as much as six or eight miles to left or right, and it would be impossible to impound the water so as to secure a regular navigable channel. The tides, too, about the mouth of the river are most erratic; one of its features is the great bore, which, near the full of the moon every month, sweeps in a solid wall of water several feet high, up the upper part of the gulf and twenty miles into the mouth of the Colorado. An attempt to float any boat in the river's mouth at that time would be fatal. At the mouth of the river the Except Sunday.

Mr. Lawson Tait, the well-known Finglish surgeon says that the sugar Hoodschat and all derangements. Cleveland's queenery is another busted

English surgeon, says that the sugar in certain fruits becomes changed into alcohol during the process of decay and that wasps sometimes get very drunk thereon. On grapes and certain plums, he says, "you will see them get very drunk, crawl away in a semisomnolent condition, and repose in the grass for some time till they get over the 'bout,' and then they will go at it without argument in its present shape. again." Moreover, Mr. Tait declares that they do their worst in stinging, both in the virulent nature of the stroke and the utterly unprovoked assaults of which they are guilty. I was was so intense that the whole country stung last year by a drunken waspand suffered severely from symptoms of nerve poison for several days. In such drunken peculiarities they resemble their human contemporaries.'

A Maine Husking Bee.

Tears have often been shed over the partiality of the red ear at the husking, although nobody up to date has questioned that kissing should go by favor; but we see by the report of a Vassalboro husking bee, in the Water-ville Mail, says the Lewiston Journal, that for once the old rule was set aside served in manners or how fastidious and how short the acquaintance every woman was smacked and it was hard to tell which acted the worse, the boys results, and the Associated Press did or that portion of the assembly made up of the older men, the married men, the bald-headed men or old bachelors.

ALL SORTS OF SERMONS.

Bishop of Wakefield's Classification of Pulpit Eloquence.

One does not look to a prelate for frank fun, but the bishop of Wakefield, unasked, has vouchsafed some preaching, says London Black and White. He has clearly made a study of the art, and he divides the modern sermon into seven species. Thus we

In connection with this severe episcopal utterance there is a story on the other side going the ecclesiastical round. A clergyman prepared to preach a few Sundays since, and gave out as his text: "The devil, like a roaring lion, goeth about seeking whom he may devour." In the same breath, before beginning his discourse, he continued: "My friends, you will probably have heard that the

Wasco County, - - - Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities inculculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these orner stones she stands.

Common Sense.

This invaluable quality is never more apparent in man or woman than when shown in his or her choice of periodical reading matter. First in order should come the Local Newspaper, so that pace may be kept with the doings of the busy world. It should be a paper like THE DALLE- WEEKLY CHRONICLE. Which gives all the latest Home News as well as the General News, Political News and Market News, with seasonable Editorials on current topics. No one can get along without his home paper. The newspaper should be supplemented by some periodical from which will be derived amuse ment and instruction during the evenings at home, where every article is read and digested. Such a paper, to fill every requirement, should possess these qualities.

First—It should be a clean, wholesome paper.

First-It should be a clean, wholesome paper that can safely be taken into the family. It should be illustrated with timely engravings. second—A paper that is entertaining and in-structive while of sound principles. Its moral tone should be beyond question.

Third—A helpful paper, one that tells the house-wife of home life, thoughts and experiences, and keeps her in touch with social usage and fashion.

Fifth—It should contain good stories and pleasing matter for young people, that the children may always regard the paper as a friend.

Sixth—Literary selections and stories suitable for older people should be given, for they, too, like to enjoy a leisure hour.
