After being dumb for 23 years, a Roseburg woman has recovered the faculty of speech. She will now have lots to tell her husband. The old man says he wishes he could spare the money to make a trip to the Holy Land.

The Detroit Free Press has been added to THE CHRONICLE clubbing list. It is perhaps the most popular family paper of all of them, but comes a trifle higher than the others. The Free Press and THE CHRONICLE $2 for one year.

John O'Conner, Frank Heater and Peter Eben, three boys who misbehaved in a China wash house, were discharged by Justice Schutz. The Chinamen paid the costs and have the option of bringing up the case at any time they choose.

In the United States circuit court yesterday Judge Bellinger made the order petitioned for by the receivers of the Union Pacific in regard to the new and reduced schedule of wages and restraining the employes from quitting work or striking.

The outlook for a general strike along the line of the Union Pacific is favorable. Representatives of the American Railway Union will probably be in Omaha Thursday to present to Judge Dundy a petition signed by 5,000 employes of the Union Pacific, protesting against the recent wage schedule.

No. 2 did not arrive until 12 o'clock today on account of being delayed by the mishap of No. 1, which occurred about 1:30 last night near Blalocks. The engine struck a huge rock lying on the track, which displaced a rail, and seven cars following left the track. No one was hurt, and neither the engine nor cars were greatly damaged. The wrecking car was sent from here, which righted the cars and track, after a delay of about nine hours.

The Whatcom populists think they need an opera house very badly, and being short of funds they are offered their own prescription by a local paper in this wise: "It is the easiest thing in the world. Issue scrip—pay it for material and labor and then make it receivable for entrance fees to concerts, operas, etc."

Dalles String Band Party.

The second week of February, if judged by the first days, promises to be full of social events. On Monday night was the very successful dance of the East End Hose Co. and last evening took place the second party in the series given by The Dalles String Band. Armory hall was a scene of beauty. The decorations of the previous night were still on the walls and the floor was in superb condition. The attendance was large and each was "full of the music of dancing."

At midnight the festivity was over and the dancers went home happy in having spent a most joyous evening. Those present were: Mr and Mrs. Crowe, Mr and Mrs Sherman, Mr and Mrs Jacobsen, Mr and Mrs Hilton, Messdames Nichol, Lovely, Long and Benton, Misses Williams, Anna Williams, Marden, Grace Marden, Nona Ruch, Sampson, Sharp, Patterson, Davenport, Lovely, FitzGerald, Davis, Buchler, Bird and Phirman, Messrs. M Vogt, M Donnell, R Kelling, H French, M Jameson, F Reid, C J Coatsworth, Johnston, F Weigle, C Clark, H Liebe, F Faulkner, Ed Mays, Robt Mays, J H Worsley, Dr Logan, Wm McCrum, Ed Patterson, J Hauppshire, H Fowler, D Siddall, L Porter, F Wilson and C L Phillips.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

Enthusiastic Gathering in the Chamber of Commerce. Oregonian.

Surprising activity was manifested in the convention of Oregon's young men's republican clubs, which met in the chamber of commerce yesterday. It was the signal gun of the campaign, and the deafening roar it made was significant of the long-pent-up feelings of the business men of the state whose interests have been endangered by the recent "change." The representation from all portions of the state exceeded the sanguine expectations of those who considered themselves informed. It was clearly evident that no cut-and-dried program had been arranged for the convention, for it was everywhere understood that nominations were to be made in open session. "This is not a matter of politics with me," said one man, "but purely a matter of business. The country is going to ruin, and my business with it, and I, for one, am going to try to stop it."

The convention was called to order at 10:40 o'clock by President Thomas H. Tongue. In the evening he was introduced to the convention by Vice President Beekman. President Tongue advanced to the front of the platform amid loud applause, and for half an hour roused the enthusiasms of the delegates and kept them in continuous expressions of approval with a speech full of happy ideas and delivered with grace and eloquence.

A Narrow Escape.

The Ashland Tidings relates that the little two-year-old daughter of J. K. Helman and wife, of the Ashland bakery, had a narrow escape from drowning last Saturday. With her sister, five years old, and several other children, the little one was playing along the bank of the Ashland mill race in the old orchard above the mill. She fell into the race and the swift current carried her toward the mill. The older sister ran at once to the bakery for help and Mr. Helman hurried up the hill to the race. When he reached there the child was not in sight, but he followed along toward the mill and finally found her standing up in the current under the covered flume just where the water takes a 30-foot fall down the funnel to the turbine wheel. She had been carried a hundred feet along the race and flume without being strangled and had managed to gain a footing and keep her head out of water until her father arrived. A screen prevented her from being carried down the shaft to the wheel, but if the water had been turned out the waste gate, as it frequently is, she would have been plunged to certain death, for there is no screen at that gate. It was a miraculous escape, and after the little one was carried home and put in warm, dry clothing, she was found to be none the worse for the experience.

Don't Chase Your Hat.

Do you see the bare-headed man? Yes; I see the bare-headed man. Is not that his hat that the wind is carrying down the street? Yes; it is his hat. Why does he not go after his hat? Because he is a wise man and knows that there are two good reasons why he should not. What is the first reason? It would make him appear ridiculous and people would stop and laugh at him. Do people always laugh when they see a man chasing his hat? Always. Is it not better to let them laugh than it is to lose the hat? But he will not lose the hat. Why not? Because some one else will chase it. Does that always happen? Always. Does not that make the other man appear ridiculous? It does. Why does he do it? It is human nature. A wise man, then, can retain his dignity and get his hat? He can.

The following is told of a pair not a thousand miles from this town, says an eastern exchange: A young lady who was troubled with the too persistent attention of a borsome young man, played a very shabby trick on him the other night. "Here's an original game. Take this pencil and mark as I say," says the young lady. "Make a row of 11 ciphers, make a perpendicular mark downward at the right of the first, fifth and tenth ciphers, and upwards on the left of the fourth, seventh and eighth." Then she asked him to read what he had written. Try it and you will see why the youth beat a hasty retreat.

HARRIS THE Oldest Agricultural Paper in America. (ESTABLISHED 1819.) To all cash subscribers of THE CHRONICLE paying one year in advance.

The American Farmer, 1729 New York Avenue, WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE AMERICAN FARMER, which is now entering upon its 75th year, is the pioneer farmer's paper in the country. It is a large eight-page paper, and contains 56 columns of the choicest agricultural and literary matter, plentifully embellished with fine illustrations. It is NATIONAL IN CHARACTER, and deals with farming and farmer's interests on broad, practical lines.

EMPLOYS THE BEST WRITERS IN THE COUNTRY.

and everything that appears in its columns is of the highest character. Every article is written by the best writers of the most vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmer be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should, also, therefore, take THE AMERICAN FARMER, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other papers for getting this information, and devotes itself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper.

50 CENTS A YEAR in advance. This makes it the cheapest agricultural paper in the country.

FARMER LEGISLATION.

During the coming year there will be an immense number of matters of the most vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmer be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should, also, therefore, take THE AMERICAN FARMER, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other papers for getting this information, and devotes itself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper.
