SILVER AND TARIFF

Figuring on the Attitude of Silver Republicans.

THEY WILL NOT FIGHT FOR DELAY

A New Question as to the Power of Congress—Brought Up By the Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In the house, Bland moved to go into committee of the whole to consider his silver seigniorage bill; lost for lack of quorum, 166 to 6.

Filibustering continued. The indications are this afternoon that Bland will be unable to get up the silver seigniorage bill in its present form on account of filibustering. A quorum was finally secured in the house, 177 to 4, and the house went into committee of the whole on the seigniorage bill.

In the Senate. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In the senate, Wolcott of Colorado presented a resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment prohibiting the states from denying suffrage to any person on account of sex.

Sherman presented a memorial from the woolgrowers against the Wilson bill, saying the finance committee had refused the wool growers a hearing, and requesting the memorial be printed; so ordered.

Wolcott presented several amendments to the tariff bill.

Silver Men and the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The possible attitude of the silver republicans in reference to the tariff bill has been the theme of considerable talk about the senate since the Wilson bill has reached that body. Inquiry develops the fact that they will without exception oppose the bill for two reasons. They are protectionists in principle, and some of them think that if the tariff could be allowed to remain as at present it would be in the interest of silver. They argue that if the tariff is changed and the hard times continue many will be disposed to find in this change the cause of the depression, whereas if the tariff is allowed to remain as it is and times do not improve it will at once become apparent that the tariff had not caused the dullness of trade, and the people may be led to believe it was due to the scarcity of money. While, however, the silver republican senators will oppose the bill, will vote against it and will make special efforts to defeat the clauses bearing upon the special interests of their respective states, it is probable that some of them will not aid their republican colleagues in securing delay upon the passage of the bill.

New Phase of the Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The federal constitution provides the compensation of the justices of the supreme court shall not be diminished during the terms of office; that the president's compensation shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office. In view of this a question has arisen as to the power of congress to make the income tax applicable to these officers. When the war income tax was levied in 1863, Chief Justice Taney wrote a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Chase, declaring that in his opinion the law was unconstitutional, as it impaired the independence of co-ordinate branches of the government; that at the same time could not be judicially determined because every member of the supreme court would be an interested party, and barred from considering it. After the war, Secretary of the Treasury Richardson refunded to the justices the money withheld under the tax.

SHOT IN THE STREET.

Cold-Blooded Murder in a New York Village.

CLYDE, N. Y., Feb. 8.—One of the most cold-blooded murders ever recorded in this section took place today in the main street of this village, before the eyes of a hundred persons. Fred H. Childs, young society man, and the son of a wealthy jeweler of the town, shot and killed James C. Nichols, prominent man about town. Childs, who is about 25 years old, asserted that Nichols, who was about 45 and married, had circulated stories detrimental to his character. When they met in the street today, Childs, without a word of warning, drew a revolver and fired. Nichols threw up his hands and exclaimed: "My God, you're killing me," and fell to the ground, whereupon Childs shot two more bullets in his body. Then he calmly walked to the police station, handed the smoking pistol to the officer in charge, and remarked: "I've shot Nichols, and I hope I've killed him. I give myself up." Childs was placed in a cell. Nichols was carried into a neighboring saloon, but he breathed his last before a physician could arrive. Childs has always been known as a fast young man, but his good connections admitted him to the most select gatherings. Nichols was a retired minister.

Novel Bill for State Revenue.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8.—A novel revenue bill was introduced in the senate today by Avery of Cleveland. It provides that unclaimed freight charges in the hands of railway companies shall be turned into the state treasury. The author states that in the cases of large firms many freight bills are paid in a lump, which frequently is slightly in excess of the actual legal charge. The firms do not claim the small balances due. One railway in Ohio is said to derive a profit of nearly $75,000 a year from this source, and the aggregate for all the railways in the state is several times that sum.

The Northern Pacific Employees.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 8.—The conference between the employes and receivers of the Northern Pacific is now in progress behind closed doors, considering the recent cut in wages. The workmen are represented by delegates from every railway organization, including Chief Arthur, of the engineers' brotherhood; Chief Sargent, of the firemen, and Chief Ramsey, of the telegraphers. The men were making their argument today. It promises to last till tomorrow.

THE BROTHER JONATHAN.

A Diver Claims to Have Located the Lost Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—If the story told by John F. Ryan, submarine diver, is true, the ill-starred steamer Brother Jonathan has at last been found, after being almost 30 years at the bottom of the sea. The Brother Jonathan was lost July 3, 1865, somewhere about ten miles northwest of Crescent City, with a loss of 147 passengers and crew. There was $1,000,000 in treasures on board, and a dozen parties have sought systematically for the sunken hull. Ryan is in this city and tells the following story of his discovery of the wreck, which is substantiated by a ship's bucket bearing the name "Brother Jonathan" in brass letters, which he picked up on the deck of the wreck:

"Several years ago while captain of a steamer running on Puget sound an old man named G. W. Hill, hearing that I was a submarine diver, told me that he was assistant engineer of the Brother Jonathan when she foundered, and was one of the nineteen survivors of the awful disaster. He said that he would take me to the scene of the wreck, and was sure he could locate the exact spot where she went down. A few months ago he came to me again, and I accepted his offer. After arriving in the vicinity of where the ship went down, we located her in a remarkably short time in several feet of water. I went down to the vessel, walked across her deck and all around her. There was not light enough for me to see at all, and I had to feel my way everywhere. Apparently the Brother Jonathan is in excellent condition and I have hopes of raising her. From what I learn the gold in the ship is locked up in different parts of the vessel, and with the aid of light I anticipate no difficulty in locating it. In the spring I shall make preparations to recover the lost treasure."
