GIANTS IN SWAMPS.

Mastodons That Have Been Unearthed in Marshy Regions.

How Scientific Research Has Been Aided by the Discovery of Extinct Birds and Animals in Wet Lands.

It would perhaps be difficult to find anybody who would speak a good word for swamps. The man who drains one and turns its marshy surface into productive soil is universally regarded as a public benefactor.

Yet, setting aside the strange picturesqueness of such marshy regions and the curiosities of plant life which they exhibit, it is easy to show that swamps have been useful in a manner that could hardly have been anticipated.

Here in America the skeletons of several mastodons have been found imbedded in ancient swamps, and so perfectly preserved that no difficulty whatever has been encountered in restoring the bones to their normal position, setting the skeletons on their feet and thus exhibiting to the eyes of modern man the monster animals which were probably familiar sights to our ancestors nobody knows how many thousands of years ago.

In Ireland the ancient swamps were equally efficacious in preserving for us the gigantic elks which became mired in them.

Swamps have proved no less useful agents of science in other parts of the world, and particularly in Australia, New Zealand and Madagascar. What could be more interesting than the bones of a giant bird which was in all probability the roc described by Sindbad? Just such bones have been discovered in the marshes of Madagascar and New Zealand and there is plenty of evidence that the great birds which owned them were the contemporaries of men in the past history of those islands.

Lately these Madagascar swamps have yielded other remains of extinct animals, hardly less interesting than the huge bird, the epiornis, itself. These are the skeletons of a creature resembling a lemur of gigantic size, but remarkable for the small quantity of brains which it possessed. It is said that man was responsible for the destruction and disappearance of this creature. If so it was probably a simple case of brains against brute force.

There is reason for thinking that still other discoveries remain to be made in Madagascar—discoveries that will possibly bring to light even more interesting facts concerning the former inhabitants of that part of the world.

Suppose one of our swamps, which we regard as utterly useless, should preserve to a remote future age the only remains of some animal like the bison or the tiger, now rapidly becoming extinct. The men of science then living would have the same reason for rejoicing that that swamp had existed that we have for being thankful for the revelations contained in the swamps of ancient days.

A Hungarian Court. The Hungarian prime minister has succeeded in reestablishing a royal court in Buda Pesth. Hitherto, when the emperor of Austria, as king of Hungary, came to visit the capital of Hungary, he took his Austrian household with him. Henceforth the Hungarian lords are to surround him upon all ceremonies in Buda Pesth, and they will also attend him at ceremonies in Vienna, side by side with their Austrian counterparts.

S. Garrison as formerly traveled, and being the same property conveyed by Griffith E. Williams and wife to said Augustus Bunnell by deed duly recorded at page 583 Book "E" of Deed Records for Wasco county, Oregon, and particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing on the east line of Liberty street at a point on said line 170 feet southerly from the south line of Fourth street at a point on said south line where the same is intersected by said east line of Liberty street; thence southerly and along said east line of Liberty street 60 feet; thence easterly and at right angles with said first line 104 feet; thence northerly and parallel with said east line of Liberty street 60 feet; thence westerly to the place of beginning, said premises being in block "D" of Trevitt's Addition to Dalles City; and that said premises be sold under such foreclosure decree in the manner provided by law and according to the practice of this Court; that from the proceeds of such sale the plaintiffs have and receive the sum of $1,000.00 and interest thereon since October 12th, 1888, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, less payments made upon said notes as follows: $80.00 paid March 16th, 1889; $120.00 paid February 25th, 1891; $20.00 paid December 21st, 1891; $83.36 paid January 20, 1892, and $15.64 paid October 7th, 1892; and the further sum of $100.00 as a reasonable sum for attorneys fees in this suit to foreclose said mortgage and collect said note, and the further sum of $175 insurance premium upon the buildings upon said premises paid by these plaintiffs, and $4.00 taxes upon said premises which have been paid by plaintiffs, together with all costs and disbursements made and expended in this suit, and that if any deficiency shall remain after all of the proceeds of said sale shall have been applied in payment of plaintiffs' demands as aforesaid, that plaintiffs have a judgment against the defendant, Augustus Bunnell, for any such deficiency; and that upon such foreclosure sale all of the right, title, interest and claim of said defendant, Augustus Bunnell, and all other persons claiming or to claim by, through or under them or either of them, in and to said mortgaged premises and every part thereof, be forever barred and foreclosed from the equity of redemption; that plaintiffs be allowed to bid at said foreclosure sale and to purchase the same at their option, and that upon such sale the purchaser be let into the immediate possession thereof, and for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you, the said Augustus Bunnell and Mrs. D. E. Price, by publication thereof, by order of Honorable W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County, which order was duly made and entered at Chambers on the 27th day of December, 1893.
