S. B. MRS. DUFUR, Co., Dufur, Oregon.
Gentlemen:
On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously awaiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 33 pounds, in now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are Yours, Mr. & Mrs. J. F. Ford.

If you wish to feel fresh and cheerful, and ready for the Spring's work, cleanse your system with the Headache and Liver Cure, by taking two or three doses each week.
Sold under a positive guarantee.

Good Cooking is essential to Good Digestion—

in pastry you cannot have either without a good shortening. Lard has always had very objectionable features, causing indigestion and many other dietetic troubles. Science has come to the assistance of the cook, and of weak stomachs, with the new shortening,

Cottolene

It is composed of the choicest beef suet and highly refined vegetable oil, in many respects as good as the finest imported olive oil. Physicians endorse it, cooking experts recommend it, and thousands are now using it in preference to any other shortening. Refuse all substitutes.

Made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., ST. LOUIS and CHICAGO, NEW YORK, BOSTON.

SHE KILLED HERSELF

Suicide of a Young Woman to Keep Her Word.

A PROMISE TO HER DEAR FRIEND

Another Incendiary Fire at the World's Fair Grounds—The Plymouth Mine Horror.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Mary Mackay, the 15-year-old daughter of James Mackay of Providence, in this county, committed suicide by taking poison. She was the boon companion of Annie Knipper, about 15 years old, and who also committed suicide by taking poison a few days ago because her mother had scolded her for playing truant from school. The suicide of the Mackay girl is said to be the keeping of a promise made to her friend Annie on her deathbed.

Another World's Fair Fire.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Fire again broke out at the world's fair. When first discovered the flames were at work on the columns of the colonnade which connects machinery hall and the agricultural building, and very near the point in the agricultural building where the last fire occurred. It had made considerable headway before the first engine arrived, and was threatening the buildings at either end which connect it with the larger structures. A second alarm calling more engines was sent out, but the snowdrifts on the route to the spot prevented the fire department from making speed, and the flames meantime were making headway against the inadequate force at work. The colonnade is practically in ruins. The columns are destroyed, and the ornamental work of the cornice and statuary above has tumbled down. The fire, as others, was incendiary.

The Plymouth Mine Horror.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 14.—There are no new developments today in the Plymouth. Rescuers are working hard through solid coal to reach the entombed miners. So far they have been unable to communicate with them in any way. Should they all be alive now, it is safe to say they will be starved before they can be reached. In this event eleven widows and forty-five orphans will be left to care for.

Wants a Renewal.

Captain Moffet's contract with the Oregonian expired on February 1, since which time his name has not appeared at the masthead of the Evening Telegram. The Captain, says the Mercury, is anxious for a renewal of the arrangement under which he has managed the paper, but others are pulling for the place. City Editor Sorenson, of the Oregonian, an elegant gentleman and an excellent newspaper man, wants the Telegram, but rumor has it that Eastern parties are negotiating for an outright purchase of the journal. Up to this time, however, the Oregonian has kept Captain Moffet in the editorial chair, working under instructions. The Captain is a clever writer, but his stand on the silver and tariff questions have not been, it is said, agreeable to the owners of the Telegram. It may be, therefore, that the genial gentleman and versatile editor will retire from the Telegram management, and the paper pass into other hands. There is a "rumor" that it will return to the republican fold—but rumors are retailed mighty cheap these times.

Just full of improvements—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

To begin with, they're the smallest and the easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Every child is ready for them. Then, after they're taken, instead of disturbing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, easy and natural way. There's no chance for any reaction afterward. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're put up in glass vials, which keep them always fresh and reliable, unlike the ordinary pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes. And they're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Shiloh's Cure, the Great Cough and Croup Cure, is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.

Want the House of Lords Destroyed.

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 14.—The National Liberal Federation continued its meeting today. It indorsed the Newcastle program, and unanimously adopted a resolution to the effect that the habitual disregard of the national will by the house of lords was an intolerable abuse and assuring the ministry an enthusiastic support for whatever measures were adopted to secure the commonsensical authority. In the speeches and resolutions the lords were denounced as a fraudulent company, using their political position for their own pecuniary interest, and that what the people wanted was first a quarrel with and then the destruction of their great enemy.

De Young and the Press Club.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—The board of managers of the San Francisco Press Club have cited M. H. De Young, proprietor of the Chronicle and director-general of the mid-winter exposition, to appear before them Tuesday next to show cause why he should not be expelled for unprofessional conduct.

Water Through a Sieve.

Oregonian.
It has long been held that it was the height of folly to attempt to carry water in a sieve. Just who first promulgated this idea is hard to say, but he was one of the ancients, and probably the same person who discovered the futility of trying to twist ropes out of sand. Times have changed since this person dispensed wisdom, and it is now possible to carry water in a sieve, and as can be proven at the office of the water committee. A set of fine sieves, made of brass wire, have been purchased by the committee for the purpose of testing the cement to be brought for the construction of reservoirs. The one used for testing cement has 7,600 meshes to the square inch, but there is another in the set which has 178 wires to the square inch, crossed by 178 others making 31,804 meshes in the square inch. This sieve holds water, and even when a finger is placed in the water and rubbed around on the wires no moisture can be seen on the under side. The meshes are not large enough to allow the molecules of water to pass through. Just what can be strained through the sieve is known only to experts. Now that it is found that water can be carried in a sieve, it may be that ropes can be twisted of sand, but the sand will probably have to be long grained.

NEWS NOTES.

By the provisions of Annie Pixley's will her husband receives the bulk of the estate.

The fight over the Portland and Salem postoffices grows more bitter every day. It is said that Cleveland has sent all papers back to the department to see if some one cannot be found who is not charged with every thing imaginable in crime.

Hermann has been assured by the house committee on war claims that his bill for $500,000 for Oregon and Washington Indian war claims will be made a part of the omnibus bill carrying $2,000,000. The chairman of the committee says this bill, like the river and harbor appropriation, will go through, for every member has something in it.

Sober second judgement by both parties to the Behring sea arbitration discloses the fact that the agreement reached by the arbitrators is not entirely satisfactory either to the United States or Great Britain. It appears, however, the dissatisfaction is based rather upon matters of detail than upon any objection to the broad principles upon which the arbitration was based.
