

A Natural Sequence.

The outgrowth of intelligent and persistent effort ought to be success. We are not the creatures of chance, the sport and prey of every stormy wind that blows. Good buying, close selling, energetic advertising, and polite and honest treatment, will make and hold trade. That's why we have earned, and by careful heeding we hope to maintain, our present position. We want to give you the best goods, the lowest prices, the most correct service and the most complete and carefully selected stock from which to make your purchases. Our aim is to have an up-to-date store, and where we lack let us know, that we may improve. Our aim is high—we hope to attain it.

FEBRUARY FARRAGO.

Minor Events of Town and Country Briefly Stated.

I have a little daughter With laughing, azure eyes; The dearest little bother That ever left the skies; In naughty tricks she's clever; She'll not do as she's told; Yet coax us to tell her She's "dest or dood ez doid!"

Tomorrow will be Washington's Birthday.

The mercury was four degrees below zero at Dufur this morning.

The local forecast is: Today, fair and colder; tomorrow, fair and warmer.

The postoffice, banks and Western Union telegraph office will observe Sunday hours tomorrow.

Miss Bowman is the stenographer at circuit court. Miss Sterling and Miss Krist at times sit with her, perfecting themselves in the art of shorthand reporting.

A wife in Fargo, N. D., severely asked her husband why he was coming home at that hour in the morning, and the wretch answered, "Brek'fush." Then the flatirons flew.

Mr. R. J. Marsh, formerly of this city, and now of Portland, is being favorably spoken of as candidate for state printer. He is thoroughly competent and trustworthy and would invest the office with honor.

Arrangements are being made for a skating bee on Snipes' lake tomorrow and evening. Tomorrow night will be a full moon and the lake is a beautiful skating pond, with a surface as smooth as glass and half a mile in length.

The Pendleton Tribune says the branch insane asylum injunction has been brought and the probability is that there will be no branch asylum at Union after all. These proceedings are due in all probability to the generally conceded unwise selection made by the commission in their choice of a site.

Ice has frozen on the slough east of town about three-fourths of an inch thick and will barely sustain the weight of a person. The surface is smooth, and if it freezes as much more tonight, which is expected, it will furnish a skating ground, though care should be taken by all who indulge in the sport that it is perfectly safe. Sometimes a deluge in ice cold water is as fatal as to sink beneath the surface.

ANOTHER BAD MAN.

Hamlet Told the Deputy Sheriff to Be Careful, as He Was a Killer From Way-Back.

The murder of Benjamin Gammie by Jack Hamlet occurred, as was stated, on Feb. 14th at a dance on Rock Creek, Grant county, about twenty miles from Mitchell. The Fossil Journal gives additional particulars of the affray:

The men had a fist fight in the evening, Hamlet getting the worst of it. After the fight Gammie went from the dance hall into another room, and was followed by Hamlet, who dealt him a blow on the back of the head with his revolver, which he followed up by shooting Gammie in the back of the head and in the back, killing him instantly. A deputy sheriff was present and attempted to arrest the murderer, but he had the drop and compelled the deputy to go back into the house. Hamlet said he had just killed his fourth, and told the deputy to be careful or he would be his fifth. Hamlet is a very bad man and is known as "Jack the Ripper." He got away that night, but a posse started after him Thursday morning, determined to lynch him.

Physicians Recommended The Dalles.

Mrs. S. L. Brooks returned last night from a visit of several days to friends in the valley and Salem. Though speaking in the highest terms of her entertainment at the homes of friends, she could not help but observe the difference in weather, saying that it rained every day while she was absent, and that she was glad to get back to the sunshine of Wasco county. While at the home of Dr. Richardson, one of the board of physicians to report upon the advantages or disadvantages of competing towns for the location of the insane asylum, she was told by the doctor that the physicians recommended The Dalles as superior to all competitors in the beauty of its scenery and location and excellence of climate. He believed that the commissioners decided for Union because it had an unlimited water power and more arable and grazing land in connection with the site. These reasons, of course, appear inadequate to us, for those faults cannot be entertained by those who know the facts as they exist here. But a further inquiry into the matter is profitless, now that the site has been selected, and there may be much to urge which Dr. Richardson does not know or did not say.

Don't Appreciate It.

A newspaper man will sit up nights to write something kind of a fellow citizen, to help him along or to extol a local enterprise to help it along, even when he may have no personal friendship for or interest in either, and will pay out good money to put his words in type, but the persons who are benefitted seldom think of making a return, attributing the item to their personal greatness. Ten chances to one they will send out of town for their next job work under the false impression of making a saving, or they will take it somewhere to offset a bad account, or buy tableted blanks at ten cents a tab, while the wind whistles through the printer's clothes.

The Cold Wave.

A cold wave from the northeast struck this section last night and the mercury dropped rapidly until this morning, when it registered three above zero at sunrise. Today the temperature has not reached a higher point than seventeen above in the shade although the sun shone out in all its splendor through a cloudless sky. What little wind there is stirring comes from the northeast. The next coldest morning of the winter was over a month ago, when the thermometer registered 18 degrees above zero. Our young people are brushing up their skates for skating tomorrow, when the ice will be sufficiently strong to bear them without breaking.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. John Adams of Nansene is in the city today.

Hon. O. N. Denny of McMinnville called on THE CHRONICLE office today.

Mr. R. Power of Mosier returned to Mosier today from a short trip up the river.

Mr. Henry Hudson and Mr. M. J. Anderson of Dufur are in the city from Dufur today.

Mr. P. E. Michell of Columbus is in the city. We acknowledge a pleasant call from that gentleman.

Mr. T. G. Malone, one of Portland's city councilmen, is in the city, and is a guest at the Umatilla house.

Hon. W. H. Biggs of Wasco, recently appointed receiver of the U. S. land office at The Dalles, is in the city.

Messrs. I. C. Richards and T. L. Masters of Goldendale are in the city today. They brought over a fine lot of fat hogs, which will be shipped to Portland markets.

WOMANLY BEAUTY.

What It Consists of According to a French Writer.

Grenaille, a French author of the sixteenth century, has written a large and very scientific book on female beauty and endows his ideal of female loveliness with the following attributes:

"Youth, medium stature, chestnut-brown hair, symmetry of limb, a delicate skin, revealing the blue veins, rosy complexion, smooth, serene brow, uniformly-arched temples, narrow eyebrows, which do not meet; eloquent, dark-brown eyes; a winsome smile, cherry-red lips, a small mouth, small milk-white teeth, a sweet breath, a soft agreeable voice; a chin which does not protrude and is graced by a dimple; small, rosy ears; a slender throat of ivory whiteness; small, soft white hands, nicely tapering fingers, graceful gestures; an even, dignified walk; shining finger nails, smooth and well curved; an even, pleasant temperament, good taste in dress, superficial education, small, pretty feet, and attentive demeanor toward others."

In the Rat Pit.

The ordinary house rat will not fight if he can find his way into a hole. Inclosed in the pit, with no chance of escape, the case is different. The rat will not only fight his enemy, but will turn on those of its kind with which it is bunched. The trained rat, dog will jump backward and forward, oftentimes entirely over the rat in avoiding its bite, and watching its opportunity will catch the rat by the back, give one crunch and break its spinal column. Then it throws the rat, dead or dying, aside and like a flash leaps into place for seizing and killing the next rat.

GUILTY AS CHARGED.

Jack Hall, the Murderer, Must Pay the Penalty for His Crime.

The jury which retired at 2:55 p. m. yesterday reported that they had arrived at a verdict about 5 o'clock. The verdict was handed to Judge Bradshaw, who, after reading it, passed it to Clerk J. A. Crossen to read aloud. The defendant was ordered to stand while the verdict was read. By mistake Mr. Crossen read: "We the jury," etc., and defendant not guilty. "What's that?" inquired the judge sharply. "Guilty, as charged," were the next words spoken by the clerk, and the transient look of joy that arose to the prisoner's face gave way to the habitual look of indifference that he has worn all through the trial. Judge Bradshaw deferred sentencing him until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The next case taken up was that of the State of Oregon vs. John Krier, charged with the crime of larceny in a dwelling. The larceny occurred in Peter Fournelle's residence, about three miles from the city, and comprised a great variety of articles, it apparently being the thief's intention to gather up everything loose lying about the place, without regard to what it was or its value. The tables and floor space in front of the jury and even the judge's platform is littered with tools and implements and articles of wearing apparel, both male and female, from the innermost to the outermost garments of clothing worn. Fourteen jurors were called and examined before the panel was completed. The state was represented by its attorney, W. H. Wilson, and the defense by E. B. Dufur. The witnesses were examined by the state and underwent a most searching cross examination by the defense. The articles were gone over piece by piece, of which there were a great number, and plaintiff was made to state where he got it, how much he valued it at, and what he thought a swish would give for it. The line of defense consisted principally in proving the good character of witness. The case continues this afternoon.

The grand jury have almost completed their labors, and are now arranging their final report. They returned not a true bill yesterday against F. W. L. Skibbe for assault on W. H. W. Watson. They previously reported a true bill against Charles Chester for larceny in a dwelling.

You will say with suppressed breath, splendid. Photos at 99 cents per dozen and 75 cents per dozen. Watch my pictures at Pease & Mays' show window. They are changed every few days. Truly, C. W. GILHOUSEN. 427w1

Oldest Agricultural Paper in America.

(ESTABLISHED 1819.)

To all cash subscribers of THE CHRONICLE paying one year in advance.

The American Farmer,

1729 New York Avenue,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE AMERICAN FARMER, which is now entering upon its 75th year, is the pioneer farmer's paper in the country. It is a large eight-page paper, and contains 56 columns of the choicest agricultural and literary matter, plentifully embellished with fine illustrations. It is

NATIONAL IN CHARACTER,

and deals with farming and farmer's interests on broad, practical lines. It

EMPLOYS THE BEST WRITERS IN THE COUNTRY, and everything that appears in its columns is of the highest character. Every department of the farmer's business is discussed in an earnest, practical way, looking to the greatest profit and benefit to the farmer and his family. It appears on the 1st and 15th of each month, and is furnished at the low price of in advance. This makes it the cheapest agricultural paper in the country.

FARMER LEGISLATION.

During the coming year there will be an immense number of matters of the most vital interest to farmers dealt with by Congress and the Executive Departments at Washington. It is highly important that the farmers be kept promptly and fully informed as to what is being planned and done affecting them at the National Capital. They should all, therefore, take THE AMERICAN FARMER, which, being on the ground, has better facilities than any other paper for getting this information, and devote itself to this duty. They will find in it constantly a great amount of valuable information that they can get in no other paper.

THE AMERICAN FARMER and THE CHRONICLE will be sent one year for $1.75.
