BUTTONS THAT SIGNIFY MUCH. How Military Officials Are Distinguished by Them

The inter-relation of the buttons on a uniform is just as much a matter of regulation as the cut of a coat, says the Washington Star. The general wears two rows of buttons on the breast of his frock coat, twelve in each row, placed by fours. The distance be-tween the rows is five and one-half inches at the top and three and onehalf at the bottom. The lieutenant general is entitled to only ten buttons in each row, arranged in upper and lower groups of three and a middle group of four. The major general has nine buttons in each row, placed by threes. The brigadier general eight in groups of twos.

who are puny, pale, weak, or scrof-ulous, ought to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That builds up both flesh and strength.

each row at equal distances. There are different designs, of course, not only for the buttons of the army, ne that can equal the "Discovery." the navy and the marine corps, but In recovering from "Grippe," or for the different branches of the servin convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other wasting diseases, it and cavalry buttons, the engineer's and cavalry buttons, the engineer's button, the ordnance corps button, the button of the marine corps and the navy button. The navy button, by the way, is made in England, because no American manufacturer has been able to make a bronze which the sea air will not tarnish. All of these buttons the army and navy tailor must keep on hand and sew on according to regulation.

AN ELECTRIC CAR YARN.

How a Complacent Citizen Had His Quiet Joke on the Fresh Conductor.

The platform of the electric car was pretty well taken up by the driver, a man of the "slugger" variety and a big bag, over which the man of the "slugtype appeared to be standing ger' guard. When the conductor came to collect the fares he looked sharply at the bag, and then said to the tough: "I'll have ter charge yer fer that

bag. "I'll bet yer won't," answered the man, looking angrily at him, as if any attempt at collection would produce a prize fight.

"Yes, I will; an' if yer don't pay. I'll put ther bag off. See?" said the con-ductor, shortly. He gave the man five minutes more, asked him a second and a third time, then stopped the car and put the bag off on the sidewalk. The 'slugger" didn't even move, and when the car had gone about a mile further the conductor said to him:

"Yer don't care much fer that bag if you wouldn't pay five cents fer it." "Ah, come off!" was the reply. "What's der bag got ter do wid me? "Tain't mine. I'd 'a' told yer so if yer'd asked me."

Hotel Guests Who Will Not Register. The average guest at a first-class hotel puts his fist on the register and takes what the lord of the rooms gives him meekly and uncomplainingly. There are rooms and rooms, says the Washington Post, just as there are hotels and hotels; and when the hotels are crowded it takes an experienced and determined man to get the bestor a woman. No hotel clerk has ever yet stood up before the onslaught of a lovely female bent on having a front room lighted on two sides and not higher than the third story. But there is another classof the dwellers in tents -the men who never register. Every otel has them, and Washington hotel more than any other city. Here it means the game of polities. The man who wants an office, and is afraid his rivals are going to put up combinations against him, will slip into his hotel and tell the clerk that he does not want to be seen or put on the book, and the clerk tells him that it is all right. In some cities such actions would be rightly regarded as suspi-cious, but not in Washington. The

A Busy Household.

Busy-handed must have been the women-folk of a century and a half ago. It is recorded that one family in Newport, R. I., made in the space of eighteen months four hundred and eighty-seven yards of cloth-carding. spinning, dycing and weaving every inch of material used, and also accomplished the knitting of thirty-six pairs of stockings-not the thin, delicate and often flimsy hosiery seen nowa-days, but such as would bear much heavy use and even be "handed down to posterity." It is added that another Newport family distinguished themselves by making, in the space of four years, nine hundred and eighty yards of woolen cloth, two coverlets, two bedticks, and all the stockings needed for the family.

Ten days loss of time on account of sickness and a doctor bill to pay, is anything but pleasant for a man of a family to contemplate, whether he is a laborer, mechanic, merchant or publisher. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas, was sick in bed for ten days with the grip during its prevalence a year or two ago. Later in the season he had a second attack. He says: "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with considersible success, I think, only being in bed a little over two days. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of the remedy."
