BRAZIL'S WAR OVER

Both the Rebel Admirals Have Deserted Their Followers.

DR. GAMA ON A FRENCH VESSEL

The Insurgent Followers Will be Pardoned and the Officers Court-Martialed by Peixoto's Orders.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 14.—Loriano Peixoto is triumphant. The insurgent vessels surrendered last night without having answered with a single shot the cannonade from the government hilltop batteries. The insurgent forces deserted Fort Villegagnon Monday night, leaving their flags flying, and took refuge on the islands Enchades and Paqueta. There was not a soul on board the rebel ships during the bombardment. Admiral da Gama left the harbor on the French vessel Junon, which returned today. It is not known whether the admiral is still on board. All the insurgent officers except the surgeon have fled. The American officers of the government warships came ashore this afternoon. They report that the crews of the vessels are well and delighted that they won without a fight. Excepting the officers, nobody aboard Peixoto's men of war seems to have been eager for a battle. In coming up the harbor this morning the government fleet saluted the United States flag and Rear-Admiral Benham. The United States fleet will disperse soon. The men aboard the American warships are in excellent health. The end of insurgent power in the harbor has been welcomed with joy in the city. Exchange has improved 25 per cent, business again proceeds as usual, and not a symptom of disorder has appeared in the city. The Aquidaban and Republican, which constituted about all that is left of the insurgent cause, are reported to be in South Brazilian waters. Both are said to be disabled. Admiral de Mello has just been seen in the streets of Montevideo. He has deserted his followers, as Admiral de Gama deserted his officers and men in the harbor fleet. The insurgent sailors here will be pardoned and the officers will be court-martialed.

THIS SAYS MELLO IS IN THE SOUTH. BUENOS AYRES, March 14.—Admiral de Mello is at Ilha Grande, 68 miles southwest of Rio Janeiro, with the warships Aquidaban and Republica. It is thought he will surrender.

A Poor Opinion of the Rebels. NEW YORK, March 14.—At the office of the Brazilian consul this afternoon one of the officials there was asked if any news of the whereabouts of Admiral de Mello had been received. He said:

"I do not know positively where he is, but they might find him at his old business of trying to deplete the treasury safe. I, too, have my doubts of Da Gama's honesty of purpose. He may be simply borrowing time. The president is prepared for such tricks, however. His eyes are open. He is wide awake, and neither Da Gama nor Mello can fool him. He will not rest until he has both in his clutches."

"What do you think he will do with them then?"

"Just this. He will not shoot them publicly, as many suppose. He will turn them over to the people, and I guarantee when he does that there will be thousands ready to end them."

A RESERVOIR BURSTS.

The Town of Nampa Flooded and Twenty Railroad Bridges Gone.

Boise, Idaho, March 14.—News was received in this city this evening that the Indian creek reservoir burst its rocky barricade at 2 o'clock this morning, the water sweeping down upon ranches and villages, carrying destruction and ruin in its path. The reservoir was constructed of solid masonry, and covered 500 acres of land, and was said to contain sufficient water to irrigate many thousand acres. It cost $50,000 to build it. The country between Risuka and Caldwell is all under water. All the railroad bridges between Nampa and Risuka, twenty in number, are washed out, and many miles of railroad track is submerged, which will prevent trains from running for many days. The dam broke about noon, and messengers were sent at breakneck speed on horseback to warn settlers and urge families to hasten to places of safety. A mighty wall of water came sweeping down Indian creek, bearing on its bosom houses, barns, farming utensils and livestock of all kinds, and submerging whole farms on both sides of the creek. The citizens of Nampa, a town on the Oregon Short Line, saw the approach of the devastating waters and fled to high ground. Soon all the lower part of town was under water from five to twenty feet deep. Fifty houses at least are ruined, and many families are without shelter and bedding. Merchants are loaning blankets to destitute families, and provisions are being furnished to those in need. It is reported here that two men were drowned, one while attempting to save his property, and another who rushed to his assistance. The cause of the disaster was the sudden turn of the weather, coupled with heavy rains, which caused a rapid melting of snow in the mountains. Snake river rose eight feet today, a fact unparalleled in its history. This part of Idaho has had the heaviest fall of snow this winter known for many years, and this melting rapidly filled the creeks and burst the dam. The property is a total loss. So far Mountain home reservoir is safe, but fears are entertained that it will share the fate of its Indian-creek neighbor. The loss is very great, and it may cause the loss of the great orchards which the reservoir has supplied with water.

BOATNER'S PROPOSED BILL.

He Wants Action Brought Against the Union Pacific.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—One of the most important propositions submitted to this congress will be presented to the house tomorrow by Representative Boatner of Louisiana. The proposition will recite the numerous defaults of the Union Pacific railroad and contiguous lines to meet the debt due the United States. It will charge the present and past directors of the road with violation of their trust, improper absorption of outside lines and voting dividends contrary to law and against the interests of the United States. It will direct that the president appoint special counsel to institute suit against the present and past directors, their heirs and legal representatives, to collect $35,000,000 and interest. With the interest the amount in litigation would exceed $60,000,000. It would be the biggest lawsuit in the history of the country. The proposition goes into the history of the operation of the Union Pacific and arraigns the directors sharply. It will be referred to the judiciary committee, of which Boatner is chairman.

Death on the Track.

Boise, Idaho, March 14.—Passenger train No. 2, east-bound, on the Oregon Short Line, was dived four miles beyond Mountain Home last night, and three tramps were killed, one of them a boy of 14; the engineer, Evan Williams, fatally wounded; the fireman, Betone, slightly wounded, and the mail clerks, Mahon and Tipton, seriously wounded. The accident was the result of the excessive rains, and occurred in a 40-foot cut through the chalk bluffs. Mud had washed down from the bluff until it covered the track to a depth of eight feet and as the cut is on a curve, the engineer did not see the obstruction, and dashed into it at full speed. The locomotive was overturned and the baggage, postal and express cars were dived and smashed to splinters.

NEWS NOTES.

The Bland bill passed the senate yesterday by a vote of 44 to 31. It will be vetoed by the president.

The veteran theatrical manager, John T. Ford, proprietor of Ford's Grand opera house, died Tuesday morning of the effects of la grippe.

The United States government has been formally invited to send a troop of cavalry to London, England, to participate in the royal cavalry tournament in May next. It has not as yet been decided whether or not the invitation will be accepted.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Montgomery, widow of the late Alexander Montgomery, made application today to Judge Coffey for a monthly family allowance of $5,000. The probate judge made an order granting her $3,750 per month. The petition gives the value of the estate at $2,478,172.30.

Yellow fever is increasing to an alarming extent in Rio Janeiro. There are more than 150 cases in the city and the death rate is very heavy. The entire crews of the eight British vessels are stricken. The hospitals are filled with fever-stricken patients from the crews of the foreign war ships.

THE MARKETS.

FRIDAY, March 16.—The recent stormy weather has quite paralyzed business in the several branches. What has been done has been a hand to mouth traffic and confined to local demands and requirements. Quotations remain steady, except in sugar and coffee. The former is firm, with slight advances reported in Portland and a slight decline in coffee since the collapse of the Brazilian insurrection.

Farm produce is in fair supply and prices continue nominal.

The egg market is weak and 11 cents trade is about the ruling price. Other products are only in moderate demand, and dealers continue former quotations.

It Was Not Read.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—It was expected Dolph would, at today's session, read the extract which he was about to read yesterday when the senate adjourned. Dolph, however, said the objection to printing without reading was withdrawn, so he had nothing further to say.

Poisoning from Charcoal.

A new form of lead paralysis has appeared in Paris among the hands of a chemical charcoal factory. The charcoal was rendered more combustible by being treated by nitrate, and thus better fitted for lighting fires. Nitrate of soda or potash ought to be used for this purpose, but the factory proprietor found it more advantageous to use nitrate of lead, which increased the weight of the product. Naturally, the workmen soon exhibited symptoms of lead poisoning. It is proposed to pass a law forbidding the dangerous process under penalty of a heavy fine and imprisonment.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

It is expected that Hyman Abraham will be soon appointed postmaster at Portland. Wagner is probably booked for Salem. Both places, it is said, will be soon filled.

"Died from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by some person unknown" was the verdict returned yesterday afternoon by the coroner's jury in the case of Ferdinand Grass.

Judge Bellinger has given officers and selling-whisky-to-Indians culprits to understand that he will no longer impose fines and other punishments of such a nature as to encourage the traffic, as has been done heretofore, but will so mete out justice as to cause those engaged in violating the law to quake in their boots when they come before him. Good for Judge Bellinger.—East Oregonian.

A Dangerous Invention.

Mr. D. Parker, an old trapper and mountaineer, has invented an ingenious device for shooting bears. It is a piece of a heavy rifle, about nine inches long, arranged with a breech loading apparatus, two wires running through eyes at each side of the barrel at the front, with barb hooks at the ends on which to fasten the bait. The other ends are connected with a brass collar that slips over the back part of the breech and which releases a spring hammer, when the animal pulls at the bait, discharging the contents of a cartridge right into the animal's mouth. The trap is set so that it can be approached only from one direction, thus insuring death to the animal or person who attempts to pull the bait off. Mr. Parker has applied for a patent for the "infernal machine," but as such a machine would be very dangerous to have around it is not likely it will be patented.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. There remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Snipes & Kinersly's druggists.
