BOATNER'S BILL.

The bill to be introduced by Boatner will be an act of justice long delayed. It involves broken promises made by the Union Pacific railroad to the United States and a matter of some $60,000,000. The original projectors of the road deserve great credit, to be sure, for laying thousands of miles of track through a desert country, peopled by savages; their enterprise is magnificent. It was against the judgment of the best informed financial cotemporaries of that period, who could see no possible return for the investment before many years, if at all. The government so recognized the plan and for the sake of the valueble assistance that this would give in developing its internal resources, which were comparatively unexplored, secured payment for work and material by government securities.

But contrary to the most sanguine expectations, the railway line paid handsomely from the start. Horace Greeley's advice to "go west" became the craze, and the coffers of the company overflowed with fares and freight tariff receipts. There was no competition and a score of men suddenly became immensely rich. A salary of $75,000 a year, or three times as much as George Washington received, was paid the president of the road. The other officers received magnificent salaries in proportion. Meanwhile the maturing obligations due the government were unheeded. Great leniency was shown, and the utmost advantage was taken of it. The rapid accumulation of so much wealth suddenly made them sordid. They began to care more for gold than for patriotism. The government which enriched them became an object to bleed, and how to avoid paying the debt due it with the maturity of their obligations a skillful problem. Meanwhile the stock had been watered, making the greatest effort imperative to pay a fair per cent of profit. Lately, the track has been neglected, the rolling stock has been deteriorated until it is hardly sufficient to do the business required, until the whole system is like violated their trust, and pursued unfair methods to the government, and Mr. Boatner's bill to secure for the government its long-delayed due will find ready response in the wishes of the people of the entire country.

No calamity-preacher ever made the low wages of farm-hands the theme of bis remarks. His tears are shed for the oppressed in cities that he knows nothing about, and he don't see any necessity for reform in the rate of wages paid by himself and hearers to the workingmen right around him.

The science of medicine is not a whit behind its neighbors in this age of discovery. France has its pasteur, Germany its Koch and America its Amick, and now an antidote has been discovered for laudanum to bring suicides back to this vale of tears. The remedy is permanganate of potash, tried upon a Pittsburg man Tuesday night. After the fifth injection his muscles began to relax. and after seven were made he was pronounced out of danger.

Editor Stead has taken a short run over to the United States, made a superficial stay of a week or two in Chicago (evidently a part of the time with the demi monde) and now thinks he knows all about our government and the people. He met a London reporter who interviewed him, to whom he made a violent and general onslaught on the corruptness of Chicago, its aldermen, law courts, and other organs of authority. He said that Americans generally had more to learn from the Old World than the Old World had to learn from them. He said: "In Russia one is more likely to be converted to republicanism than in the United States. Nothing in America strikes an Englishman more forcibly than the radical distrust of the sovereign people. One simply stands aghast upon coming to the country from England. I have never been in a more conservative country since I left Russia." Use Mexican Silver Stove Polish.

MAKERS OF BOGUS MONEY

Some Curious Facts Given by an Ex-Secret Service Chief.

Italians Predominate Among the For-eigners in This Country Who Are Engaged in Coun-terfeiting.

A. L. Drummond, late chief of the secret service division of the treasury department, was an efficient officer, and his report contains a summary of operations which show that the diision during the last year has not been less active within its province and has accomplished results no less decided, important and valuable for the of counterfeiters and those who embezzle and misapply the funds of national banks.

According to the statement of Mr. Drummond, says the Chicago Times, there were, during 1892, 494 arrests for manufacturing, possessing and passing counterfeit money. It appears that this species of crime is indulged in by the native Americans to a greater extent than all the foreign-born population, as 252 of the 494 persons arrested claimed the United States as the place of their nativity. Among the foreign-born counterfeiters the Italians were by far. the most numerous. The Chinese contributed but one arrest.

One of the curious features of the report is the statement that fractional paper currency, representing the value of $403, was counterfeited during the year. Little spurious copper coin was made; its amount was less than $64. The greater difficulty in successfully simulating coinage is indicated by the fact that $8,591 of counterfeit gold, silver and copper coins was made against $22,108 counterfeit paper money. Among the contraband property seized were imitations of the obligations, securities and coins of the United States "painted in oil and water colors, photographed, lithographed, printed on paper, and struck and stamped in metal." The ex-chief expresses the hope that, as the later amendments to the laws prohibiting such imitations, for advertising or other purposes, become more generally known their issue will cease.

Mr. Drummond recommends the present congress to pass an amend-ment to existing laws preventing the making or issuing of private scrip or metal tokens in denominations of less than $5 in payment of debts. The amendment recommended prohibits the issuing of said notes containing the words "pay in trade," "in goods," or "in merchandise," or any other expression intended to convey the meaning that the value will be furnished the holder in lieu of the lawful money of the United States. The penalty is fixed at $500, or six months' imprisonment, or both. This bill was read twice in the last congress and referred to the judiciary committee. The currency stringency last summer and autumn brought into use a considerable quantity of such tokens, many of which were prohibited under the law as it now stands. The proposed amendment extends the scope of the statute.

The ex-chief makes another important recommendation-that the statute of limitations which now bars the pros ecution of national bank officers after the lapse of three years from the time a sucked orange. The company has of alleged offenses committed be extended to five years. The present three years' limitation, his investigation has disclosed, is too short a period, as in a number of instances frauds on national banks were found to have been committed many years before discovery. Mr. Drummond sagaciously observes that the longer the period the statute of limitations has to run the more difficult will it be for a bank official to conceal his crime.

> The present congress is also asked to amend the law requiring national bank officers to stamp all counterfeit notes as such. There is a law requiring this, but as no penalty is named for the failure to carry out its provision it is not enforceable, although partially observed. This amendment makes the failure to brand such notes punishable by a fine of $500. The retiring chief also repeats the recommendation made often to former congresses-that an appropriation be made as a sanitary measure, as well as to make counterfeiting more difficult, for retiring from circulation worn and soiled notes. Mr. Drummond asserts that his twenty-two years' experience in hunting counter-feiters has taught him that anything which gives a note a soiled or worn appearance is a great and effective help to the counterfeiter.

> > Demestic Use of Dynamite.

At Vilna, Russia, recently, Ivan Klakwitz, at the third course of a dinner at which sat his wife, his mother-in-law, his two daughters and a son, as well as a neighbor and his neighbor's wife, announced that he had prepared a special dish to which he wanted all to drink a toast. He then brought in a large dish, covered, and placing it on the table he lifted his glass and shouted: "To our next meeting!" The "special dish" was a dynamite bomb. Everyone in the room was instantly killed except the youngest daughter and the servant, who both died shortly after, and the walls of the room were partly blown out.

Effect of "Blind-Pig" Drink. The term "blind pig" is colloquially used in the middle west to designate an unlicensed saloon. One of these was recently discovered by a farmer living on a bluff, who was boring for water. After some days' work the drill dropped into a cavity and a suction pump promptly brought up a fluid which inspired all who drank with mingled feelings. Only after the hired man had eloped with the farmer's wife and his son had marred the old man's beauty with a four-tined fork was it discovered that the drill had tapped a hogshead of gin stored in a cave in the side of the bluff. A Ghoulish Hashery.

In Brussels there is a restaurant en titled the Cafe de la Mort, the walls of the subterranean chamber being hung with paintings of skulls, skeletons and crossbones, the chairs are stools, the tables coffins and the beverage, which costs six cents a glass, is called "microbes." A performance takes place nightly in an adjoining vault. On the black curtain rising a man is disclosed standing upright in a coffin. As the assemblage watches, his white bones are gradually seen to shine forth through his clothes until he becomes a grizzly skeleton. A death certificate is then presented to the principal actor in this optical illusion and the performance closes.

HEDALLES

Wasco County, - - - Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
