A Record of Lesser Events for the Thirty-one Days.

"Alack," the postman exclaimed: "Where has my courage gone to, That every person in the land Can look me if they want to?"

Soree tomorrow night.

Hon. W. H. Biggs has been confirmed as receiver of the U. S. land office.

It is a daily occurrence for teams to get stuck on the Canyon City road just east of the city limits.

The young lady friends of the M. E. church are arranging for a book party to be given in Fraternity hall about the 30th of this month.

Twenty-three bridges have been washed out on the Union Pacific road above here. It will consume at least three weeks to replace those already gone.

The populist convention met at Oregon City yesterday. It was not very thoroughly represented from Eastern Oregon by reason of the interrupted train traffic.

"Will any one tell me," shouted the prohibition orator, "who, save those engaged in this accursed traffic, gets any benefit from it?" And a voice said: "We're paying you $50 a night."

Mr. Wm. Michell, our efficient and obliging county treasurer, announces himself a candidate for re-election in another column. Mr. Michell is an old citizen of this county and is very popular, and without doubt will be continued in the treasurer's office as custodian of the county finances.

Mr. McNeil was hastily summoned to Mosier this morning, on account of Mosier Creek, which is now a raging torrent, washing away the underpinning of his newly-constructed fruit dryer. This would indicate that the creek is very high, for the dryer is built over a perpendicular bank fifteen feet higher than the customary level of the creek.

The populists have nominated Nathan Pierce for governor, Chas Miller for First congressional district, Joseph Waldrop for Second congressional district.

For secretary of state, Ira Wakefield; superintendent of public instruction, T. C. Jory; attorney general, M. L. Olmstead; state printer, Geo. M. Orton; and supreme judge, R. P. Boise.

There have been 21-10 inches of rainfall at The Dalles since September and 85 inches at the Cascades during the same period. Since January the fall has been 9.36 inches at The Dalles.

Train No. 1 arrived in The Dalles shortly before noon today. This is not the through train, but was made up at Huntington and left there yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was delayed by slides in the Blue mountains about four hours. It is now subject to a further delay in The Dalles and has not yet (2 p. m.) left this point. No. 2 is about four miles from the city, just across from the high trestle bridge, two bents of which have been washed out.

This morning a gentleman driving on the road through Thompson's addition met with what might have been a serious accident. The front wheels of his buggy dropped into a chuck hole, throwing the driver out in the mud, where he lay with the lines wrapped around his wrist. The horses being gentle, stood still. He was soon discovered by Mr. Clarence Bunker, who fished him out of his dilemma. He was loaded, not Mr. Bunker, but the driver.

The Durkee Wreck.

Fred Lusso, the fireman killed in the wreck two and a half miles west of Durkee Tuesday evening, was found by Engineer Jacobsen under the cab. He was fast and unable to get out without assistance. He was taken to La Grande as soon as possible and taken to the hotel. He was perfectly conscious and suffering no pain. His wife arrived shortly after 12 o'clock, to whom he said he was feeling first rate and would be around again in a few days. The doctors who had examined him, however, knew that he was fatally injured and that his death was only a question of a short time. On some pretext his wife was taken from the room, but at 1:15 o'clock her agonized shriek announced to all that he had passed away. It was designed to bring his body east, but learning that the Northern Pacific was having as much trouble and delay from washouts as the Union Pacific, it was concluded to bury him at La Grande. Brakeman Phillips was found under the water tank, his head cleft in twain, the upper half lying a few feet away. The engineer escaped with a sprained ankle.

The coroner of Union county, who is also the company's physician, exonerated the company from all blame.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

DUFUR.

The farmers are eagerly preparing for spring work, making fences, etc.

The negro minstrels have postponed their show and ball until the 30th of March.

Mr. J. W. Douglass and daughter, Myrtle, of Eagle Creek, Clackamas county, are visiting Mr. Joe Douglass. Dr. Vanderpool is confined to his bed. We sadly miss his cheery face upon the street, and earnestly hope he will soon be among us again.

Mr. L. B. Thomas starts soon for his school on 8-Mile, where he will teach a four-months term. L. B. has the good wishes of Dufur for his success.

The willow catkins are out and the buds of the fruit trees are swelling and rose bushes and other trees are commencing to show their leaves. All we want is warm days, with no frost.

The chopper is busy converting the farmer's spoiled grain into feed. It runs twice or three times a week, and from the teams which constantly come and go, it looks as if there was plenty of business.

On account of illness Mr. Jenkins was unable to preach Sunday, which disappointed the people, as he is greatly appreciated and holds a large audience. His place was filled by P. P. Underwood of Boyd.

Mr. Alex. Strachan started for The Dalles with four loads of hogs. The roads were so soft his wagon sunk to the hubs and he was forced to unload and drive his hogs to town. It has been raining and it is fast settling the roads.

Monday night Prof. Frazier gave a very interesting lecture on school government at the school house, in which he spoke of how to gain the attention of the pupil, and instructed the class on various points concerning the progress of a school, the curing of bad habits, etc.

Mr. Dan Butler is in town visiting his daughter, Mrs. Strickland, and as soon as spring opens he will start on a prospecting tour near the location of the famous White Swan quartz mine, on Powder river, Idaho, that was lately sold for a large sum. Mr. B. has in his possession some fine specimens of quartz.

The Literary was held in the U. B. church Wednesday evening. A large crowd witnessed the efforts of each. Among those of special mention were an essay by Blanche Dufur, entitled "Our Trip to Quito," which was well composed, beautifully read and was appreciated by the people. John McAtee recited "The Death of Copernicus," which was well spoken. "The Raven" was read by Prof. Frazier, who did justice to it. Several songs were sung, after which Maud Peabody read "No Sects in Heaven." Harry Slusher did credit for one so young in his recitation "The Boy and the Slipper."

Quiz.

PLEASANT RIDGE.

Grandpa Means has been indisposed for a week or so.

The farmers are cutting and preparing wood for summer use.

Mr. George Martin is recovering from an attack of the grippe.

Mrs. Hazen has been quite sick for nearly a month, but is able to be around again.

Pleasant Ridge is still awaiting the opening of spring and enjoying itself wonderfully. The snow is here in places yet.

The Gordian Literary Society met last evening and discussed the question "Resolved, That Whisky is a Greater Curse Than Slavery," the affirmative being led by Lyman Daly and the negative by Frank Flanagan. The judges—Orlando Morgan of 3-Mile, Allen Fligg and George Campbell of 8-Mile—rendered a decision in favor of the negative, after which an excellent program was rendered, consisting in part of a plantation song and dance by the Misses Omeg, representing the Toppies. Vocal solo, "The Old Rocking Chair," Miss Ida Omeg. "The Census Taking," W. Wagonblast and John Pugh. "The Negro Barber," Lyman Daly, J. Pugh and Oscar Powell, colored. These were interspersed with readings, recitations and music. The question for next meeting is, "Resolved, That Matrimony is More Desirable Than Single Blessedness," the affirmative being led by Miss Mabel Omeg and the negative by Miss Ida Omeg.

KENT.

Mr. W. F. Guyton returned Sunday from Moro, where he went as a delegate to the populist convention.

Snow or rain nearly every day now, followed by high winds. Farmers are anxious to get to work, as most of them are behind hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox will go to Grass Valley to attend the school exhibition. Their son has been going to school there. He will return home with them.

The prohibitionists organized last week with six members. J. Patterson, W. H. Bennett and A. B. Comstock were elected delegates to attend the county convention at Moro on Saturday next. They expect to have a full ticket in the county this spring.

Rev. Morrison has been holding meetings here in the school house for the last ten days and will continue the rest of this week. Quite an interest is being taken: Miss Maggie Morrison has been furnishing the music, but returned home Wednesday. Miss Morrison is a first-class musician and will be missed in the meetings. Mr. Frank Lamphear of Moro has been attending the meetings. He is a young man, and an earnest worker in the cause. He also returned home.

Too Much Moisture.

This section has just experienced one of the most continuous rain storms known since 1881. The earth, so thoroughly soaked previously during the season, has had more than she could hold and accompanied as it was with warmer temperature caused the snow to melt on the high hills. In addition to the precipitation, the streams are out of their banks, doing a great deal of damage in carrying away bridges and causing loss to settlers along their boundaries. Mosier creek is reported to be a young river and great damage is being done. Mill creek at this city is a raging torrent and is still rising. The Columbia river here is rising at the rate of two inches an hour, and only lacks about a foot of running over the D. P. and A. N. Co.'s dock at this writing, (2:30 p. m.). Reports from the west state that washouts and damage is being done to the O.R. & N. Co.'s railroad and the arrival of trains are delayed and traffic generally interrupted.

Haworth the printer, at home 116 Court St., Feb. 1st.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson returned last evening from a visit at Eugene City.

W. A. Mills and wife of Clackamas station, near Portland, came up on the Regulator last night, and proceeded to Goldendale to visit his brother, J. B. Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marden returned last evening from an extended visit in California, the Midwinter fair and the old mining stamping grounds of '49. In their round a few of the old time friends were seen, who had passed the vigor of early manhood, and were now, with whitened locks, in the mellow light of the afternoon of life, journeying towards its other horizon. Mr. Marden says the meeting and parting with those old companions of the long ago was a trying thing to the tender cords of his affections, and that his return to The Dalles home will preclude future visits to favored lands and here he and his will forever abide.
