AGAIN IT EXPLODES

A Second Disaster Occurred Yesterday At Santander.

TEN KILLED AND THIRTY INJURED

The Buried Cargo of the Cabo Machicaco Is Struck by Divers, Many Are Killed.

MADRID, March 21.—A dispatch received from Santander this evening says that 10 men were killed and 30 were injured by an explosion of dynamite in the harbor today. The dynamite was in one of the many cases of explosives which went down last November with the wreck of the steamer Cabo Machicaco. Ever since the steamer was blown to pieces divers have worked intermittently upon the wreck, and have raised a considerable quantity of miscellaneous cargo, which was brought to Santander. Recently the divers reported that they were getting near the dynamite, but it was supposed that the explosive had lost its power after so many weeks in water. Three divers were down today when the explosion came. Ten men were out in a boat over the spot where the divers were at work. Some 50 men were at work at the docks. The cause of the explosion is not known exactly. The report shook Mendez Nunez street, which skirts the quay, along its whole length. The small boat just off the spot was splintered and seven men were killed. The three divers also were killed, and thirty men along the quay were injured seriously. The mangled and blackened corpses of the dead were scattered all along the quay, and the scene was one that defied description. Among the dead are Don Manuel de Laspena, provincial governor, and a number of other officials.

A FURTHER CASUALTY.
Just as the boat blew up, a railway train arrived at the station, a considerable distance from the scene of the explosion. This train was completely wrecked, set on fire and most of its passengers burned to death.

COXEY'S ARMY.

Estimated 1,000 Men Will Start Next Sunday.

MASSELLON, O., March 20.—The leaders of the Coxe army estimate that 1,000 men will be in line when the start to Washington is made on Sunday next. Reports from Canton, Louisville, Columbus and other stations are to the effect that the tramps are on the march to Massillon. One train from Akron was stopped four times to clear the cars of the vags. Saturday and Sunday will be big days in Massillon. Excursion trains will be run from a score of points, and it is expected that 5,000 strangers, many of whom will no doubt join the army at the start of its march, will be here. Last night Coxe received a telegram from A. P. York of Indianapolis stating that 1,100 men were about to leave that city to join the army.

NOW BRECKINRIDGE'S TURN.

Miss Pollard's Counsel Suddenly End Their Testimony.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Miss Pollard was on the stand for a time today in her case against Breckinridge, but nothing of special interest was brought out by an additional cross-examination. Then the prosecution suddenly announced the end of its inquisition, which had lasted over two days. Counsel for Miss Pollard was so well satisfied with the impression she had made that they not only declined to ask her a single question to strengthen any point of the evidence, but announced they rested their case there. This was done in spite of the fact that they had a number of additional witnesses and affidavits. Miss Pollard at once left the courtroom, showing evidence in the pallor of her countenance of the strain under which she had been laboring.

After counsel for defense had retired for consultation and returned, Colonel John T. Shelby of Lexington, Ky., Breckinridge's law partner, proceeded to outline the defense. He said: "I am authorized by the defendant to say, and it will be corroborated by his solemn oath, that he did not seduce her; that it was never made known to him she ever had any children by him until the filing of this suit last August, nor did he, under any circumstances, make any promise of marriage to her." The defense did not intend to condone whatever was wrong in the relations of the two, and it was only by the truth the defendant wanted to be judged. Continuing, counsel declared that Miss Pollard had accosted defendant on the train before he ever knew her, told him how her father admired John C. Breckinridge and named her for him. Some weeks later he received a letter from her asking advice as to her relations with Rhodes, which he answered, giving her the law in the case. Later she asked him to come to the seminary, and followed it with another, to neither of which he responded. Being in Cincinnati one day on other business, he went to see her, and found her a woman of 20 or 21, as would be shown, not a mere schoolgirl. She admitted illicit relations with Rhodes, and asked him to take her to an entertainment in the evening, herself suggesting a closed carriage. In the course of the ride illicit relations were established, not by seduction, but in a way which occurs when a woman is not averse to such things.

Governor Waite's New Scheme.

DENVER, March 21.—The Times will say this afternoon that Governor Waite has formed a plan to storm the city hall on the night of the decision of the supreme court is rendered in the matter of his police and fire appointees, in case the decision is against him. He suspects the loyalty of the militia and has caused State Game Warden Ocotte to swear in 1,000 deputies, who will be furnished with state arms and make the assault. The governor's opponents are fully advised of these preparations, and say they have made every preparation for defense.

Lo, the Poor Indian.

GOLDBENDALE, March 20.—The Calawash Indians, near Tum Water, opposite Cello, feel that they are being robbed of their fishing rights. It seems some white men have recently taken up some fishing grounds through some loop-hole in the law. It is very evident that Uncle Sam intended these grounds to be preserved for the poor Indian. The Indians now feel sorely grieved to be deprived of what their forefathers left them. If their tribe was not so few in number, they perhaps would become hostile.

Not Vanquished Yet.

BUENOS AYRES, March 21.—Advice received here from Porto Alegre, capital of Rio Grande do Sul are to the effect that the insurgents appear determined to continue their struggle to overthrow the federal government. Their leaders declare they have sufficient resources to carry on war, and that the prestige of the republican revolution is increased by the flight of De Gama.

Millionaire Bank President Ives, who recently became insane, died Monday in New Haven, Conn.

Adolph Krug, Seattle's defaulting city treasurer, was convicted of using $10,000 of public money in a manner not authorized by law.

The blizzard announced yesterday in Wyoming and Colorado is raging today in Wyoming and Nebraska, and four feet of snow covers the cattle ranges.

Miss Pollard's friends deny that she will kill Breckinridge if she loses her suit for breach of promise, but, in any event, they say she will write a book giving all the unfortunate events of her life and a graphic account of her infatuation and relations for ten years with Breckinridge.

Dr. Edward Courtenay, a veterinary surgeon in St. Louis, shot and probably fatally wounded Minnie Schilling, aged 17, for refusing to return to his employ as housekeeper. He then shot himself twice, and is dying. Courtenay is married, but his wife does not live with him. It is said that Miss Schilling left his employ because of his persistent attempts at love-making.

Honors for Kossuth.

where throughout the city mourning emblems appear. The city is black with crape. The diet will be assembled in special session to take appropriate action. The Hungarian government and the members of the national party in the diet have arrived at an agreement regarding the honors that will be shown Louis Kossuth. By reaching this agreement the fall of the ministry is averted.

Kossuth was born at Monok, county of Zemplen, April 27, 1802. His family, of Slavic descent, were Lutheran and noble. His father, a lawyer, gave his children a liberal education. In honor of Kossuth's ninety birthday the Protestant church of Tallya, built 108 years ago, in which he was christened, had been entirely rebuilt and decorated. He has always refused to be reconciled to the dual arrangement of the Austro-Hungarian Empire brought about by M. Deak. He wanted Hungary to be what he fought for in 1848-'49—perfectly independent.

Congressional Notes.

The New York chamber of commerce adopted a unanimous resolution against the seigniorage bill.

Senator Peffer favorably reported the bill of Senator Mitchell of Oregon for the establishment of five silk experiment stations.

Senator Peffer's bill to establish an electrical experiment station, to determine if electricity can be applied as motive power to farm machinery will receive favorable consideration.

The river and harbor bill, when reported, will show some changes affecting Pacific coast rivers and harbors since the first statement was telegraphed. What changes these are will probably be in the nature of increases.

Hermann says that the river and harbor committee has positively decided not to allow any new projects in the present bill, and nothing can be done in the house for the Dalles improvement. The senators may be able to have it put in.

A document, signed by over fifty of the most prominent bankers of Boston has been forwarded to President Cleveland, urging the necessity of refusing to sign the seigniorage bill, stating that it will ruin the banking business, create distrust, and, in a measure, ruin the financial standing of the country.

Marion county democrats at Salem almost unanimously voted down a resolution that "we fully indorse the administration of President Cleveland; his Hawaiian policy is humane, his financial policy is sound, and his tariff policy is conservative."

The money market appears to be getting easier in Portland. A farmer made a loan yesterday of $1,700 at 6 per cent; no brokerage. Another man was three hours finding a man to borrow $2,500, which was placed at 8 per cent. The sunshine is bringing confidence.—Telegrams.

A 26-year-old Swede, giving the name of James Steel, was arrested in Portland Tuesday night for disturbing a Salvation Army meeting. Steel is not only a very fresh hoodlum, but a very foul-mouthed one. He applied the most villainous epithets to the Salvation Army women, to the disgust of everyone within earshot of him.

A Queerly Head

Can never rest on a body frail from disease any more than the lovely lily can grow in the sterile soil. When Consumption fastens its hold upon a victim, the whole physical structure commences its decay. At such a period, before the disease is too far advanced, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will arrest and cure it. So certain is this, that an offer is made to refund the money paid for it when a failure can be found under the condition of a fair trial.

"Ticket? Haven't got none—I travel on me face," said the tough passenger. "I'll have to punch it, then," said the conductor calmly. "Biff! I reckon the company won't kick on my knocking down that fare."
