Two four-horse freight teams came in to town last night from Prineville to be loaded with merchandise for merchants in that thriving inland city.

Among the pretty Easter windows is that of Snipes & Kinsely. It is devoted to "the old red hen" and her brood of chickens. With the differently-colored Easter eggs, the effect is very pleasing.

The streets present a busier appearance today than for many weeks. Whether it is owing to the advent of beautiful weather or the approaching elections cannot be positively stated.

The wheat market is thoroughly demoralized in Chicago today. Quotations are reported at the call board lower than ever known before and buyers refuse to entertain offers. Transactions chopped right off on the offering of the morning session of the board.

Mr. J. B. Havly of Boyd brought in to the city on Wednesday twenty-one head of stall-fed steers, which averaged about 1,500 pounds each. He is satisfied with the experiment of fattening stock and will put up thirty or forty head this fall for a gilt edge market.

The Inland Star has been hauled alongside the D. P. and A. N. Co.'s dock and is being dismantled. Her upper works will be entirely removed and her whole condition changed. A larger wheel will be put in, and when the little craft is fully completed she will be put into commission as a fishing boat.

The water in the Columbia is muddier than ever before noticed on a receding flow. Charley Hall, who has been using it for domestic purposes, has abandoned it, and gets water from a distant spring. He said that after a bucket full of it had stood over night, it was as muddy as it was the evening before, and would not settle.

A rare specimen of Solomon's lily (arum sanctitum), sometimes called the "black calla," is now in bloom at Mrs. P. M. Dilbourne's in Walla Walla. The leaf proper is pendant, which is its natural position, and is very deep, beautiful purple black in color, and the spadix or spike, is of ebony blackness. This lily came direct from the Holy Land, having been sent from Jerusalem by the Hon. W. F. Winans.

The best kept apples we ever tasted, says the Walla Walla Statesman, were those on St. Patrick's day when they were dug up by the children, who buried them last fall. They dug a hole, raked the leaves on the bottom and then laid the apples therein, every layer of apples alternating with leaves. There was not a rotten apple in the lot, and for flavor and freshness they could not have tasted better if freshly plucked from the tree.

Circuit Court.

Prosecuting Attorney Wilson and Judge Bradshaw leave tonight for Heppner, Morrow county, in order to open up the session of court which convenes there Monday. There will be a light docket, but the session in Gilliam county, which convenes two weeks later, will involve a larger one.

At the session in Sherman county, just ended, Bluford Douglas got eighteen months for larceny in a dwelling, a case in which four were concerned and a good deal similar to the Krier-Wettle case here. Walter Douglas and H. McReynolds, other parties implicated in the case, will be tried at the May term of court in Wasco county.

Mays Not a Candidate.

THE DALLES, March 24, 1894.
EDITOR CHRONICLE:
As there seems to be an erroneous impression in a few localities that I am, or may become a candidate for representative in congress, I would thank you for space to say that such impression is entirely without foundation in fact. While fully appreciating the honor and great importance of that position, I beg to say that I am not now, have not been, and will not be a candidate for the same. Very respectfully,
F. P. MAYS.

A MODERN MIRACLE.

A Convert Cured of His Infirmities and Sees Heaven and Hell.

Rev. R. C. Motor, presiding elder of the Methodist church, writes to the Arlington Record of a modern miracle, fully equalling the healing of the leper by Jesus, as related in the Gospel.

Dallas Dampman, a veteran of the late war, had lost a portion of his right hip bone by a musket ball, leaving a deep indentation in the flesh after its healing, the skin adhering closely to the bone and presenting a purplish and inflamed appearance. His left hip was struck by a piece of shell, which carried away a part of the bone, six inches or more in length. Another musket shot passed through his left arm and still another across both feet. From these wounds he suffered almost continual pain, and at times he could not sleep. A portion of the time he used crutches, but generally a cane. Was addicted to drink and never took any interest in religious matters, only to curse the idea of there being a burning hell, and seldom if ever attending church. Some two weeks before his conversion he heard a sermon by Rev. Frank Adkins, at Liberty schoolhouse which awakened him. At first he sought to drown his convictions by drink, but after becoming sober began to pray, attended the meetings at 8 Mile schoolhouse, conducted by Rev. F. A. Parrish, and was converted the second evening. Immediately he passed into what is known as the trance state, where he remained for three hours and forty minutes. This was on Saturday night, February 19th. Sunday night he was suffering so severely that he could not sleep, but was in close communion with the Lord Jesus. About 2 o'clock he asked the Lord, whose presence he was cognizant of, if he would not heal him and free him from his suffering. The Lord answered, "I will; but do not ask too much." Immediately a thrilling sensation, beginning in the upper portion of his body and passing down to the very tips of his extremities, relieved him of every pain, after which he soon fell into a quiet sleep.

On awakening the next morning he thought of his healing, then sprang out of bed as nimbly as if he had never been crippled, and with no need of crutches or cane. "Since that time he has frequently passed into the trance state, in which condition he enters the habitation of the redeemed, meets and communicates with such friends and comrades as are there, and numerous others; listens to these songs and is thrilled with the music which rejoices the spirits of the "just made perfect." He has also gone down into the depths of hell, seen hundreds whom he knew here, besides innumerable he never saw, their anguish, heard their wails, beheld the rain of fire and smoke of their torment, and smelled the fume of brimstone and felt the heat of the burning lake of fire.

The wounded parts are now perfectly healthful in appearance, the skin is loose and natural, and the indentations in the flesh are beginning to fill out; and no pain has returned since his healing. Mr. Dampman is an uneducated man in the main, being only able to read and write, and never read a word in the Bible until since his conversion, and yet his visions are in full accord with the Word, while its experimental portions are as readily apprehended and realized by him as the most spiritual Christians in the church, and his zeal, spirit, Christian life and work are in perfect harmony with our holy religion. After having been associated with Bro. Dampman for seven days in meeting and tested him by the Word of God and the most careful inquiry, says Rev. Motor, I give these facts to the public, and am fully persuaded that he is now under the power of the Holy Spirit, and is doing God's will.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. F. S. Gordon of Wamic is in town today.

Mr. George Sellinger and sons of Mosier were in the city today.

Mr. Martin Donnell from Goldendale is in town and will remain over the Sabbath with his friends.

Dr. Vanderpool is reported to be resting easily today, though his condition is not materially changed, which is serious enough.

Mr. Frank Malone of Crown Rock is in the city and will return to his home tomorrow. He informs us that stock have come through the winter exceedingly well, and that the loss is nothing; probably no more than during the summer season.
