EFFECT OF A VETO

Impossible for Bland to Have His Bill Passed Over It.

CANNOT COMMAND ENOUGH VOTES

Such a Motion Would Be Nothing More Than a Protest Against Cleveland's Action.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Representative Bland has consulted his silver associates of the house as to the chances for passing the silver seigniorage bill over a veto. He found most of the men who had voted for the bill ready to endorse it again, even against a veto. Whether he will make the move or not is not yet certain, for the most radical friends of the bill recognize that the necessary two-thirds vote to overcome the veto could not be secured in the house, and without this the move could be nothing more than a protest. The vote on the passage of the bill was—ayes 168, noes 129, and not voting 56. This aye vote was secured only after a protracted struggle, during which the house was without a quorum much of the time. It is believed to represent almost the full strength of the bill.

Those senators who were most favorable to the passage of the Bland seigniorage bill look for nothing but a veto message when the president is prepared to act upon the bill which is now before him. Senator Pugh of Alabama said today:

"I am convinced that the president will assign as his reason for vetoing the bill its ungrammatical construction and the ambiguity that is found in it. He will also oppose that part of the measure which provides for the issuance of certificates against the bullion before it is coined. I also believe that he will tell congress that he would not disapprove a bill that provided for the coinage of the seigniorage pure and simple, and untrammelled by a provision regarding the issue of notes. Such a bill, I am confident, can be speedily passed by both houses and will become a law."

COXEY'S ARMY.

Cooking on Gasoline Stoves in the Icy Blasts of Winter.

CANTON, O., March 26.—Twenty-five wives and daughters of the people's party men, who were expected, did not appear at Coxeys' camp this morning on account of the bad weather, and the men had to hustle victuals for themselves. It was a sort of a Valley Forge encampment and the men suffered severely in the icy blasts. Much difficulty was experienced with the cooking arrangements, but gasoline stoves were finally rigged up and a meal, consisting of boiled ham, bread, potatoes, beans and the like, furnished enough nourishment for all. About two-thirds of the army were allowed to sleep in the city prison last night. Many this morning complained about Coxeys and Brown lodging at a hotel, instead of taking pot and saw enough of it, your digestive organs may perhaps be equal, ostrich like, to any task you impose—even to the digestion of lard-cooked food.

If however, like thousands of other people, you have learned that you must "draw the line at lard," this is to remind you that there is a clean, delicate and healthful vegetable substitute, called luck with them. A squad of about fifty from Stark Siding, a rendezvous for tramps, was added to Coxeys' army this morning. It is said Coxeys has been given till the 28th to settle an indebtedness of $24,000, and is much worried over the matter. A number of populists have issued a circular calling for contributions to help him lift the mortgages. So far the responses amount to $4350. The commonwealth army took up the line of march shortly after noon 200 strong, and expect to arrive at Louisville, the next stopping place, at 4 p. m.

An Interview With Mello.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Herald's Montevideo correspondent reports an interview with Admiral Mello, in which the latter is quoted as follows:

"If was not at all surprised at the fiasco in Rio bay. I believed the surrender of the fleet was inevitable after the interference of Admiral Benham, of the United States navy, in protecting vessels landing cargoes at the wharves. Da Gama reached his decision to surrender the fleet without a fight, after he had made a desperate attempt to land his forces at Nieheroy. In this attempt Da Gama lost one-fourth of his men and was himself seriously wounded. He afterwards dispatched the Aquidaban to the south loaded with all the portable munitions of war he possessed which were of value. He also sent away all available marines. He thus left himself without power or food, and his supply of water was cut off. He was unable to continue operations, and did not have a ship which could have crossed the bar under the fire of Forts Santa Cruz and Lage. In this condition he decided to spike all the guns in Fort Villegagnon and on Cobras island and put out of action all the guns on the ships. He then took refuge with his officers and the marines who remained on foreign warships, and the surrender without a fight was inevitable."

Sensation in the Heath Trial.

FRESNO, Cal., March 26.—A sensation in the Heath trial this morning was caused by the testimony of Mrs. Cora Palmer, who on the night of McWhirter's murder was taking her husband to town to take the 2:30 train. She passed a buggy containing Reel Terry, city attorney. A piece of burning cloth had been thrown out of the buggy which was setting fire to the grass by the roadside. She stamped out the fire and picked up the partially consumed cloth, which proved to be a black cloth mask and a handkerchief bearing the name of R. S. Heath. The handkerchief was given in testimony. Mrs. Palmer is dying from consumption, and had to be brought to court on a bed. Her testimony made a profound impression. Heath was visibly affected.

Killed by His Daughter and Wife

ROME, Ga., March 26.—G. F. Willis was killed last week by his daughter Lillian and his wife. The news of the tragedy did not leak out for several days until a son Francis, aged 11, told it to neighbors. The daughter testified that her father was choking her mother, when she cut his throat with a razor and then brained him with an ax. The jury after being out some time rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Have Settled Their Troubles.

OMAHA, March 26.—The Union Pacific telegraphers have compromised with the officials of the road. They talked the matter out with Superintendent Korty, and his recommendation was submitted to President Clark, who approved it. The exact terms are not known, but the men claim a big victory, securing all the concessions demanded.

Utility of the Cycle.

"We have all seen men run for a train," said a traveler; "the other day I saw a man make a break for one on a bicycle. We had halted at a station from which a straight, level road ran back at a right angle to the railroad. At a considerable distance up that road we saw a man coming on a bicycle. A man afoot couldn't have got anywhere near us from that distance, and it didn't seem as though the man on the wheel could get within rods of us, but he came down the street whizzing. When he had got about half the distance the conductor gave the signal to start, and the engineer sounded the whistle and started the train. It was astonishing how fast the man on the wheel was coming now. There was a broad level space around the station. The bicyclist swept over this in a great curve that landed him alongside the baggage car. Dismounting, he lifted his wheel up to the waiting hands of the baggagemaster; a fraction of a second later the steps of the first passenger car came along and the bicyclist stepped aboard, a winner."

NEWS NOTES.

Krug was sentenced to seven years. Senator Colquitt of Georgia died painfully Monday morning.

The entire strawberry crop of Tennessee was killed by the late freeze.

The seigniorage bill will not become a law unless the president signs it.

Waite is on top. The court has decided in favor of the commissioners in question.

Taylor Dow, of Mannheim, will not be allowed to exhibit in Germany the wonders of his bullet-proof cuirass and allow men to shoot at him. The German police have been ordered, however, to prevent such an exhibition. Dow will try his luck in other countries.

Collector Blackman has appointed Mr. Geo. Herbert storekeeper at Grants. The appointment gives general satisfaction to his numerous friends in both parties. Mr. Herbert is a native of Oregon and has always been loyal to his state. The position is a nice little plum and George is just the man to dispose of it.

It is alleged by the receiver, that the Union Pacific Company is not bankrupt, but that it is in a flourishing condition, and its earnings cover the interest on its bonded indebtedness, its operating expenses and the payment due by law to the United States government, and in addition thereto, there is a surplus.

The honor of being a member of the Presbyterian church, which Colonel Breckinridge has enjoyed for many years, seems to be about to be taken away from him, since his membership has been denied by all the churches. J. W. Kayser, of the Mount Horeb church, which Colonel Breckinridge always claims was established by his father, denies that Colonel Breckinridge is a member.

The senate committee on public lands has reported favorably Mitchell's bill authorizing a survey of the lands granted the Willamette valley and Cascade wagon road. The company deposits $25,000 to pay for the survey. The committee also reported favorably Dolph's bill to protect settlers on lands taken under the donation act.

Representative Geary, of California, framer of the Chinese registration act, causes some surprise by coming out in approval of the new Chinese treaty. He does not agree with those who have argued that it amounts to an abrogation of the Geary law, but looks upon it rather as a recognition of the registration principle, which is the feature of the law that bears his name.

The biggest land grant claim ever made in this country is now before the United States court of private land claims at Santa Fe. It is known as the Peralta grant, and is for 12,900,000 acres of land in New Mexico and Arizona. A man named Reavis claims the tract, inheriting it from former owners, it being originally a grant from a Spanish king. The copper mines at Clifton and Globe, the most valuable in the Southwest, and the gold districts of Pinos Altos, Carlisle, Mogella, Cooney and Silver creek are also covered by the grant. If it should be confirmed, it would make the claimants the largest land-owners in the United States, and at the same time the wealthiest company in the country.

A Sedentary Occupation.

Plenty of sitting down and not much exercise, ought to have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to go with it. They absolutely and permanently cure constipation. One tiny sugar-coated pellet is a corrective, a regulator, a gentle laxative. They're the smallest, the easiest to take and most natural remedy—no reaction afterward. Sick headache, bilious headache, indigestion, bilious attacks, and all stomach and bowel derangements are prevented, relieved and cured.

A "cold in the head" is quickly cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. So is catarrhal headache, and every trouble caused by catarrh. So is catarrh itself. The proprietors offer $500 for any case which they cannot cure.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Mayor Mason leaves Portland for California Thursday in search of health.

After a long and painful illness, James H. Lappeus, Portland's old chief of police, died at his home in Portland about 9 o'clock Monday, at the age of 66 years.

The estimated power of Hood river is 16,000 horse power for 40 feet fall. This would give, if the power could all be utilized between there and the forks of the river, a grand total of 300,000 horse power. Of this about 40-horse power is used now.—Glacier.

The John Miller mining claim on Jackson creek, Jackson county, is one of the richest in Southern Oregon. It yielded $8,000 to the owner last year, and it is expected that the clean-up this spring will double the amount. It is owned by Mrs. Mary Miller.

The high waters last week caused considerable damage to farms on Crooked river from Prineville to the head of the river. Gravel bars have been formed on much valuable farm land and in some places deep cuts have been washed through meadows and fields.—Review.

The naval bureau, whose business it is to fit out men-of-war for service, is very busy just now in getting together the supplies necessary for the Behring sea fleet. The instructions that will be issued to the naval commanders of our vessels bodes ill to the fortunes of any craft, American or Canadian, that may go into the seal waters with the intention of taking seals in violation of the arbitrators.

Stockholders' Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that there will be an annual meeting of the stockholders of the Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company held in the Chronicle hall on Saturday, the 7th day of April, 1894, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing seven directors and transacting any other business that may properly come before said meeting. By order of the president.
