MARS' MONTH.

A Record of Lesser Events for the Thirty-one Days.

Sometimes when you trust a good young man you find you have cause to rue. For there is such a thing as a good young man being too good to be true.

Trout-fishing season opens on April 1st, which is Sunday.

The crows are cawing in every direction and according to an old saying it is time to plant corn.

Funk Bros. will open their New York Cash store tomorrow. Read their announcement in another column.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wasco county fruitgrowers will take place next Saturday at 1 o'clock at the city hall.

Peach trees have been in bloom for a week in the Sherar's bridge neighborhood. Here, the buds are almost ready to bloom.

This locality was visited with a nice, warm rain last night and this morning. The temperature ranges from 55 to 70 degrees today.

Attorneys Riddell and Dufur leave for Wamic this afternoon, to try the Mart New rape case, which comes off tomorrow. Riddell appears for the state and Dufur for the defense.

The squirrel pest is so extensive in the northern part of Marion county that farmers are paying 5 cents reward on their scalps in addition to the 5 cents bounty given by the county.

At a meeting of St. Paul's parish held last evening, the following vestrymen were elected for the ensuing year: T. A. Hudson, David Vause, Jos. T. Peters, W. E. Walthers, F. Bronson, W. H. Lochhead and L. S. Davis.

The old Columbia is rising an inch an hour and is very muddy. It registers 11.1 above zero. In all probability the D. P. & A. Nav. Co.'s docks will be under water tomorrow, for the second time within the past two weeks.

There is little business being transacted today. Everything is being held in abeyance until after the primaries, and everybody—that is every republican, and that is nearly everybody—are interested in electing representative men for delegates to the county convention.

The cold waves that have visited the wheat belt during the past week and still on hand east of the Rockies, have stimulated the Chicago wheat market. Wheat took a sharp jump to 61 1/2 and dropped back to 60 1/4 cents per bushel, where it stopped at latest advices.

Last night the track at Reid's ranch, near Bonneyville, again went out by floods, altogether seven lengths of rail, including the new trestle bridge across the scene of trouble. No train from Portland can arrive today. Washouts east have also delayed trains from that direction.

Rev. E. D. Sutcliffe, who has been rector of St. Paul's parish for the past five years, will take his departure some time next month to occupy a larger field of usefulness near New York City. He has made many friends while here, who will all join in wishing him abundant success wherever his lot may be cast.

Counterfeit dimes made of aluminum are now being circulated in considerable numbers. The coins are a fine imitation of the real, and to take them singly it would puzzle any expert to detect the fraud. They have a clear ring and the only flaw is in the milling, as they vary slightly from the silver dime in size.

Col. Pat Donan has at last struck a snap, and a section of country which his wonderful pen cannot overboom, if we take the account for it published in the Globe-Democrat of recent date. This account of a new El Dorado in Virginia, brought to Col. Donan's notice, is published in another column in this issue.

Mr. E. B. McFarland and wife have just suffered another heart-rending loss by death. Their little 3-year-old boy, Henry, died this morning. The remains are expected to arrive on the passenger train tonight, to be interred by the side of his sister, who was buried only a few days ago. The family have now but two of their children left, six of them having passed away. They have the keenest sympathies of the entire community in their repeated misfortunes.

Mrs. Burden, of Athens, has sent an inquiry to Pendleton concerning three children, two girls and a boy, who were spirited away by her husband, from whom she is separated. The family resided formerly at Walla Walla, but she has been working at Athens to support herself and family. It is supposed the husband has gone East with the youngsters. The mother is reported to be nearly distracted over their disappearance.

Mad Because He Wasn't Drowned. While fishing on the bank of Stony creek, in Norristown, Pa., Johnnie Johnson, a lad of twelve years, tumbled in the water, and sank beneath the surface. Other boys saw him disappear, and they scampared away for aid. Johnnie struggled until he reached dry land and then took to his heels. Half an hour later he stood on the bridge, watching a crowd of men raking the water of the creek with grappling hooks. He became interested in the strange occupation of the men, never dreaming they were looking for his body. He remained on the bridge an hour until his clothes dried, and then descended to the creek bank, where the anxious crowd was watching the dragging of the stream. "What you doing?" inquired Johnnie of one who had just come out of the water. "Looking for Johnnie Johnson's corpse," replied the man. "He tumbled in there two hours ago." "Why, I'm Johnnie Johnson," said the astonished lad. Then he explained to the disgusted crowd of people who had been eager to see a limp body pulled from the creek, and had his ears well boxed for his pains.

Easter Whist.

Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Eshelman gave an Easter whist party to their lady friends yesterday afternoon. The rooms were very prettily decorated with flowers and Easter decorations. The afternoon was passed very pleasantly. After twenty games a delicious collation was served. All agree in pronouncing it one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. Those present were: Mesdames W Lord, F L Houghton, S L Brooks, J S Schenck, C N Thornbury, T A Hudson, O Kinsley, W L Bradshaw, H S Wilson, W H Wilson, J Hostetler, Mary French, J B Croseon, N B Sinnott, J S Fish, W H Hobson, E C Pease, F Bayley, O C Hollister, G C Blakeley, R G Davenport, F Sherman, H L Kuck, Hill, J Stewart, J M Marden, L E Crowe, A R Thompson, J H Phirman, H Glenn, C E Bayard, A S Bennett, H Morris, J F Snedaker, G F Sanders, W E Garretson, C L Phillips, Miss Lay, Miss Marden.

Mrs. O. C. Hollister won the first prize and Mrs. C. L. Phillips the booby.

Eastern Oregon for Investors.

Eastern investors who have been putting money into Kansas farms are now looking for a country where investments are more secure. They want to find a country where a large investment will yield a small certainty one year with another, not a country where a small investment runs a risk of a total loss. Such a class of people will find what they are looking for when they see the farm and fruit lands of Eastern Oregon. A few of the more speculative will find their opportunity in Eastern Oregon gold mines; and in one way and another this part of the country never had a better outlook for a class of immigration that will come with money and expecting to use it. Opportunities such as Oregon possesses will not long go begging—in fact, the process is being rapidly reversed, and people are beginning to hunt for Oregon.—La Grande Chronicle.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. H. Lauretson left for Portland this morning and will return Saturday evening.

Mr. Sam'l Wilkinson was a passenger on the Regulator for Portland this morning.

Mr. M. Randall was a passenger on the steamer Regulator this morning for Portland.

Hon. E. L. Smith of Hood River was in the city yesterday and returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cates returned to their home at Cascade Locks by steamer this morning.

Mr. John Brookhouse left this morning with several fine roadsters for Portland, where he hopes to dispose of them.

Mr. L. Frieman, formerly a merchant in this city, sold out his stock of merchandise and business at Cascade Locks to a new-comer. Mr. Frieman will make his future residence in Portland.

The Primaries.

The republican vote at the primaries today will be very large. The same state of affairs that made the elections of the East so overwhelmingly republican will be apparent in the far West, and this year republicans will not stay at home. It is not supposed, however, that the vote, as cast today, will represent the entire number of republican votes at the election, for there are hundreds of democrats, who will have no voice at the primaries, who will this year cast a vote for a republican administration from president to justice of the peace. The decided action noticed in today's primaries augurs well for success, and enthusiasm will increase until election day. Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together and victory is ours. It is the general desire to nominate the very best men in the party, and this year there is more good timber than ever.

Ask your grocer for Columbia Packing Co.'s smoked meats and lard. Insist on their prices and accept no substitute.

Useless Expenditures for the Military. The world supports nine million men in its standing armies and standing navies. A statistician computes that the money spent on these in excess of what is needed to provide them with the necessities of life would provide with such necessities half of the men now out of employment. He emphasizes the fact that the world's men militant receive fair pay in addition to their support and that the workmen who manufacture the arms and munition of war receive high wages.
