VETOED THE BILL

The President Unable to Longer Withstand the Great Pressure.

CANNOT PASS IT OVER THE VETO

Speculation as to How It Will Affect the Democratic Party—Other News Matters.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Cleveland has vetoed the seigniorage bill. Although the action is not a matter of surprise, considering his former outspoken sentiments upon financial topics, added to the fact of great outside pressure brought to bear upon him, his action was by no means a foregone conclusion. It is to be noted that he has given this question more serious attention than any other yet submitted to him, has discarded much of his hater, and given more courteous attention to both the advocates and opponents of the bill. His cabinet, too, have been divided upon the question. The great preponderance of opinion, however, from such financial centers as New York and Boston, it is conceded, has had most to do in influencing him to veto the bill. The veto is accompanied by a full explanation of his action, with a touch of apology and conciliation to his party.

There is much speculation already as to what effect the action will have upon the democratic party. As for Cleveland himself republicans are inclined to sympathy for him for being in an unexampled predicament, but a considerable number of democrats are boiling. The afternoon papers will be full of caustic comment for and against his action, one of them going so far as to intimate that he had his mind made up to veto the bill all along, but waited until the last day for a show of indecision. One effect that the action will have is generally acknowledged—that the democratic majority in congress are incapable of getting any measures passed of any importance.

Coxey in Chicago.
CHICAGO, March 28.—Coxey appeared at the horse sale at the stockyards, and was greeted by loud cheers and calls for a speech. Coxey's horses brought but $450, while he expected not less than $1,000, and with this for a clue he roundly scored existing conditions, charging the hard times to a "lack of money." This evil, he said, he proposed to remedy by compelling the government to issue bonds for $500,000,000. Coxey's Chicago lieutenant, Albert Mason, claims he will leave for the East Saturday. At present the 5,000 is represented by 21 men.

THE DENVER CONTINGENT.
DENVER, March 28.—The Denver contingent for Coxey's army met today and decided to take up the march for Washington Saturday morning. They number about fifty men, and expect to be reinforced at Colorado Springs and Pueblo. They will not walk, but expect to capture an east-bound freight train. Many of the men have no idea of going on to the national capital, but will desert the first time they have an opportunity of securing work.

Again on the March.
ALLIANCE, O., March 28.—Coxey's army broke camp, after a good night's rest on clean straw and a plentiful breakfast of fried ham and pork, bread and coffee, at 9 o'clock this morning, with 193 men in line by actual count. The next camp will be at Salem, 13 miles distant. It is scheduled to reach there by 2 p. m., but the thaw of yesterday, followed by the breeze of last night, has rendered the roads rough, and the end of the journey will probably not be reached on time.

The Ladies of Lexington Act.
LEXINGTON, March 28.—For the past week the ladies of the city and vicinity have been circulating a petition praying congress to expel Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge. The petition says his longer continuance in congress is a disgrace to Kentucky womanhood, which he has already dishonored, and that congress ought to at once expel him. The petition is signed by leading society ladies.

At Breckinridge's Request.
NEW YORK, March 28.—Dr. Paxton in a letter today, dated Allegheny City, Pa., says his tardiness in filling the marriage certificates of Colonel Breckinridge and Mrs. Wing was due to a request of Breckinridge.

A Murder by Children.
EL RENO, O. T., March 27.—A peculiarly horrible murder has just come to light by the confession of the youthful perpetrators. It was committed in Cheyenne county Saturday. A Mrs. Williams, it appears, had left her baby in care of its two younger brothers, Gibson, aged 6, and another boy still younger. During the mother's absence, Gibson slipped to the bed where the child lay and beat it to death with a club. After having killed the babe, the two boys dragged the body to the rear of the house, and were preparing to bury it when discovered. Gibson, though seemingly aware of the enormity of the deed, refuses to give his reasons for committing it.

Accused of Murder.
CARSON, Nev., March 28.—M. J. Carney arrived here last night from Antelope valley, and stated that Mrs. Strickland and her husband are under arrest, charged with the murder of Mrs. Eggleston some weeks ago at that place. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that she came to her death by being struck with a blunt instrument in the hands of Mrs. Strickland. Her husband, who is held as an accessory, will probably be released. Strong evidence against her is that the dress she wore the day of the murder is covered with blood stains which she could not account for. Carney is coroner and in a position to know the facts.

Sudden End of Life.
H. L. Darr committed suicide in Portland yesterday.

NEWS NOTES.
Mrs. L. A. Perrin of Denver, having registered as a voter, was drawn on the grand jury.

The Denver contingent of Coxey's army has proved a fizzle; Col. Hamilton has given it up in disgust.

The ladies of Tacoma's 400 gave a blackfaced minstrel entertainment for the benefit of local charities at Keeley's Ninth-street theater, to a packed house.

Robert W. Allen, an early pioneer of Klickitat county, died early this week at his home in Goldendale. He was 87 years of age. He has been ailing for the past year, and for the past two months has been in a helpless condition.

It is expected that today will be the great day of the Breckinridge trial, unless the cross-examination is too long drawn out. The silver-haired defendant himself will mount the rostrum and begin his version of the long intrigue.

The senate committee on foreign relations has under consideration a bill looking to a reorganization of the Nicaragua Canal Company, and friends of the enterprise in the senate are very hopeful of securing a favorable report at an early day.

Gov. Hogg severely censures the Southern Pacific for bringing 700 to 800 penniless men from California, known as Fry's army, and detaining them on a wild prairie in Texas. It is considered a heartless proceeding and the governor is applauded.

The Storm's Effects in the East.

The Oklahoma peach crop is ruined. It is reported from Mississippi that all vegetation is killed and fruit will be a failure.

It is conceded that the Texas fruit crop has been terribly injured, if not wholly wiped out.

Range riders report hundreds of dead animals scattered over the snow-covered surface of Wyoming.

Peaches in Southern Indiana were entirely killed before the cold spell. It killed cherries, apples, blackberries and early vegetables.

It is feared that the recent cold snap, following a season of warm weather, has greatly damaged the winter wheat crop throughout Illinois and the Middle states.

In Pennsylvania the blizzard has ruined vegetables, peaches and early cherries, and great damage has been done to pears, apples, apricots and plums.

It will take $500,000 to cover all the damage to fruit, early vegetables, wheat and oats in the section of Northern Georgia, Northern Alabama and lower East Tennessee.

In Delaware it is reported the peach crop is totally ruined, and other fruit prospects destroyed. In the grape-growing regions of Western New York the buds have been destroyed, and vast losses are feared in consequence.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. O. C. Stevens leaves on the train tonight for a two-months visit with her sons, near Condon, Gilliam county.

Mr. Knight of Grass Valley is dangerously ill. His daughter arrived from California this week to be present at the bedside.

Mr. E. B. McFarland's little child will be buried in Portland, as the transportation company refused to carry the remains to The Dalles.

SUDDEN END OF LIFE.

H. L. Darr committed suicide in Portland yesterday.

Hiram L. Darr, a capitalist and pioneer of Portland, committed suicide yesterday morning in a fit of temporary insanity, incident to illness and nervous prostration, from which he has been suffering for the past month.

The shocking and sanguinary act was committed at the home on the south side of Hawthorne avenue, East Side, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets.

He arose early in the morning and ate breakfast with the family about 7 o'clock. Shortly before 9 o'clock he remarked he thought he would lie down and go to sleep, and Mrs. Davidson, who lived in the house, placed a pillow on the sofa in the parlor and told him if he would lie down she would cover him up. He said he would cover himself in a little while and Mrs. Davidson left the room. She thinks not more than two minutes had elapsed when she heard the report of the gun with which he shot himself.

Urges for a Good Clean Ticket.

HOOD RIVER, March 26, 1894.

Editor CHRONICLE:

The Times-Mountaineer complains in a recent issue that "three prominent candidates were slaughtered at the last election," but the people complain loudly of some of those that were not slaughtered at the same time. The Mountaineer also says that Wasco county is republican; and so say I, Wasco county is republican, and if the next convention will take heed to itself, get the ideas out of their heads that the republican party is a charitable institution, drop the pensioners and political leeches, bounce the professional office-seeker, put up a good clean ticket of competent men, capable of filling in a business-like manner the offices to which they were elected; men who will not so readily forget that they are the servants of the people and not their masters; and let the convention not lose sight of the fact (proven) that a nomination is not an election in this county, if it is republican, and also that the voters have the last say as to who shall represent them in office, there is no trouble about electing the ticket if clean hands are held up, and ones that have not wearied our eyes for ages past.

REPUBLICAN.

An Educated Indian Dead.

PENDLETON, Ore., March 27.—Moses Minthorn, a celebrated Indian, died here today, aged 30. He was educated at the Forest Grove Indian school. He embraced Christianity early in life and joined the Presbyterian church. He was a delegate to the national conference at New York city one year ago, and had many friends among the whites. He was considered wealthy. Minthorn had been sick two years with consumption. The remains will be buried in the Indian burying ground on the reservation at 10 o'clock Thursday, the funeral services being conducted by his great friend, Rev. W. E. Potwine, of the Episcopal church.
