MARS' MONTH.

A Record of Lesser Events for the Thirty-one Days.

Ab, rare complexion that she had. This rose-checked dainty daughter: But when she washed her lovely face She left it in the water.

The river is still rising, the gauge marks 16.8, showing a rise of 2 feet within the past 24 hours.

In the report of delegates elected for East Dalles, the type made us say Geo. Ruch instead of Geo. Reed.

The new opera house will be opened by home talent in "Enlisted for the War," a very pretty comedy-drama.

D. C. Herrin and family expect to remove to The Dalles again in a few days, and will run the photograph gallery here.

The merchants of the city, by general consent, have decided to make Tuesday, the 3d, collection day for this time, instead of Monday, the 2d, as usually observed.

The peach crop in this section will be a good average. Mr. Geo. Krauss brought in some twigs this morning with more healthy blooms than it could support if all were allowed to grow.

Those precincts who formed a republican club after the primary are on the right track. Republicans need not be afraid of continuing the campaign of education through 1894.

Workmen are engaged putting up the cable for the new telephone line. The switch board has already been put up in Blakeley & Houghton's, enough for fifty subscribers.

The ladies prize for the dancing club of '94, to be awarded Saturday night, consists of a beautiful ladies' queen chain, and is on display in Garretson's show window, and the gents' prize is a handsome pair of sleeve buttons, which is displayed in Harry Liebe's show window.

The property used as a residence by Mr. Maloney and sons receives substantial improvement by the city's work at the Union street cut, and after the workmen quit at noon and in the evening the old gentleman and boys get out and help along the work and improve their lot at the same time by throwing rocks over into the street.

Representative Henderson followed the presentation of the president's veto message by submitting a bill for the coinage of the silver seigniorage. The text is the same as the Bland bill, omitting the second section and some of the explanatory language of the first section. It directs the secretary of the treasury to coin as fast as possible the silver seigniorage into legal tender standard dollars. The bill was referred to the coinage committee.

MADE.

DUFUR.

Mr. L. K. Dufur lost quite a valuable horse March 28th, of bots.

Miss Mary Douglass left Sunday for Eagle Creek, Oregon, for an extended visit to relatives.

Farmers are plowing at last and their countenances have quite a cheerful expression, once more.

It has been raining for two or three days raising the creek somewhat, but not enough we hope to hurt farming.

Henry and S. B. Johnston are grangers that don't let the grass grow under their feet. During the idle time they could not find enough work to do (!) so they cleared the sage-brush from T. H. Johnston's place preparatory for working.

Dr. L. Vanderpool died March 24, at his residence in Dufur of kidney trouble after an illness of a few weeks. Dr. Vanderpool was born in Missouri, June 28, 1831. He was married to Miss Mary Turnage in 1851 when soon after he crossed the plains to Oregon where he has lived up to the time of his death. He was the originator of the renowned S. B. remedies, and special doctor for cancer, for which he had great success in curing. Of his life we can only say by what we knew him to be. He was a noble, kind and unselfish man. His whole life seemed to have been devoted to the general good he could do to mankind. Wherever he went he carried sunshine, and was doubly welcomed in the sick-room for his cheerfulness of manner and sympathy. He took a general interest in all agricultural and educational pursuits. He was sick for several weeks and Tuesday, March 21st, he rallied and the anxious watchers had hopes of his being spared to them, but, Thursday he commenced to rapidly sink, when he dropped to sleep as it were, at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His death left a vacancy that can never be filled. It was his good fortune, when alive, to win friends wherever he went and all who knew him felt the blow of his death, and warmly sympathized with his stricken wife and children. People from all parts of the country came to have a farewell look at him who had been to all of them a sympathizing friend and wise counselor. The Masons, of which order he was a member, consigned his body, with their beautiful rites, to its final resting place. Good, old Dr. Vanderpool, we sadly miss your cheery face from among us, but God, in His infinite mercy, knows best. Though unseen you are with us constantly for,

"To live in hearts we leave behind, Is not to die."

QUIZ.

WAMIC.

We have had quite a shower of rain which has stopped the plows.

The funeral of Miss Daisy Rodman took place Wednesday and was well attended. In fact everyone turned out.

The republican primary was held at this place Wednesday, which was well attended, and resulted in the election of A. E. Lake, B. Savage, and S. G. Ledford as delegates to the county convention. Fred Chandler was placed in nomination for justice of the peace, and W. T. Hunt as constable. After the business was all attended to a republican club of thirty was formed. A resolution was put to the house by P. W. Knowles, as the Hon. W. R. Ellis has accomplished the extension of payment on our forfeited railroad lands, that they instruct the delegates to do all in their power to re-elect him, or vote for him first, last and always.
