FUN AT FUNERALS. Congressional Burial Junkets Not Wholly

Barren of Mirth. "Congressional funerals are not always the lugubrious events that is turned. Nothing can be "just generally supposed," said Representative McDowell, of Pennsylvania, according to the Washington Post, while in a reflective mood, addressing a group of his associates. "There have been some funerals of this sort that were quite lively. But while the last sad rites over a departed colleague are sometimes enlivened with sundry incidents, into which the festive game of poker enters as a prominent factor, and the hours of weary travel are playfully beguiled with anecdotes and champagne, as a rule a strict decorum is observed by all aboard when the last friendly escort is conveying the departed to his distant resting place. There is a good deal of mawkish sentiment expended in the case of some deaths, and it sometimes happens that the speaker inadvertently selects a funeral party whose members had no really keen interest in the dead. Under such circumstances I suppose it is natural that more levity than seems proper should enter into the solemnity of the occasion. But in most cases congressional funerals are quite as respectable as they should be."

A Combative Deer.

A West Virginia hunter, with gun and dog, while scouring the mountains for game, heard his dog howling some distance away in the woods. Arriving distance away in the woods. Arriving at the spot, he found the hound in furious combat with a buck. He fired, but missed, and before he could reload, the deer had gored the dog and charged him. The hunter nar owly escaped the rush, and in return dealt a blow with his gun, which did not appear to hurt the deer a particle, but did break hurt the deer a particle, but did break hurt the deer a particle, but did break the stock. The buck board as seen in northeastern New York, where it is in general use, is a vastly different vehicle from the buck board of the suburban region. Flight of the Swift.

As to the speed with which the migration flights, of birds are accomplished, Canon Tristram, in the British ish Association, quoted Herr Gatke as maintaining that godwits and plovers can fly at the rate of two hundred and forty miles an hour. Dr. Jerdon had stated that the spine-tailed swift, roosting in Ceylon, would reach the Himalayas, one thousand miles, before sunset. In their ordinary flight the swift was the only bird the author ever knew to outstrip an express train on the Great Northern railway.

DOUGLAS S. DOPUR. Recorder of Dalles City. HAD PREACHERS ENOUGH.

Stories That Are Funny, But a Little Doubtful. The story is related of a bishop who came to one of our state prisons and was told: "No need of you here, sir. We have eight preachers safely locked up who are brought out each Sabbath to minister to their fellow-prisoners." If this appear a doubtful 'tale, it can be varied with the following about a young lady Sunday-school teacher who has a class of rather bright boys, averaging between seven and nine years Recently she requested each pupil to come on the following Sunday with some passage of Scripture bearing upon love. The lads heeded the request and in turn recited their verses bearing upon that popular subject, such as "Love your enemies," Little children love one another," etc. The teacher said to the boy whose turn came last: "Well, Robbie, what is your verse?" Raising himself up, he responded: "Song of Solomon, second chapter, fifth verse: "Stay me with flagons,

The peasantry in the northern region of European Russia are in a pitifully impoverished condition, which is daily becoming more acute. The region most affected covers an area of not less than 375,000,000 acres. While the imperial government is formulating plans for the commercial and industrial development of this region by the building of railroad systems, the local governors are appealing for assistance to keep the people from actual starva tion. The people have not enough for bread to last them through the winter, They are four years in arrears with their taxes and are hopelessly indebted to the crown for advances made during and since the late famine
