The idea of an army of unemployed It happens every four years.

If Miss Pollard seduced Breckinridge, as Mrs. Bullitt believes, she has offered all reparation at her command. She has always stood ready to marry her victim.

The fools are not all dead yet. A man named Wade in Kentucky has christened a little daughter Madeline Pollard. What a horrible name for a young innocent babe.

Today is quite prominent for the week at The Dalles-the salmon fishing season opens, the state horticulturists meet, and the democratic convention convenes. Varied personal interests will decide the relative importance of each.

Prohibition is working in South Carolina just as it used to work in Massachusetts-provoking lawlessness and disorder. It is an un-American thing and cannot be made to fit into any scheme of popular government based on personal liberty.-Exchange.

be pulled out from under him next fall will be avenged.

Senator Hill's speech in congress will be read with considerable interest by republicans as well as democrats. His ity of the next house. antipathy to Mr. Cleveland is here given a chance for expression and he makes use of it. He charges the president with blundering in the Hawaiian business and says sometimes a blunder is worse than a crime. His selection of Gresham, as secretary of state is likewise vigorously condemned, and he wonders if there is not a democrat in the land competent to fill that position. He makes an especial fight against the income tax, and argues in favor of the Mills bill instead of the Wilson bill, claiming that it is more moderate.

Theaction of the South Carolina militia in refusing to obey the orders of Gov. Tillman casts odium upon the militia of contributed more largely in proportion the nation as a whole, and the question to their numbers than those of any city, may be pertinently asked: Is the so the national committee desired to militia to be relied upon in cases of have them placated, and Dan Lamont emergency, or will they weigh in their was sent here to do the placating. They own minds the merits of every insurrection against the state and regulate their filled the local offices with outsiders in actions by their conclusions? During his first term and that they wouldn't the late war and during any war it was the duty of a soldier to obey-it perwritted of no argument or questioning. The soldier or soldiers who did not obey were shot and at once. The destiny of an engagement was too doubtful to permit of any quibbling at the critical moment on the part of the soldiery over the merits of the case or what anyone might think. It is sufficient that the government reposes confidence and trust in the leaders, and they have no time Taylor, a colored Kansas democrat, to be nor is it expedient to discuss with their recorder of deeds for the District of Colarmy their plans and reasons. The umbia. When Secretary Lamont returns South Carolina militia have disgraced the state and the nation by unsoldierly conduct in refusing to uphold the laws, the confirmation of Taylor's nomination, whatever may have been the preponderance of public sentiment on the question. It constitutes a dangerous precedent and the question naturally arises: Are bodies of militia to be depended upon in cases of emergency? At any rate the populists of Oregon have now a reason a bill of his own and gave notice that he other than economy for the discontinuance of the militia. The United States substituted for the bill reported from the deserves an expression of opinion of the finance committee, which is now before South Carolina militia by the militia of the senate. WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Tariff Bill-A Promise of Dan La mount's Broken.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 6, 1894. Republican senators notified the democrats while Senator Allison was making Address all communication to "THE CHRON- his great speech against the tariff bill that they knew their rights and intended to maintain them during this debate and that any expectation of railroading the bill through the senate might as well be abondoned at the start. The democrats will put Senator Harris, of Tennessee, in charge of the bill because of their belief that his pushing qualities exceed those possessed by Senator Voorhees, whose position as chairman of the finance committee makes him the actual custodian of the bill. The recent elections have strengthened the determination of the republicans to fight the bill with every weapon at their command, the most of them believing that the 15,marching to Washington is nothing new. | 000,000 people affected by the bill will endorse the action that prevents the bill becoming a law.

> The house committee on banking and currency has favorably reported a bill subjecting greenbacks to state and municipal taxation. The silver men regard this bill with great favor, believing that it will, by making the greenbacks subject to the same taxes now imposed on gold and silver money in banks, result in largely increasing the amount of silver money in circulation. A similar bill has twice passed the senate without a dissenting vote.

It seems to be generally believed that the house, having failed to pass the coinage bill over the veto, will soon start in upon a silver fight over the free coinage bill, which it is understood will in a few days be reported from the coinage committee. To start this fight, how- Pansy Plants and Forget-Me-Nots, ever, will require a majority vote of the

Tom Reed seated Mr. Hilborn, of California. It took about ten days of hard work to get a voting quorum of democrats willing to commit these outrages. > Secretary Lamont will be called upon to make an explanation which will be very difficult for him to do as soon as he returns from his pleasant southern "inspection" tour. He made a promise in Cleveland's name, that has been violated by Mr. Cleveland. The story of the transaction may be summed up about as follows: Mr. Cleveland treated the democrats of Washington so shabbily during his first term that when he was nominated in 1892 the Washington democrats flatly retused to contribute a cent to help elect him. Now the Washington democrats had in previous campaigns told Lamont that Mr. Cleveland had his first term and that they wouldn't chip in to elect him again. Whereupon Dan Lamont pledged his word in behalf of Mr. Cleveland that no one should be appointed to an office in the District of Section 2. appointed to an office in the District of Columbia who was not a bona fide resident of the same, if the local democrats

They accepted the pledge, and broke all previous records for liberality; and this week the pledge has been broken by Mr. Cleveland, who nominated C. H. J. he will hear from the local democrats. Meanwhile they are working to prevent and judging from senators' talk they stand a good chance of succeeding.

The populists in the senate seem disposed to go it alone on the tariff bill. Some time ago Senator Peffer introduced D9. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT would at the proper time move that it be Allen, of Nebraska, introduced an amendment to the tariff bill which makes a general and material reduction coinage of silver. The question of a free coinage amendment to the tariff bill is causing the administration much anxiety. It will be remembered that Senasale by Blakeley & Houghton, drug-bill passed the house of his intention to offer a free coinage amendment.

Whenever a democrat in congress gets too lively it is only necessary to say one word-"elections"-to make him as glum as a discarded lover. The returns from this week's elections only added to the certainty felt by republicans in congress If you want any kind of garden seeds, of controlling the next house and electgrass seed or field, call at H. H. Camp- ing the next president. The republicans bell's, where you can get what you have added to the democratic humiliawant at reasonable rates. Next door to tion by laughing at their weak attempts to make light of the storm of popular indignation against the incompetency of the democratic party.

A Convict in an English Prison Who Kept His Promise Faithfully.

A firm of bankers in London have made a profitable investment. little time ago a man who had de-frauded them of a considerable sum of money was taken into custody, convicted and sentenced to a long term of servitude. The change affected him in many ways, says the Newcastle Chronicle, but he complained more particularly of the effect the food had upon his teeth. They were neither numer ous nor in good condition when he was sentenced, and as they rapidly grew worse he applied to the authorities for a new set. He was told that the government did not supply convicts with artificial teeth, and at the first opportunity he wrote to the banking firm in question, offering, if they would send him a new set, to give them some valuable information.

Thereupon, the bankers, thinking the offer might be a genuine one, sent the governor of the prison a check for five pounds and asked him to supply the convict with a set of artificial teeth. In due course the convict kept his promise and sent the bankers certain information by means of which they were chabled to recover no less than fifteen hundred pounds of which they had been defrauded.

ITS TERRITORY. It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles. The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here. The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these orner stones she stands.
