But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy!
For the apparel oft proclaims the man."
—Hamlet.

Before selecting the manufacturer from whom to purchase our finer Clothing for Spring, we looked over many different lines, and after much study and careful deliberation, finally chose the Suitings which we now present for your inspection. The manufacturer from whom we purchased having also retail establishments in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other large Eastern cities, where they cater to the best retail trade, must necessarily be in close touch with the times, and our goods are therefore all that can be asked for as regards style, cut, fit and finish. Make your selection from our stock and you will be wearing suits similar in design, cut by the same tailors, as the well-dressed men walking down Broadway, New York City.

The salmon season opened last night at 12 o'clock. As far as is known, the law was fully complied with. The reports from the several wheels and other appliances for the catch, not a fish was caught, contrary to expectations. The river is muddy and rising and that may account for the failure.
Copies of the Arlington Record are being distributed with a long account of the miraculous cure of a "drunken old soldier." Rats! If he had kept his subject with him all the time instead of those seven days he (the subject) perhaps would not have made so many bad breaks. We would give a bit to hear the writer of that yarn read it to a Lexington congregation. That dodge is played out, Elder. Try something new.—Lexington Cor. in Gazette.

A Correction.

Editor CHRONICLE: In your issue of the 7th, inst., in speaking of the extension of time for the payment of taxes, you say: "After consultation with the district attorney, and an opinion rendered by him, the court concluded that he could not legally extend the time for payment of taxes without invalidating the roll." This is directly the reverse of the opinion I gave the court. I have said all along and say yet, that an extension would not invalidate the roll; that the law fixing the time for the return of the roll is directory, not mandatory, and a strict compliance therewith is not required. While an order extending the time would be harmless, I think it would be without any binding force. In other words, it would amount to no more than a recommendation to the sheriff to allow further time, and the sheriff might obey it or disregard it at his option. This being the case, and the sheriff expressing a willingness not to make any additional expense before May 1st, the court thought it advisable to issue the warrant at this time and so ordered.

For sheriff Henry Phirman of The Dalles and L. E. Morse of Hood River were placed in nomination. Throughout the counting of ballots there was almost an oppressive stillness, and the tie was maintained between the two men almost to the close. Eighty-nine ballots were found, of which Phirman received 42, Morse 46, blank 1, and Morse was declared the nominee of the convention.

For county treasurer, R. E. Williams and Orion Kinerly were nominated. The result was Williams 48, Kinerly 40.
