

THE FLYING FISH.
Some Interesting Facts Concerning This Curious Creature.

A very common error made in natural histories where this fish is mentioned is that it does not fly. "Its supposed flight is nothing more than a prolonged leap; it cannot deviate from a straight line, and cannot rise a second time without entering the water." This, briefly, is the sort of thing one meets with in textbooks where reference is made to this fish.

The simplest way of dealing with it is the professor's method of answering the query of the French academy whether their definition of a crab was correct. The story is so well known that it does not need repetition. As the result of personal observation extending over a good many years, I assert that the exocoetus does fly.

I have often seen, says a writer in Chambers' Magazine, a flying fish rise two hundred yards off, describe a semi-circle, and, meeting the ship, rise twenty feet in the air, perpendicularly, at the same time darting off at right angles to its previous course. Then, after another long flight, when just about to enter the water, the gaping jaws of a dolphin emerging from the sea gave it pause and it rose again, returning almost directly upon its former course. This procedure is so common that it is a marvel it is not more widely known.

A flying fish of mature size can fly a thousand yards. It does not flap its fins as a bird, but they vibrate, like the wings of an insect, with a distinct hum. The only thing which terminates its flight involuntarily is the drying of its fin membranes and their consequent stiffening.

of improvements—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. To begin with, they're the smallest, and the easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Every child is ready for them.

Then, after they're taken, instead of disturbing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, easy and natural way. There's no chance for any reaction afterward. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're put up in glass vials, which keeps them always fresh and reliable, unlike the ordinary pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes.

And they're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

"BISHNESS IS BISHNESS."
Motto of the Founder of the English Branch of the Rothschild Firm.

Those who have read "Todd's Student's Manual"—it would do the boys a world of physical and moral good to read it—will recall his illustration of the value of doing small deeds. He describes a coat of arms which represented a mountain and a man with a pickaxe, digging away. The motto was: "Peu a peu, 'little by little.'"

The great financier who founded the English branch of the famous Rothschild firm of bankers worked upon the lines marked out by this coat of arms.

Among his "clients" was one of the "chosen people," a young broker. One day the business he had to transact was on so small a scale that he took it to a less famous house.

Rothschild soon heard of the transaction—he had a way of hearing of everything done on 'change—and when next he met the broker, he rebuked him for not coming to the house of Rothschild.

"Oh, sir," answered the broker, "I thought a matter of eighteen pence too small to bring to your house."

"Ah, but bishness is bishness," replied the great banker.

Mrs. Rothschild thought with her husband. She was generally in the counting room, keeping the books, and wearing two watches, displayed at the waist, according to the then ostentatious fashion.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
By virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County, upon a decree and judgment made, rendered and entered by said court on the 5th day of March, 1894, in favor of the plaintiff, in a suit wherein Louis Klingler was plaintiff and A. Mowery, Isaac Mowery, Mathias Mowery, David Mowery, Maria Brady, Catherine Williams, R. P. Gibson and L. Vanderpool were defendants, and to me directed and delivered, commanding me to levy upon and sell all the lands mentioned and described in said writ, and hereinafter described, I did on the 15th day of March, 1894, duly levy upon, and will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand, on Monday, the 16th day of April, 1894, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the front door of the County Court House in Dalles City, in Wasco County, Oregon, all of the lands and premises described in said writ and herein described as follows, to-wit:

The southwest quarter (SW 1/4) of section twenty-six (26), in township one (1) south of range fourteen (14) east of Willamette meridian, containing 160 acres, more or less of land, situated in Wasco county, Or., together with the improvements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise pertaining, or so much thereof as shall be sufficient to satisfy the sum of $204, with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum since the 5th day of March, 1894; $50 attorney's fee and $40.00 costs in said suit, together with costs of said writ and accruing costs of sale.

T. A. WARD,
March 17/94. Sheriff of Wasco County, Oregon.
Acted at Dalles City, Or., March 15, 1894.

Gold in Ireland.
All authorities agree in stating that the ancient inhabitants of Ireland must have been very familiar with gold and well accustomed to its use. Native gold occurs in geological deposits in many parts of Ireland. Until lately the gold mines of Wicklow were the most productive of the British Isles, and besides this there are six other known gold-producing localities—Antrim, Derry, Tyrone, Kildare, Dublin and Wexford. It is probable, however, that many of the earlier auriferous deposits have been worked out or are unknown. It is a fact that no country in Europe possesses so much manufactured gold belonging to early ages as Ireland. In the museum of the Royal Irish academy alone there are nearly four hundred specimens of Irish gold antiquities. The gold antiquities in the British museum, without exception, Irish. The museum of Trinity college, Dublin, contains many fine examples, and there are several large private collections. But there is no doubt that much greater quantities of gold ornament than are now known as existing have been lost forever.

Duties of the French Academy.
The Academie Francaise was founded by Cardinal Richelieu in 1635, lived long enough to snub Corneille and Moliere, was abolished in 1793, was revived two years later and made a useful body by Napoleon in 1808. Since then it has been a part of the Institute of France. It elects its own members, who are now known as the forty immortals. Its duties are to preserve the purity of the French language, to encourage and preserve French literature and to distribute several queer prizes, such, for instance, as two thousand dollars each year to that member of the working class who has performed the most virtuous action of the year, and three hundred dollars every other year to the rising genius who is considered to be most in need of and most worthy of encouragement. The members are supposed to meet twice a week, and are paid three dollars and eighty-seven cents—a napoleon—for every meeting they attend. They receive, besides, a salary of three hundred and sixty dollars a year. Zola, who has been rejected some six or seven times, holds to the tradition that membership in the academy is the highest literary honor that can be bestowed upon a Frenchman.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten-fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

UNFIT FOR OFFICE.
Disqualification of a Former Candidate for Kentucky's Gubernatorial Chair.

A former governor of Kentucky used to tell some good stories about his experiences in canvassing the state previous to his election to that office. One day he stopped at a small weather-beaten house about noon, and the mistress of the place brought forth for his delectation a huckleberry pie of generous dimensions and most excellent taste.

"Why, madam," said the would-be governor, after he had taken a few mouthfuls with evident relish, "this is really a most delicious pie. And may I ask what the fruit is which has such a pleasant flavor?"

"Who now," said the woman, beaming with gratification. "I reckon you don't need to ask me that! I reckon you know what's in that pie, without me tellin' you."

"Indeed, I must plead ignorance," replied the guest; "the taste is unfamiliar to me."

"Well, I declare!" ejaculated the woman; "don't you raise huckleberries in your part o' the kentry? Ain't you acquainted with 'em?"

"It may be," replied her guest, smiling, "but I have never eaten a huckleberry pie before."

"Well," she said, in evident amazement, "I dunno about you! Up for governor, and don't know huckleberries! I mistrust you ain't fit for office."

And with a dubious shake of her head she cut a second quarter of the pie for the disqualified candidate.
