THE VALUE OF SILVER.

The ratio "16 to 1" indicates that 16 ounces of silver equals in value one ounce of gold, and the populists want to establish that as the ratio by their peculiar flat principle: Sixteen to one comes far from representing the intrinsic value of silver to gold, for in bullion the market value is 32 to 1, and consequently there is now but 48 cents worth of silver in a dollar, since the ratio of 1516 to 1 is the present ratio observed in the coinage of silver. Every silver dollar is therefore a lie. It is not worth 100 cents, only that the government shoulders the burden by making it receivable at face value for public dues. But it is credit money nevertheless, and loses its worth outside of the immediate boundaries of the United States. The design of the constitution in first coining the silver dollar was to make it worth 100 cents, and in 1792 it was was worth intrinsically 100 cents. Then the market value of the bullion was as 151/2 to 1. Later, in 1834, the market value of the bullion was 16 to 1, and the government, still recognizing scrupulous honesty, put a little more silver in the dollar to correspond with the decline in value. Now the ratio is 32 to 1, and if pace had been kept with the decline. the silver dollar would now contain twice as much silver as it does. By recalling previous issues and coining silver at the changed basis, the silver dollar would not be today the despised metal it is. We should have true bimetalism.

Silver-tongued orators will henceforth be looked upon with suspicion.

Two years more of this brilliant administration and we will probably not have any gold or silver either to squabble over.

The republican state ticket before the people is the best that any convention ever made. The nominees are as good as elected. A large number of democrate will support it. They have had enough of "change."

were vastly higher than those affected by men, their height being from eichteen inches to two feet, thus becoming more of the nature of stilts than anything else. Strangely enough, many years after a similar fashion came into vogue in Venice; but the motive in this case was comically different, for "by its means jealous husbands thought they would be able to keep their wives at home." The supports of such shoes in Venice were called "chimneys," and to appease the vanity of the ladies, and doubtless also to sugar the pill, were made highly ornate. The height of these chimneys determined the rank of the wearer, an extra coating for the pill, "the noblest dames being permitted to wear them one-half yard or more high."

Life After Forty.

The best half of life is in front of the man of forty if he be anything of a man. The work he will do will be done with the hand of a master, and not of a raw apprentice. The trained intellect does not see "men as trees walking," but sees everything clearly and in just measure. The trained temper does not rush at work like a blind bull at a haystack, but advances with the calm and ordered pace of conscious power and deliberate determination. To no man is the world so new and the future so fresh as to him who has spent the early part of his manhood in striving to understand the deeper problems of science and life, and who has made some headway toward comprehending them. To him the commonest things are rare and wonderful, both in themselves and as parts of a beautiful and intelligent whole. Such a thing as staleness in life and its duties he cannot understand. Knowledge is always opening out before him in wider expanses and more commanding heights. The pleasures of growing knowledge and increasing power makes every year of his life happier and more hopeful than the last.

Wasco County, - - - Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cas-cades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
