Gov. McKinley put into words what is in the minds of many when he said: A general election was never before so much needed. The altogether too comthat the country will prosper equally ference has been shown to be so vast as to fill the country with astonishment.

The La Grande Chronicle is a friend to the initiative and referendum. In its issue of the 17th it says: The initiative and referendum is gradually working its way into recognition, as is evidenced by the fact that it has received endorsement by many of the county conventions way in a sort of negative manner—that one, and was commenced in 1839 and it is not coming to the front with a whoop, but it is coming fo the front just the same, because there are valid objections urged against it to impede its throughout the state. It is making its Anne. The present building is the third progress. In due course of time it will become a fixture, because it is just and right. All the good that can be done in the country must come from the people, and when the whole people have the right to express themselves there will be no danger of a verdict that will be adverse to the whole people. The principle of the initiative and referendum is in harmony with the spirit of true democracy, and it will in the end become an established feature.

The Oregonian thus comments on the platform adopted by the state democratic Can be found at Jacobsen's Music store, No. 162 appeals ingeniously to every form of public discontent, whether real or immaginary. Nothing but its connection with the national administration; that is nothing but the personality of Cleveland gives color of democracy to this platform. But for that any populist might stand upon it more fitly than Mr. Galloway. The platform does not endorse Cleveland, however. It damns him with faint recognition of his sin-ALL THE NEWS TWICE A WEEK.

cerity and good intentions. The platform temporizes on the tariff question by abusing the republicans. It is careful not to denounce protection as unconstitutional nor to demand a tariff for revenue only. So far it is in harmony with the administration. For the rest POTTED PLANTS, ROSES, &c. it is purely populist. It declares for silver mometallism and the income tax. It indorses the alien fad of the initiative and referendum. In state matters, it fishes in the muddy waters of discontent, demanding re-enactment of the morgage tax law, desiring to retain all the clumsy and obstructive features of the present ballot law, patting Judge Caldwell on the back and denouncing republicans for extravagant appropriations for which it is very probable that many members of the convention voted. Some of the best planks of the platform are borrowed from the republicans. There is one, however, which might well have been in the republican platform, and which will receive public approval without distinction of party. That is the demand for legislation for protection

Sketch of Wall Street.

Wall street was so named in 1687 by the Dutch Burghers, who built a stockade or wall on the north side of the street to prevent Indians attacking citizens. The British were forced to evacuate in 1784. About six years later, twenty-four merchants began meeting under an old cottonwood tree at No. 60, and began buying and selling bank and public stocks or the revolutionary currency called "shinplaster." May 17, 1792, the twenty-four merchants agreed and signed the following document, which still holds in force:

"We, the subscribers, brokers for the purchase and sale of public stock, do hereby solemnly promise and pledge ourselves to each other, that we will not buy or sell from this date for any person whatsoever, any kind of public stock atla less rate than one quarter per cent. commission on the specie value of amount; that we will give a preference to each other in our negotiations. In testimony whereof we have set our hands this 17th day of May, at New York, 1792." Lend. Bleecker, Hugh Smith, Sam. Marsh, Bernard Hart,

Dates of various Wall street panics and important events from 1814 to 1816. In 1835 the great fire destroyed many buildings. In 1837 sixty banks suspended, owing about $150,000,000. Liabilities of merchants and others increased the aggregate to about $440,000,-000. The gossip reported of the time was that "they were all in the same boat and paid or collected but one cent on the dollar, the legal iraternity being the only ones benefited." In 1857 the No. 172 First Street, FORTLAND ORE. failure of the Ohio Life and Trust company bank started a third extensive liquidation in America. President Abraham Lincoln was shot April 15, 1865. THEDALLES Wasco County, - - - Oregon, The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city. ITS TERRITORY. It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here. The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS. The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH. It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its pos-sibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.

THE CELEBRATED COLUMBIA BREWERY AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop'r.

This well-known Brewery is now turning out the best Beer and Porter east of the Cascades. The latest appliances for the manufacture of good health ful Beer have been introduced, and on y the first-class article will be placed on
