TROOPS ORDERED OUT

Executive Action Is justified After Explanation.

COXEYITES LIABLE TO CONTEMPT

In Stealing the Northern Pacific Train—They Resisted the Federal Courts.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—As there has been manifested already in congress a disposition to criticize the president's action in ordering out United States troops to stop Hogan's train, it may be proper to set forth the facts that influenced the executive branch of the government in this matter.

First, it appears that the Hogan party, 500 strong, applied to the Northern Pacific railroad authorities for transportation free to Washington. This was refused by the receivers, then the men broke into a round house, captured an engine and made up a train. At this stage the railroad authorities applied for and obtained from the federal court an injunction to restrain them. The authority for this was the fact that the railroad is now in the hands of the United States and the courts will be responsible for its management through the receivers. The Hoganites disregarded the injunction and the court issued writs of arrest against them for contempt of court. When the United States marshal sought to serve this writ, he with his deputies was locked up by the Hoganites and the party ran away with the train, headed for Washington.

The judge and United States marshal telegraphed for aid to Attorney General Olney. The latter saw the president and General Schofield was called into consultation. It was soon settled that there was a warrantable necessity for executive action. The property seized was within federal control and the mob had resisted the mandates of the federal courts. Sections 5,297 to 5,316 of the revised statutes authorize the use of federal troops to suppress insurrections, rebellions and conspiracies which prevent enforcement by judicial process or civil process of the laws of the United States. There was no ground for the interference of the governor or state authorities of Montana, for the matter was offensive against federal statutes. The president therefore issued orders to Col. Swain at Fort Keogh to intercept the law breakers, arrest them and turn them over to the United States marshal for such action and punishment as the court may prescribe. Fortunately this point is one of the strongest garrisons in the northwest, comprising about 500 men.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—Colonel Mason, of the third infantry commanding at Fort Snelling, has been ordered to hold the entire command in readiness to move at a moment's notice, and similar orders have been sent to all military posts in the northwest.

The Butte Contingent Captured.

FORESYTHE, Mont., April 26.—The Montana army of the commonwealth, 650 strong, came in from the west at 10:45 last night. Its leaders gave it out that the train would remain here until morning. Colonel Page, with a company of 250 infantrymen on a special train, arrived shortly after midnight and found Coxeys' army asleep in box cars. The surprise was so complete the Coxeysites gave up without a struggle.

GREAT NORTHERN STRIKE.

Negotiations Between President Hill and the Strikers Failed.

ST. PAUL, April 26.—The outlook in Great Northern affairs is the men will not go into conference with President Hill again, and under no circumstances accept his proposition for arbitration and go to work pending a settlement. In the event of their not again conferring they will send a note to Hill notifying him that they do not propose to tie up the road the entire length. Hill today said he had waited long enough for the men. The people along the line demanded service, and he proposed to give it to them. "I have men enough to man the road," he said, "and the militia have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness."

Tariff in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The democratic members of the senate committee on finance held a meeting today for the purpose of conferring over the proposed changes in the tariff bill. Secretary Carlisle was before the committee. There is no room for doubt the committee has agreed upon a policy, but all parties to the conference are very reticent. It is known the income-tax bill has been altered so as not to discriminate against persons who derive their income from incorporations or business partnerships. Other changes have also been made, which it is believed will satisfy its opponents. It is believed also amendments to many schedules have been agreed to. Secretary Carlisle is in sympathy with the efforts of the committee to obtain a bill that will surely pass by a party vote, and there is good reason for believing the movement has the sanction of the president.

The Blythe Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—It is estimated that the Blythe estate, the disposition of which the supreme court has just finally decided, is worth about $4,000,000. Out of this sum the costs of litigation and other expenses, which the successful claimant, Florence Blythe, estimates will be about 40 per cent, will have to be paid, leaving the large sum of $2,000,000 or thereabouts at Florence's disposal.

FORMIDABLE NAMES.

The Complicated Nomenclature of European Nobility.

It is customary on the continent of Europe to bestow several baptismal names upon a child, only one of which is used ordinarily in after life—usually the first in the list. In France, as well as in some other European countries, the bestowal of any other baptismal name than one belonging to the Christian saints or taken from the Bible or from the name of persons of mythology or ancient times is forbidden by law.

No child can be given a name which is the surname of a living person—not even that of the president of the republic.

Though it is customary to use but one of the Christian names which are bestowed it is necessary to give the entire list on certain formal or official occasions. Lately in Paris an Italian gentleman, M. Campagna des Barons de Sartana, was naturalized a French citizen, and on this occasion his full name had to come out. It was as follows:

Vincenzo Salvatore Maria Genaro Francesco-de-Sales Francesco-d'Assisi Francesco-de-Paolo Rocco Michele Crocifisso Emidio Pasquale Giovanni Giuseppe Gerardo Carlo Gaetano Alfonso Ciro Andrea Luigi Gioran Giuseppe Gerardo Antonio di Pava Antonio-Abatte Campagna des Barons de Sartana.

All these names up to "Campagna" are given names; the rest constitute the surname, which is sufficiently long in itself. The Christian names are twenty-six in number. Several of them consist of the combined given names and surnames of distinguished persons, after the manner of a certain English child who, at the request of his parents, was baptized "Sir Henry Havelock General Wolseley Prince Albert Jones."

The Sex of Rabbits.

Does the common hare or rabbit change its sex with the season? I know that this seems like asking a very foolish question, but if you will investigate the matter you will find that there is something in it after all. Lyly, the English dramatist, in his "Midas," says: "Hares we cannot be, because they are male one year and female the next." Topsell's "History of Four-Footed Beasts" bears out a similar idea, and most of the ancient writers on natural history give us to understand that hares are bisexual. I have often heard old hunters claim that no man ever saw a male hare in summer or a female in winter!

DUFUR.

House cleaning now must surely be done. Won't we have a picnic and lots of fun? Tearing up everything all out of place! Then see the men put on a long face! They must take up the carpets and then what next? Pulling down stovepipes, don't they look vexed?

Mr. Powell is building a house on his lot in Johnston's addition.

The farmers have their grain most all in and are rolling it in some places.

Our butcher Eli Hinman has left to be gone for some time on a shearing expedition.

Gardening is the order of the day, and thrifty housewives are busy planting corn, peas, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Humbert have gone to Portland where Mrs. Humbert is to be placed under the doctor's care for some time.

Miss Lizzie Lang of Portland is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Johnston. Little Hazel Johnston has been quite sick with tonsillitis, but is some better.

Dr. Deitrick went to Portland Tuesday to assist in a surgical case. He thinks of moving his family to our town to make his future home among us.

Wednesday, a welcome visitor in the form of a beautiful April rain, came, which will be much appreciated, as the grain needs more moisture to sprout. We see no reason why the coming harvest will not be all that can be hoped for, as prospects are fine at present.

Mr. A. K. Dafur and Amos Gregg are going to have a fruit farm on a large scale. They have set out about 400 strawberry plants and 400 plum trees, with the expectation of selling more prunes. So Dafur will have a fruit farm in her own vicinity and we can soon obtain fruit (that is as soon as they bear) without going almost to The Dalles.

The fruit trees are gay in their spotless robes of pink and white, and the air is laden with their sweet perfume, while the barn yard is spotted with the little downy chicks, ducklets and goslings, which shows that even nature with the assistance of man, is doing her best to give bountiful harvest of animals for the use of mankind, as well as fruits and cereals.
