An International Hymn

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing!
Land where th- wheels are tiod,
Land where industries died,
And to the English side
100k rapid wing.

My native country, thee, Land to which paupers fiee, Thy name I love! I love thy Cleveland frills, Thy no trade tariff bills, Thy Greshams Smiths and Mills, Born from above.

Let mu-ic swell the breeze!
Democrats to your knees
And swell the song!
Let those who brought this fate
Their medicine take straight
And three years longer wait
To right the wrong.

Our father, Grover C.,
Mogul of misery,
To thee we sing!
Bear with us if you can,
But if not like a man,
Say you don't care a damn
For any thing,
Norwich Bulletin.

A PATRIOTIC VIEW.

The man who is able to see nothing out gloom and disaster ahead does not understand the character of the American people and has read the history of the country to small advantage. We have passed through periods of depression quite as severe as that from which the country has been 'suffering for the dast twelve months. It is true that the present depression presents some unique features. - As was said by General Harrison, the gathering and marching to Washington from all quarters of the country of so called armies of unemployed men is a spectacle that our country has never witnessed before, and it is one that demands serious consideration, but there have been periods in the past when great numbers of workingmen were left idle and when distress and discontent were almost as general as now, yet the country went safely through these trials and renewed with increased zeal the march of progress. Twenty-and to all interests. There was a depleted National treasury and the public credit was at its lowest point. Every kind of private enterprise came to a halt. There was widespread distrees. The conditions favorable to recovery were then not so many nor so good as now, yet recovery came, and when the blow was struck that called the country to arms there was fair promise of an era of prosperity. General Harrison could undoubtedly have suggested a method of escape from existing conditions, for it is obvious to every man of ordinary intelligence. Stop the warfare against the protective policy and abandon all financial schemes which threaten the stability of the currency and there will follow at once a restoration of confidence which will start up the idle mills and factories, give employment to labor, halt the industrial armies, put an end to labor conflicts and bring in an era of general prosperity.

If Florence was never Blythe before she will be now.

The man who had the pop corn concession at the world's fair made enough out of it to build a row of flats in Chicago. Very often it is the little things that make the most money.

Miss Pollard denies that she thinks of going on the stage, and says that she does not care to pose before the public. Her desire for seclusion will be respected with a unanimity that will surprise

The spectacle of Chinese coming in at the Golden Gate and white men going East by the railroad is not inspiring. There seems to be room for the Chinese but only "God-speed for the parting (white) guests." The fact that thousands in the west are eager to come and fill places the people of our own country turn from with impatience goes far to show that even troubles of the past year have not brought us to an industrial level with other nations. The mistake is being made by our people who go east. Except to those who return to homes there is a better prospect of work in this state than in any Eastern state. The season is now close upon us when there will be work for every pair of hands in the state.-S. F. Call.

It covers a good deal of ground—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. And when you hear that it cures so many diseases, perhaps you think "its too good to be true."

but its only reasonable. As a blood-cleanser, flesh-builder, and strength restorer, nothing like "Discovery" is known to medical science. The diseases that it cures come from a torpid liver, or from impure blood. For everything of this nature, it is the only guaranteed remedy. In dyspepsia, biliousness; all bronchial, throat and lung affections; every form of scrofula, even consumption (or lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, and in the most stubborn skin and scalp diseases—if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

NEW IMPROVED

Fire Lighter.

NEVER WEARS OUT.

A great labor- and money-saver, as it does awap with the necessity for kindling of any description in starting either wood or coal fires. It is always ready for use, and a most convenient house hold contrivance.

Directions for Use.

Take a can and put in sufficient coal oil to cover the lighter, which should remain in the oil for three or four minutes. Then light with a match and place in front of or under the grate. If the blaze goes directly to the fuel, the fire will be quickly started. Keep the lighter in the can of oil and it will always be ready for use.
