

AN IRISH VILLAGE.

The Emerald Isle's Exhibit at the Columbian Exhibition.

Leading Industries of Ireland to Be Displayed by Pensive Lads and Lassies from Their Respective Localities.

All visitors to the world's fair will doubtless want to inspect the Irish village which is being arranged under the auspices of the countess of Aberdeen and Mrs. Ernest Hart. The latter gives the following outline of what it will contain:

"We shall have seven cottages in which peasant girls and lads from Donegal and elsewhere will be seen at work, weaving, spinning, dyeing, sprigging, carving, etc. The girls will look very pretty in Connemara red petticoats, fishwife skirts and blouses, and scarlet cloaks. In the first cottage will be a precise model of a cottage in Donegal, with undressed walls of granite, with a hooded fireplace and dresser full of bright crockery; a girl will be seen dyeing and spinning our famous Hand-and-Heath homespuns, the wool of which she gets from the lichens and heather of her native bog outside. On this the dyer will from time to time place her iron potato-pot, and proceed to dye the wool. This operation is certain to prove immensely attractive to sight-seers, and, as well as the carding, spinning and bobbin-filling, which will be shown here, is an extremely interesting process.

"In the second cottage there will be linen weaving and embroidering of the famous Kells art embroidery; whilst linen damask weaving on a Jacquard handloom and fringe-knotting will go on in the third cottage. Between this and the next cottage there will be a model dairy, in which dairy maids will be at work churning and butter-making. I can assure our American cousins they will have a chance of some good butter, as we shall send over some of the world-famed Kerry cows, which will be stabled at the rear. There will also be a pleasant, cool spot here where visitors can rest and drink iced milk.

"In the fourth cottage, which is under the special care of the Irish Industries association, every description of Irish lace will be shown. There will be a Limerick lace worker at her frame, the Torchon lace worker at the pillow, the numerous varieties of point lace, and so forth.

"Sprigging and veining, which are employed in the production of the beautiful hemstitched handkerchiefs of Belfast, will be shown in the next cottage. The girls of Donegal are especially noted for their exquisite and delicate work. We have not quite definitely decided about the two remaining cottages, but we shall probably show in the seventh the wood-carving industry in Ireland, which has reached a really remarkable degree of development when one remembers the workers and teachers are peasant-lads. You should see the set of owls carved by some of my own boys for Lady Aberdeen last year. The expression of the owls' faces, as well as the execution, was excellent. Other features of our Irish industrial village will be a replica of Donegal castle, an old well and other interesting Celtic memorials. I believe the Irish village will be successful; we shall certainly do our best to make it so."

THE BEASTS OF KANSAS.

A Novel and Interesting Exhibit for the World's Fair.

Kansas will make at the world's fair a notable exhibit of its native animals. The specimens are being prepared by Prof. L. L. Dyche, of the Kansas State university, one of the most skillful of living taxidermists. The exhibit will consist of at least four hundred animals, and will include a fine group of ten Rocky mountain sheep, seven Rocky mountain goats, nine moose, eight elk, seven antelope, five caribou, five buffalo and twelve deer including mule, white-tailed, Virginia and others; eight wolves, timber and coyote; five mountain lions, six bears, twelve foxes, including a beautiful silver gray; besides a large number of lynx, wildcats and other smaller animals.

At Chicago the exhibit will be divided into fifteen groups. It will occupy a room 88x50 feet and the entire floor space is to be built up to represent a natural landscape, with rocks, grass, cacti, willows, quaking asp and natural fir and evergreen trees. On each side of the wing will be built a tall cliff and in between a valley with a running stream of water, a lake and swamp. On the back it is intended to have a panoramic painting, continuing the effect of the scenery of the foreground and giving distance to the scene. Each group of animals will be placed among surroundings imitative of their native haunts; the moose will be seen in natural positions in the swamp; the goats and sheep on the rocky cliffs and the buffalo on a buffalo grass prairie. One feature of the exhibit will be "Comanche," Gen. Custer's famous war horse, that has been mounted by the professor within the last year.

He Pants for Fame.

The Guthrie State Capital says that a boy in the Wichita schools has been suspended for reading the following essay on "Pants:" "Pants are made for men and not men for pants. Women are made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man they are a pair of pants. Such pants don't last. Pants are like molasses; they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. The man in the moon changes his pants during the eclipse. Don't you go to the pantry for pants, you might be mistaken. Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes make breeches of promise. There has been much discussion as to whether pants is singular or plural. Seems to us when men wear pants they are plural, and when they don't wear pants it is singular. Men go on a tear in their pants, and it is all right, but when the pants go on a tear it is all wrong."

INDIAN CAVALRYMEN.

They Obey Orders Better Than White Soldiers and Behave Very Well.

There is a company of cavalry at Fort Niobrara commanded by Lieut. Dravo, of which he is very proud, says the Omaha World-Herald. "The 21st day of April," said the officer, "I completed the enlistment of the fifty-five Indians in my company. An Indian is more easily enlisted into the cavalry because he is allowed a horse." "His own pony?" "No; he must be mounted on a horse as other cavalry soldiers are." "Do you find it difficult to discipline the Indians?" "Not at all. They obey orders better than the white men, and you see the improvement in them. The comparison between the Indian soldier and their relatives at the agency is most favorable to the soldier. An Indian, while he is not round-shouldered, leans forward and bends his knees, but six months' 'setting-up' drill has changed all this materially. Ten of my men are from the Carlisle school at Pennsylvania, and the junior corporal is a son of the famous Two Strikes. We have a school in the garrison, and they are at present learning the alphabet. It is hard for them, too, but they are very much in earnest and learn readily. I promised them when they enlisted that they should be as fully equipped as the white soldiers, and I have just returned from a nine days' trip around the reservation in which they proved my words good to their relatives and friends." "How did you induce them to cut their hair?" "It is funny about that. I told them that they could have no uniforms until they were clean and their hair cut. This was Saturday. If they were ready they could don their uniforms Monday morning. Sunday—the whole day—was spent in bathing, six at a time, and Monday morning the entire company reported, clean and with hair cut. They wish sincerely to learn the white man's way, and, as I said before, are the most earnest workers imaginable." "Do you trust them with alcoholic drinks?" "They have the privileges of the canteen, as the soldiers have, and you could count the disorderlies upon the fingers of one hand." "What have they done with their wives?" "Five of them have their wives with them. The Indian marriage is easily dissolved, however, and a number of wives have been left behind."

Color Law in Flowers.

The favorite flower of the princess. Wales' household is the lily of the valley, and the dinner table is rarely without a decoration of these modest and fragrant flowers that grow in great profusion about Sandringham. A florist says that the law governing the coloring of flowers makes a blue rose impossible. According to this law, the three colors, red, blue and yellow, never all appear in the same species of flowers; any two may exist, but never the third. Thus we have the red and yellow roses, but no blue; red and blue verbenas, but no yellow; yellow and blue in the various members of the viola family (as pansies, for instance), but no red; red and yellow gladioli, but no blue, and so on.

The Geyser Will Keep Time.

A resident of Amadice, Cal., is at work on a device which will be one of the attractions of the town when completed. It is a large clock, the figures of which can be seen from the hotel and the motive power for which will be the geyser. The clock will be erected at a point where it will be prominent. The geyser bubbles and rises every thirty-eight seconds as regularly as clockwork would require, and every time it rises it will raise a lever that will move the hands exactly thirty-eight seconds. Thus the clock can be made to keep perfect time, and will be the only one of its kind in the world.

A Locomotive to the North Pole.

A new means to reach the north pole has been proposed by Prof. Danaskin, of Athens, Greece. He has constructed a locomotive the wheels of which have sharp edges on the outside rim, which easily cut into ice and are shaped in a manner to hold fast in it. Thus they move forward. The locomotive is moved by steam, which serves at the same time to warm the entire space in which the travelers live. The inventor says his engine will run thirty-one miles an hour; that means that the pole can be reached from Spitzbergen in twenty hours. Supposing all was true that the inventor says his engine would do, how does he know there is a continuous field of ice between the two points? And if he should fail to find such a continuous path of ice his engine for his engine what could he do but turn back without accomplishing what he had set out to do.

THE DALLES

Wasco County, Oregon.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
