KEEP OFF THE GRASS

No More Demonstrations Can Be Held on The Capitol Grounds.

COXEY IS GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS.

The Commonwealers Afford Opportunity for Another Congressional Commission to Report.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The three commonweal leaders—Coxey, Browne and Jones—have been found guilty of violating the laws by a jury of their peers, and will have to submit to sentence, hereafter to be imposed by the court, for their demonstration on the capitol grounds. Thus ends what, as the leaders stated, was "the greatest march of the 19th century." All three of the accused were tried on the first count, which charged displaying a banner upon the capitol grounds. Jones of Philadelphia was acquitted of the second charge, which accused him of treading on the grass, but Coxey and Browne were convicted. All the party received the result smilingly except Mr. Hyman, who was on his feet with some objections to the form in which the verdict was presented, but who was sat upon by his colleagues. The verdict was guilty as to the first charge of carrying banners upon the capitol grounds, against all the defendants, and on the second charge—walking on the grass of the capitol grounds—guilty as to Browne and Coxey, and not guilty as to Jones. Attorney Lipscomb immediately entered a motion for a new trial and another in arrest of judgment. Judge Miller gave him four days in which to file the formal papers. Then the judge made inquiries about bail, and Frank Hume, a well-known wholesale grocer, who several times has run for a democratic nomination for congress, in Virginia, signed a bond in $500 for each of the convicted commonwealers.

MRS. LEASE THREATENED.

A Minnesota Crank Has Set the Day for Her Funeral.

WICHITA, May 8.—The chief of police of this city received a letter today from some crank residing in Kenyon, Minn., in which there was enclosed $10 to buy "pure white flowers to be placed on the body of Mrs. Lease on the day of her funeral," which he sets for May 20th. He also specifies that a part of the money must be used to purchase oil to pour upon her feet. He says the Nazarene came to him in a vision, with a cross of blood on his breast, and commanded him to kill Mrs. Lease the 20th, that her designs to subvert His kingdom on earth might be thwarted. He alleges the Nazarene also told him President Cleveland was a man of honest purpose, who would eventually straighten out the kink that at present threatens the business of the country, and that Prendergast, the assassin of Harrison, is going to be made an archangel after being hung. Mrs. Lease has been notified of her danger.

A Neat Coup.

SPRAGUE, May 7.—The Coxeyites in this vicinity this evening sprung a neat coup on the Northern Pacific, which has been working every possible scheme to avoid taking a large mob of several hundred east from Sprague. The yards here were full of cars. It being impossible to move the cars without carrying the Coxeyites who soaped the rails on a heavy up grade east of the city and defied the United States marshals and local police officers.

This evening, however, a train of live stock, east-bound, stopped at Harrison, ten miles west, and the officials of the road sent the crew and engine from here to take the train east through Sprague without stopping. The Coxeyites were alert and one of them, evidently a railroad man, familiar with air brakes, rode the pilot of the engine back to Harrison, concealing himself on the trucks of the stock cars. This man put on the air brakes as the train reached Sprague, neatly stopping it at the depot. The officials have ordered the stock unloaded and swear they will not carry the com-monwealers out of town, if not a wheel turns for a month. The industrials are equally determined to ride.

NEWS NOTES.

S. B. Kyle, of South Dakota, is being groomed for the populist nomination for president.

A letter from Honolulu says that there is yet considerable royalist sentiment, and that it is restoration of the queen or bloodshed.

At the municipal election in Evanson, Wyo., Tuesday, the republicans elected the mayor by a majority of four votes over the fusion candidate of democrats and populists.

The regular monthly social of the Woodmen was held last evening in Fraternity hall. Speeches, dancing and lunch contributed to a merry evening to those fortunate enough to be in attendance.

Lodge introduced the amendment to the tariff bill in the senate Monday of which he gave notice some time ago, providing that, as against Great Britain or any of her colonies, a duty double the amount proposed in the proposed tariff bill should be levied, and a duty of 35 per cent on all articles on the free list, such duties to continue until Great Britain shall assent to take part in any international agreement with the United States for the coinage and use of silver.

Crop-Weather Bulletin.

The Oregon State Weather Service gives out the following bulletin, No. 6, for week ending May 8th for Eastern Oregon:

Weather.—The temperature was much cooler than the normal and the precipitation was deficient except about the average along the Columbia and in the Walla Walla valley. Frosts were frequent. The sunshine was about the average.

Crops in the Columbia river valley are still promising. Wheat is making its usual rapid growth. It is noticed in some sections that wheat is changing color slightly prematurely, which is attributed to the constant cool weather during the past fifteen days. The soil has sufficient moisture from which an abundant harvest of cereal and grass crops should mature. The desire is for warmer weather, if not too warm to parch the crop. Seeding of spring grain is practically completed. Farmers are plowing summer fallow and some of them have finished. The fruit crop is safe, not having suffered any damage from the frosts. Some strawberry bloom was injured. Gardens are being planted. Lambing is progressing successfully; the loss is reported slight. The outlook is for abundant crops which will mature slightly later than the average time.

Crops in the interior counties made slow progress during the past week due to cool temperatures and frosty nights. Fruit trees are blooming in nearly all sections. In favored places the bloom is thickly set and prolific. No bloom has been injured by frost except peaches. The bloom was caught in a critical state of pollination and the damage will be considerable in some sections. Spring grain is coming up in some localities. Seeding continues and gardening is progressing. The cool weather has not been favorable to the germination of garden seeds and grain. Warmer weather is desired to advance the crops.

SHE SAW MRS. CLEVELAND.

The Middle-Aged Woman Made a Run for It and Got There.

Women adopt all sorts of devices for getting a good look at Mrs. Cleveland. On fine days the mistress of the white house generally takes a ride in the family phaeton, accompanied by her babies and the nurses. In the afternoon between three and four, if the sun is shining, says a Washington informant, she goes out in the victoria, accompanied either by her husband or a friend. Women, young and old, have discovered this habit of Mrs. Cleveland, and are beginning to lie in wait for her to catch her as she comes out on the front portico to enter the carriage. There is no privacy for inmates of the white house, and so when Mrs. Cleveland goes riding she is obliged to walk through the public vestibule and across the public portico. A day or two ago a bery of schoolgirls joined the waiting group on the portico, and when Mrs. Cleveland came out she was obliged to run the gauntlet. When she returned an hour or two later a funny thing happened. A well-dressed, good-looking, middle-aged woman, evidently a stranger in the city, was passing the street gate when a carriage turned into the circular drive of the white house grounds. The quick-witted sight-seer instantly surmised that the occupants were Mrs. Cleveland and her babies. She saw a chance to accomplish her long-felt desire of getting a good look at the president's wife and she did not miss it. The race was a long one and she knew she could not win it unless something happened to detain Mrs. Cleveland after she arrived under the porte cochere. Lifting her clothes in both hands she started up the circular pathway along the drive at a breakneck speed. The passers-by and the spectators at the door applauded, and, perspiring and panting, she reached the steps just in time, for Mrs. Cleveland had stopped to give an order to the coachman, and the energetic lady was enabled to plant herself where she could stare the president's wife in the face for at least ten seconds, and could also see the babies as they were lifted from the carriage by the nurses and carried into the house.

As Mrs. Cleveland disappeared in the vestibule a gentleman standing by said, admiringly, to the female sprinter: "Well, you made it." "Yes," she said, mopping her face, "folks from my part of the country generally do."

SHORT BUT INTERESTING.

The best pearls are perfectly round, the next best are pear-shaped, and egg-shaped ones are considered the most inferior.

That happiness for man and woman depends upon the quality of the dinner. And a good liver is absolutely essential for appreciating a good dinner. Lord Byron knew that as well as anybody. One of his greatest regrets was for his weak stomach. "God, man!" his lordship would say, "why don't one of these infernal doctors invent a liver medicine."

Byron would never have asked that question were he now living. Why? Because he would have been using Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills, an absolutely sure cure for constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, and all derangements of liver, stomach and bowels. There is no gripping or violence about these pills, and they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is refunded. Don't live with the stomach weak, when the cure is within your reach for 25 cents.

Thousands of cures follow the use of Dr. Suez's catarrh remedy. It's $500 reward for an incurable case.

HINTS ABOUT DRIVING.

A Little Advice for the Benefit of Young Horsemen.

When driving you must watch the road. Turn out for stones, so that the horse shall not stumble nor the wheels jolt over them; avoid the mudholes and places where the going is bad; let the horse slacken speed when the road becomes heavy, and if you want to make up time do it where the ground slightly descends, says a writer in Waverley.

It is a common mistake to think that a horse can haul a carriage easily on the level. On such a road he has to be pulling every moment; there is no rest; whereas when the road now rises and now falls the weight is taken off him at times and he has a chance to recover his wind and to rest his muscles. As between a level road in a valley and an up-and-down road over the hills the latter is by far the easier for a horse to travel. When you come to a long level stretch let your horse walk a bit in the middle of it.

Almost everybody knows that for the first few miles after coming out of the stable a horse should be driven slowly and especially if he has just been fed. On a journey it is of the utmost importance to observe this rule. Be careful, however, not to check a young nag too quickly when he comes fresh from the stable. Give him his head, talk to him soothingly, and presently he will come down to a moderate pace. If you pull him up at once you vex him extremely, so much so that he is not unlikely to kick.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison Co., Mo., says: "For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the Remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Greatly Surprised.

Lieut. Blank, of the army, is six feet four inches tall, and tips the scale at two hundred and fifty pounds. He was stationed for many years in Washington, attached to a scientific bureau of the government, his writings being well known to the scientific world. Much of his writing was done evenings at home, and he would sometimes carry home necessary reference books, and return them to his office at will. One morning he gathered together several, none of them very small, and, putting them under his arm, started for his office. In the course of his walk he was brought face to face with a very black little negro, who, with arms akimbo, chin dropped, and his shining black eyes filled with wonder, had planted himself directly in front of Lieut. Blank. Before the gentleman had time to do more than take in this apparition of darkness, the little "piccaninny" had thrown back his head so as to be able to gaze up into the lieutenant's face, and in a tone of comical amazement exclaimed: "Gude gracious, mister, is you gwine to school?"—Youth's Companion.
