YAKIMA TO SEATTLE

Return of the Arrested Coxeyites
Creates a Demonstration.

CALL MADE FOR NATIONAL TROOPS

In Response General Otis Sends Two Hundred and Twenty-five Men
From Vancouver Barracks.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12.—This morning 32 deputy marshals arrived with 135 Coxeyites and 16 citizens of North Yakima who were accused of inciting them to resist the authorities. The Yakima men were arrested Thursday evening, and were started for Spokane on a Northern Pacific freight train with a view to being brought on here over the Union Pacific to Portland, but it was learned that a mob at Arlington, Or., had blockaded the Union Pacific tracks. The trains consequently went to Spokane and then back to Seattle. The party did not stop for food during the 36 hours' ride, except once. On arrival here all were locked up in the county jail, but all except two of the Yakima people, were afterward let out on bail by United States Judge Hanson. Application for the release of the Coxeyites, on their own recognizance, was refused by the court. On the way to the jail a number of populists hooted the deputies, and three were arrested. About 10:30 o'clock six deputies were recognized on the streets by a crowd of Coxeyites, who followed them with cries "Lynch them." The crowd grew to about 500 persons, and became more threatening. The deputies finally sought refuge in a bank, slipped out a rear door, and concealed themselves for several hours. The crowd then dwindled to about 100, who hung around watching all entrances, but the deputies had escaped. In the afternoon a cipher summons was chalked on the sidewalks, and about 600 people gathered and held a meeting in the open air. The first speaker advocated going in a body to the jail and forcing the sheriff to release the prisoners, but succeeding speakers advocated a respect for the law. The mob threatened to sack the house of Henry Shepard, the late general of the Seattle industrial army, charging him with stealing money and provisions. Everything is quiet tonight on the streets, but the jail is well guarded. The Fourteenth infantry will arrive in the morning.

TROOPS ARRIVE EN ROUTE.
VANCOUVER, May 12.—In response to orders for troops to proceed at once to Seattle, received here about 9 o'clock tonight, General Otis sent about 225 men by boat to Kalama, en route for Seattle. They will arrive in Seattle some time Sunday.

TACOMA, May 12.—The industrial sympathizers held a rather excited meeting this evening protesting against the jailing of Coxeyites in Seattle. Today Deputy Jolly denies that Chidester shot him in Yakima, as does also Chidester. Jolly is a trifle better and may live.

A Demonstration in Spokane, Also.

SPokane, May 12.—Matters looked equally for a while today in Spokane, and 1,000 people held their breath, expecting a conflict between a mob of industrialists and a force of deputy marshals. About 4 o'clock a Northern Pacific passenger train brought Deputy Sam Vinson and 20 of his men from the west. They were expected. A mob of 300 had gathered at the depot. When the deputies emerged in double file, cat calls and cries of hatred came from the crowd. A bus driver named Buttrick was particularly noisy and abusive, and the crowd cheered him on and jostled the deputies. Vinson placed Buttrick under arrest, when the crowd grew threatening, and demanded his release. The deputies marched up the street without flinching. The crowd grew in size and the cries of rage and hate increased. The men again jostled the deputies, and then and vowed vengeance. Deputy Marshal Vinson saw a man pick up a club, and wheeled and gave an order to his men to load. Twenty cartridges clicked into the barrels of the Winchester. The crowd halted and sent up a roar that was heard for blocks. The marshal and his deputies swept on with their prisoner and the crowd followed. At the Tull block "Jumbo" Cantwell mounted a barrel and ordered the men to keep back, but immediately climbed down and followed the deputies, and the mob swept on. Vinson took his prisoner into the Hyde block. The street in front was black with people. Vinson turned into the elevator and told Jumbo who was close at his heels, that the crowd would have to keep back, and Cantwell directed to his followers to go away. After a consultation between Marshal Drake and Deputy Vinson, Buttrick was released, and the crowd slowly dispersed.

MRS. KENYON'S SLAYER.

Applewhite Succeeded in His Attempts to Commit Suicide.

CORVALLIS, May 12.—About 10 o'clock this morning news reached this place that the bodies of Dr. Applewhite and Mrs. Kenyon had been found in the brush about a mile from the latter's home. Mrs. Kenyon was dead, and her paramour lay near her, in a pool of blood, with a wound in the neck and a cut in each wrist. His pistol, with one loaded chamber, and his case of surgical instruments, were lying by his side. When he saw that he was discovered he attempted to rise and grasped his pistol, but being weak from loss of blood, was unable to pull the trigger. Sheriff Osborn seized him, while his deputy took care of the pistol and instruments. To them he said that in shooting at Kenyon he had accidentally shot Mrs. Kenyon, and that he afterwards gave her 20 grains of morphine and took the same amount himself. She died about midnight. When found, her face was covered with his hat. The ball entered Mrs. Kenyon's left side just below the diaphragm and passed out at her back. The point of entrance and where the ball came out are not over seven inches apart, and it is the opinion of the surgeons that the wound of itself must have proven fatal. Applewhite's wounds are not serious, and he has been committed on a charge of murder. As soon as he is able to be moved he will be taken to the county jail. The sentiment among the people here is one of sorrow that Applewhite made such a botch of his attempted suicide. Kenyon is lying at the residence of his brother-in-law with a severe wound in his leg, but it is not dangerous.

LATER—Applewhite died at his home Saturday evening from an overdose of morphine taken with suicidal intent, and hemorrhages from wounds inflicted by his own hands.

The Seamless Coat.

PARIS, May 13.—The exhibition of the holy coat of Argenteuil will begin at daybreak tomorrow and will last nine days. Many English and American priests will be present. Trains are carrying excursionists from all parts of France to the town. The archbishop of Paris will conduct the services tomorrow morning.

NEWS NOTES.

Secretary Lamont will demit about 300 clerks in the war department before the 1st of July.

Tents were struck at "Camp Tyranny" Saturday and the army started for the new camp at Hyattsville, Md.

Fire seems to be the Nemesis of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage and the members of his congregation, for their beautiful new tabernacle, at the corner of Clinton and Green avenues, Brooklyn, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

There is talk of another tie-up on the Great Northern. Manager Hill has refused to reinstate some of the strikers who were arrested for lawless offenses against the road, and Hogan, speaking for the men, says that retaliatory measures will force another tie-up.

The crank who has threatened to kill Mrs. Lease has been heard from again. From Creston, Ia., he writes to the chief of the fire department to have his wagons in readiness to protect the property of innocent parties, for he says it is his purpose to use the torch if necessary to destroy the female orator.

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN
Has come not a little knowledge as to cookery—what to do, as well as what not to do. Thus we have learned to use COTTOLENE, the most pure and perfect cooking material for all frying and shortening purposes. PROGRESSIVE COOKING is the natural outcome of the age, and it teaches us not to use lard, but rather the new shortening, COTTOLENE, which is far cleaner, and more digestible than any lard can be. The success of Cottolene has called out worthless imitations and similar names. Look out for these! Ask your Grocer for COTTOLENE, and be sure that you get it. Made only by N. K. OLD PORTLAND GANG.

Shrefler and His Men Stole Another
Short Line Train.

MONTPELIER, Idaho, May 13.—The Coxeyites, who stole a Union Pacific train and started east, went as far as Cokeville, near the Wyoming line, where the engine was sidetracked and the train taken from them. In this detachment are Shrefler and Breckinridge, who stole a train at Troutdale two weeks ago and were captured at Arlington. It is supposed they will board the first freight train coming east, in which case Marshal Rankin will encounter them at Granger, the junction of the Oregon Short Line and the Union Pacific. The Coxeyites are now in contempt of court in Oregon and Idaho. Marshal Rankin of Wyoming has received instructions directing him to arrest Shrefler and not more than fourteen others of the army, and retain them in custody to appear before the next sitting of the court.

TOO MANY TRAVELED.

BOISE, May 13.—News of the fact that the industrialists were sailing along so smoothly started hordes of people from the west. This is what caused the company to change its policy. This afternoon twenty armed deputy marshals left here to clear trains on the main line. They met Marshal Pinkham at Nampa, but their destination is not known here. It is supposed they have gone to Montpelier.

GROSS AND GLARING.

Such Are the Frauds in Registration
Under the Geary Act.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Times tomorrow will publish the following: There have come to the notice of the authorities of the United States treasury the most gross and glaring frauds in Chinese registration under the Geary law. It is believed, from the evidence in possession of the authorities, that have been issued in this city alone several hundreds, perhaps a couple of thousand, fraudulent certificates. It is alleged that smugglers of Chinese are selling registration certificates to Chinese who are now waiting in Canada and Havana to enter the United States. Large numbers of registration certificates, it is claimed, are being sent to China to secure entrance into the United States of Chinese, who have never been here before. The frauds are perpetrated by the Chinese who register, and it is alleged that some of them have registered from twice to a score of times. Professional witnesses have been found who have identified as many as 400 Chinese as having to their knowledge lived at least two years in this country. The witnesses have admitted under oath that they have been making a good thing out of their swearing for Chinese applying for certificates, and that they have received from 50 cents to $5 in each case.

A Man of Method.
I got an amusing answer from a Boston lawyer a few days ago, says a correspondent of the Boston Record, relative to an equally famous colleague of his who had died only a few hours previous. I asked him if there was any particular characteristic of his friend's life worthy of special notice. "Yes—yes, there was one—just one, and it should receive due attention in any obituary. He had a habit of eating the same sort of breakfast for fifteen years at the same hotel—four eggs, two slices of toast, a rasher of bacon and a cup of coffee—a most remarkable habit, most remarkable, and never broken in all that time. That is all that marked his social life as being out of the ordinary."

Stripping a Barber Pole.
"I had sometimes wondered, and, as a matter of fact, I don't know now," said a man, "how they managed to get the spiral stripes on a barber pole so uniform and true; but I saw one way of doing it illustrated one morning, and perhaps it is the way. A painter who was transforming the lower part of a telegraph pole in front of a barber shop into the customary sign had run two wires around the pole from the point at which he wished to begin down to the ground, and he was patting in the color in the spiral stripes thus outlined."

A CENTURY ago Presbyterianism held the eighth place among the denominations of this country. Now it is in the fourth place.

THE EYES OF PORTRAITS.

Why They Appear to Follow a Person
From One Point to Another.

How is it that the eyes of some portraits seem to follow a spectator around the room? It has been thus explained: Suppose, says the Baltimore American, a portrait have its face and eyes directed straight in front, so as to look at the spectator. Let a straight line be drawn through the tip of the nose and half way between the eyes. On each side of this middle line there will be the same breadth of head, of cheek, of chin and of neck, and each iris will be in the middle of the whole of the eye. If one now go to one side, the apparent horizontal breadth of every part of the head and face will be diminished, but the parts on each side of the middle line will be diminished equally, and at every position, however oblique, there will be the same breadth of face on each side of the middle line, and the iris will remain in the center of the whole of the eyeball, so that the portrait will preserve all the character of a figure looking at the spectator, and must necessarily do so wherever he stands. In portraits the apparent motion of the head is generally rendered indistinct by the canvas being imperfectly stretched, as the slightest concavity and convexity entirely deforms the face. Ofttimes the obliquity is considerable. The deception is, therefore, seen best when the painting is executed on a flat board and in colors sufficiently vivid to represent every line in the face with tolerable distinctness at great obliquities. Distinctness of outline is also most necessary to a satisfactory exhibition of this optical delusion.
