Mr. N. H. Gates of The Dalles, a graduate of Wasco Independent Academy last year, and a young man of great talent and ability, was admitted to practice law in all courts of Oregon a few days ago by the supreme court at Pendleton. The young gentleman's genius, industry and ambition will ere long place him among the foremost lawyers of the state.

A Yakima paper says the syndicate that bought out the Vancouver, Kllickitat and Yakima railroad recently will commence work on the extension of the road from its present terminus at as early a date as the surveys will admit. The purchase price was $111,000, and the road will be known as the Portland, Vancouver & Northern. It is the intention of the company to complete the road to Yakima as soon as the pressing condition of affairs will allow.

Last evening an election for colonel of the Third regiment, O. N. G., was held at the regimental headquarters in this city. The inspector and presiding officer was Capt. M. G. Butterfield, A. A. G. on the brigade staff. The candidates for the colonelcy were Lt.-Col. G. T. Thompson and Major W. S. Bowers, of Baker City. Lt.-Col. Thompson was elected. This means that the regimental headquarters will be retained at The Dalles. General H. B. Compton and Captain L. C. Jones, of Portland, were also present. Col. Thompson has been in command of the regiment since the resignation of Col. Lucas about a year ago, and during that time has put the Third in an excellent condition.

Fairfield Republicans.

Saturday evening several republicans left The Dalles for Fairfield school house to entertain the citizens of that vicinity with republican speaking. A special school meeting was first disposed of, after which Mr. Harry Gilpin introduced to the audience Messrs. Thos. Harlan and H. H. Riddell. The former made a short speech, confining himself to a few fundamental principles of the old parties, exposing the fallacies of the populist party and referring to the rise of Coxeyism. Mr. H. H. Riddell then gave a very entertaining impromptu speech of about a half hour in length. It was bristling with damaging facts against the democratic party, and defined the historical benefits that has ever followed republican administration. He succeeded in doing what few tariff speakers can do, interesting the entire audience with an unaffected, thoroughly simple but convincing discussion of the merits of protection, and its past influence for good upon the nation.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

There are fourteen grain ships listed for Portland, making a total registered tonnage of 23,080 tons to arrive.

Multnomah county tax collections to this time and turned over to the treasurer by the sheriff, amounts to $1,011,117.40.

Information received in Portland states that the anti-Chinese agitation is removed in Baker county. Last week some twenty or more men mobbed a Chinese mining camp and ran them out. If this thing is continued, trouble will result from it, as the district attorney is determined to put a stop to that kind of lawlessness.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. J. M. Patterson returned from a visit to Roseburg and Salem last evening. Capt. Milton G. Butterfield, brigade inspector general and acting assistant adjutant general of the staff, stationed at Portland, was in attendance at the election in The Dalles and will return in the morning.

MALONEY AND SNELLING.

Testimony that They Were Seen in the Doyle Vicinity with Horses.

The preliminary examination of Dan Maloney and Charles Snelling was begun before Justice Schutz at 10 o'clock this morning. Shortly after the case opened Prosecuting Attorney Wilson entered and took a seat beside the private prosecutor, Mr. B. S. Huntington and will assist during the remainder of the trial.

The first witness called was Michael Doyle, the owner of the animals found in Maloney and Snelling's possession, Saturday, May 5th. He testified as to the location of the farm, with its various enclosures, roads and adjoining premises.

Ralph Doyle, his son, was next sworn, who testified to substantially the same facts. He first missed the horses Monday morning, and going down to the bars, saw horse tracks, also the track of a man, and noticed that the bars had been removed by some one unknown to himself. He also swore that the trail made by the horses was through thick brush, giving the impression that they avoided an open road just as convenient.

George Joles testified to what Maloney said in the sheriff's office subsequent to Wednesday night, to the effect that he traded for the horses about 10 o'clock Monday morning.

James Snipes testified to finding the horses in a small enclosure adjoining the city graveyard Wednesday afternoon. He was looking for land and noticed the horses. He at once came down town and informed Mr. George Joles.

An adjournment was then taken till 1:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Klimt was sworn. She testified that, while returning from town Saturday afternoon she met Maloney and another man to her unknown, at the Ash spring, about five miles from the city and a mile from her home. The stranger was in advance, leading two horses, and Maloney followed about 60 feet distant, driving two mules. Both were riding fast. It was about dusk Maloney was riding a strawberry roan. She thought the mules belonged to Mr. Snipes, and were well known to her, as they had pastured on her land more or less all winter.

Fred Klimt, her son, was the next witness sworn. He seemed to regard the event as a jolly affair and was led on by the attorney for the defense to make as much of a simoleon of himself as he would. His testimony, however, was corroborative of his mother's, and on all essential points he was not shaken. He testified to riding a short distance in the rear of his mother, and meeting Maloney and Snelling about a quarter of a mile this side of the Ash spring. Both were riding pretty fast. Snelling was leading a sorrel and a black and Maloney followed, driving the mules. It was just getting dusk and he believed the time was about 8 o'clock.

The prosecution then announced all the testimony in for that side, and the defense asked for a postponement until 4 o'clock.

The trial is largely attended. Substitute for Calomel and Quinine. Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is equal in power to blue mass or calomel, but without any of their injurious properties.

"Have tried it in several cases of bilious disorders, chills and fever, and find it effects a cure in a most satisfactory manner."

"BY THEIR FRUITS."

Of Interest to Voters in the Columbia River Basin.

On the 22d of last month I find the following valuable information printed in the Congressional Record. Senator Dolph moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 67. This is a bill introduced by Senator Dolph, and is a bill to amend the act entitled "An act for the relief of certain settlers on the public lands, and to provide for the repayment of certain fees, etc., etc."

Read carefully the action taken on this motion, ye farmers who have suffered by the $1.25 excess paid for your land:

Look on this side; then upon that.

The above and foregoing is a bill which should interest all parties who entered lands prior to the passage of the act of Sept. 9th, 1890, forfeiting the lands of the Northern Pacific between Wallula, Wash. and Portland, Or., all of whom were obliged to pay an excess of $1.25 per acre. A similar bill was introduced by Senator Dolph several years ago, and passed the senate during the last congress, entirely by votes on the republican side of the house. As this vote is taken from the official records of congress, it would seem to me to be very interesting reading just before the June election, that the farmers may see who their friends are and what they are doing in their interests.

I would especially call the attention of the farmers to the vote of Senator Peffer (populist) of Kansas, a man who is all the time prating of the down-trodden laborer and farmer. We don't expect any relief from the democrats, but what's the matter with populist Peffer. "By their works shall ye know them."

All papers published within the Northern Pacific forfeited R. R. land limits that have the interest of the people at heart, are earnestly requested to publish this item and pass it along.

Very respectfully,
C. E. BAYARD.
