STORM ON THE LAKES

Two Vessels Foundered Yesterday on Lake Michigan.

MANY OTHER WRECKS REPORTED.

The Story of the Attempted Bribery to Secure Votes Against the Tariff Bill.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 18.—Schooner M. J. Cummings, laden with grain, from Chicago, foundered just south of the harbor piers this morning. The crew was in the rigging. It is reported two men were swept overboard and drowned. A lifeboat which went to rescue the crew was driven past the wreck and capsized by the breakers at Bayview.

A fierce gale from the northward is raging and tremendous seas are sweeping into the bay. An unknown vessel foundered off Whitefish bay. In the city trees were blown down, light structures unroofed and signs torn from their fastenings. The crew of the Cummings is still in the rigging, together with one of the life saving crew, who attempted to make a line fast. The line parted and the lifeboat drifted off into the breakers.

Four unknown vessels are on the beach between South Milwaukee and Racine.

The lifesaving crew reached the shore safely by clinging to a boat, which was washed high and dry. They will take another measure to rescue the imperiled crew of the Cummings, one of whom is the stewardess. The Racine lifeboat and crew are coming on a special train to rescue the crew of the Cummings. The schooner C. C. Barnett is dragging her anchor and rapidly approaching the beach.

The worst snow storm of any in the winter is raging today in Wisconsin and part of Michigan, with a gale from the north.

How The Briber Planned.

RICHMOND, Va., May 18.—H. C. Clegg, private secretary of Senator Hunton, gives an interesting story of the manner in which the effort was made to bribe Hunton. Bultz went to Warren with letters and sought an interview with Epha Hunton, jr., the senator's son. He approached Mr. Hunton as an attorney and told him he wished to engage his services in an important case. He also told him his fee was to be $25,000 or more. He asked Bultz what manner of service was required in consideration of such a handsome fee, and then it was that Bultz delicately intimated it was to secure his father's vote against the tariff bill. Mr. Hunton indignantly ordered him from the office, and also acquainted his father with the fact. Senator Hunton laid the matter before the finance committee, and they prevailed on him to keep it quiet till they might obtain a few facts in the case.

WOULD NOT SIT WITH COXEY.

His Presence Caused Trouble at the Clover Club Dinner.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Coxey made a sensation here tonight by appearing at the Clover Club dinner. After he was invited Colonel A. K. McClure, ex-Minister Charles Emery Smith, Major-General Snowden, Colonel John I. Rogers and other members of the club said they would not sit at the dinner with Coxey. They were told he would not be there, so they came, but Coxey came too. When Colonel McClure walked in with ex-Governor Curtin there was a lively row. Coxey was enticed from the Bellevue hotel, where the dinner was spread, and taken to the Art Club by Colonel Thomas Donaldson. Then the dinner resumed. General Snowden told the Cloverites that he would not dine with Coxey, as he might soon have occasion to meet that "general" in a sterner conflict. Coxey was angry over the turn-down, but sought solace with some genial friends.

Hansen Hanged at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., May 18.—The execution of John Hansen took place here promptly at noon today behind a temporary screen erected in the yard connected with the jail. It was entirely private, no one being present besides Sheriff Smith, and his deputies and the witnesses, but the surgeons in attendance and representatives of the local press. It was devoid of unusual incident, his neck being instantly broken and death ensuing without a perceptible struggle. He made no statement, ascended the scaffold unaided and conducted himself throughout with remarkable composure. The crime for which he was executed was the brutal murder of his wife, during a drunken frenzy, July, 26, 1894, at a point in the country close to the city.

WOMEN OF KENTUCKY.

The Effective Campaign They Are Making Against Breckinridge.

PITTSBURG, May 18.—A gentleman who has just returned from Kentucky was in Lexington when Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge made his speech there. He relates some significant incidents of the campaign. A Lexington man went home the day of the speech with a Breckinridge button on his coat lapel and told his wife that he had decided to support him. She replied: "As the head of the family I recognize your right to place your political influence wherever you please, and as a loyal wife I shall do what I can for the success of your candidate. I am going to the florist's to get a bunch of the finest white flowers I can find. I shall meet the train the colonel arrives on, invite him into my carriage and ride up with him." The citizen looked at his wife in amazement. He knew that she was quite capable of carrying out her program, and he knew he must prevent it. She agreed to relinquish her plan when he took off the Breckinridge button and promised to oppose the colonel. Another Lexington man met some ladies on the street and joined them in their walk. He wore a Breckinridge button. One of the ladies said to him: "We should be delighted with your company; but we cannot be seen in public with a man wearing that button, neither can we receive such a man at our home." The button promptly came off. These are samples of work the women of Kentucky are doing against the re-election of Breckinridge.

The Worst of this Season.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The storm today is the worst on Lake Michigan this spring. Scores of vessels lying in the harbor are unable to make their way into the river. Eleven fishermen spent the night on the government pier. Tom Sidlow, a sailor, was washed off the pier and lost. The others were rescued by the life-saving crew today.

At 3 o'clock a three-masted schooner foundered south of the government pier. Four men were seen struggling in the water. At the same hour a woman was rescued from the mouth of the pier.

The gas launch Neva is missing. It is owned by F. G. Bevan, of Grand Rapids, Mich. Last night two of his friends, accompanied by two young ladies, started on a short trip.

Origin of a Common Expression.

The term "namby-pamby," which has come to be applied to a person of vacillating character, as well as to weak literary productions, was originated by the poet Pope. He applied it to some puerile verses that had been written by an obscure poet—one Ambrose Phillips—addressed to the children of a peer. The first half of the term is meant as a baby way of pronouncing Amby, a pet nickname for Ambrose, and the second half is simply a jingling word to fit it.

"Do you think that woman is fickle?" said Kiddins. "Certainly not," replied Kaddins. "You can always depend on her. She announces that she will do as she pleases, and keeps her word religiously."—Washington Star.

Sale of Bonds.

I will sell on the 20th day of May, 1894, $8,000 in bonds of Hood River school district, bearing 7 per cent interest, payable semi-annually. They will either be sold in parts of $1,000 each, or the entire $8,000 at one time, or any number of the eight bonds of $1,000 each, to the highest bidder for cash. These bonds are redeemable in twenty years or after ten years if convenient for the district.

"We always fry ours in Cottolene."

Our Meat, Fish, Oysters, Saratoga Chips, Eggs, Doughnuts, Vegetables, etc.

Like most other people, our folks formerly used lard for all such purposes. When it disagreed with any of the family (which it often did,) we said it was "too rich."

We finally tried

and not one of us has had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottolene had no unpleasant odor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. So that's why we always fry ours in Cottolene.

WAMIC.

Mrs. Haney is preparing to build a dwelling on her property here.

J. D. Palmateer moved into his new house on the Britain addition this week.

Mr. McCowan, the veteran blacksmith of Tygh valley, has made arrangements to take charge of the shop here. He has bought an acre lot on which he will build a dwelling house.

Mr. Frank Dean, who has for several years past worked in Farley & Frank's harness shop, has gone into business as harness maker here. Mr. Dean is known as a first-class workman, and will no doubt do well.

The future growth and prosperity of Wamic is an assured fact. There is no prospect of anything akin to a boom ever coming this way. Her growth is regular and based on natural conditions and causes.

NEWS NOTES.

The report that the yacht Valkyrie had foundered with a loss of all hands is denied.

Senator Hill has been for a week at work on a substitute for a compromise tariff bill. He will boldly demand its acceptance.

A dispatch from Lamont, Ia., reports a severe cold wave and probable damage to crops. At Mowawqua, Ill., the mercury dropped 50 degrees in 24 hours, and farmers fear much damage to crops.

Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert and party were expected to arrive in Portland on this morning's Southern Pacific train. The principal object of his trip has been an inspection of the Mare Island navy-yard, at San Francisco, and he will also inspect the Puget sound naval station before returning East. He is accompanied on his Western tour by Miss Herbert, Miss Buell and Mrs. Micou, all of Montgomery, Ala., and Lieutenant Reamy, United States navy, his private secretary.

Judge Bradley, of the district supreme court at Washington, D. C., yesterday afternoon refused to grant the writ of certiorari applied for by the counsel for Coxey, Browne and Jones, the common-law army leaders, and thus defeated the hope of the Coxeyites of bringing up for review the proceedings in the police court which ended in their conviction. This morning at 10 o'clock the convicted Coxeyites were to be brought up before Judge Miller for sentence, the judge having now received his recommendation.

Not Words Enough.

A few weeks ago an American publisher wrote to Oscar Wilde, asking him for a "story of one hundred thousand words," for which he offered to pay "so and so." The gentle soul of the artist was disturbed. He did not take it kindly that his wares should be appraised by the yard, like ribbon. He wrote back to the New York publisher: "Dear Sir: I have received your charming letter, and have spent two or three days in delightful contemplation. I should like to write the story, but I do not see how I can do so. Unfortunately, there are not one hundred thousand words in the English language."

He Was Eccentric.

A millionaire who was noted for his eccentricity died at Antwerp. M. Van Goullaken had a special antipathy to tramlines, and when they were laid down in front of his house, many years ago, he took an oath that he would never have his house cleaned or painted again. The house was long a disgrace to the fashionable quarter in which he lived; but he regarded its dirtiness with grim satisfaction. In his will he has forbidden his heirs to use the word "regret" in any announcement of his death.

Worth the Money.

A British nobleman who was sued for breach of promise is reported to have declared that it was impossible for him to contradict a lady, and that, therefore, he would not deny that he had made the promise, but he insisted that the lady had exaggerated the value of his affections and that that value was a fair question for a jury. The lady recovered one per cent. or so of her original claim and the maled nobleman declared that the cross-examination of her by his counsel was amply worth the money.

An Importunate Tenant.

Naturalists have of late taken a good deal of interest in a creature, member of the fish tribe, that lives upon the products of the industry of others. This associate or dependent at a certain stage of its existence goes out to seek a home, and, finding a suitable prospect, it lies in wait for the opportunity to take possession. When the larger fish opens its mouth, the slender little donzalle, as it is called, thrusts its tail between the jaws of its new landlord, and then remains perfectly quiet while the mouth closes. When it again opens the donzalle moves in still further, until it has secured its quarters, when it settles down to a contented if somewhat monotonous existence in the digestive canal of its chosen victim. There it helps itself to the choicest morsels, and that, too, without even saying "hy your leave."

EMPIRE cut is still much in use for tea gowns and house wear generally, and always looks well with a fine figure to show it off. Empire means today a broad belt of ribbon just beneath the bust with a huge ribbon bow and long hanging ribbon ends that reach nearly to the floor.—Ellen Osborn.

Substitute for Calomel and Quinine.

Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is equal in power to blue mass or calomel, but without any of their injurious properties.

"Have tried it in several cases of bilious disorders, chills and fever, and find it effects a cure in a most satisfactory manner."

DR. J. H. BODEN, Clinton, Ga.

A lady at Tooleys, La., was very sick with bilious colic when M. C. Tisler, a prominent merchant of the town gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Castoria

For Infants and Children.

Castoria promotes Digestion, and overcomes Flatulency, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, and Feverishness. Thus the child is rendered healthy and its sleep natural. Castoria contains no Morphine or other narcotic property.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ASCHESS, M. D.,

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARSONS, M. D.,
123th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."
