Hon. J. H. Cradlebaugh of Hood River will take charge of the editorial departnent of THE CHRONICLE from tomorrow. He is well known throughout the state and is a writer of recognized ability. He will handle the republican side of the tariff question with a master hand, for his sentiments are known to be, under certain conditions, for protection to American industries. In fact, there is hardly a democrat in the United States today who is a pronounced free trader, as called for in the spirit of their national platforms. The evidence is before us of the way they are handling the tariff bill in congress, where, with a clear democratic majority, there is now nothing left unprotected save wool. Mr. Cradlebaugh is an incisive writer upon all subjects, and in accepting the position of chief quilldriver for this paper, extends his own and THE CHRONICLE's in-

"Oregon goes republican by the largest majority ever given in the state. The sweeping republican victory includes telegraphed from Oregon to the East, it will settle the fate of the Wilson bill, and restore to us the old-fashioned price for wool and wheat.

A movement is on foot in Des Moines, Ia., to perpetuate the Coxey movement, and found upon it a national party. Gen. Weaver is a promised leader, an ex-whig, ex-democrat, ex-greenbacker and ex-populist. In all of these roles he has been politically ex-ecuted, and in front of the music stand during the in his new role will be quite generally Let's get the country back to a business basis. Oregon is to be the first to start the ball rolling. No republican majority must be as large as possible.

GIRLS AND COMPLIMENTS.

They Belong Together, But Are Seldom Properly Harmonious.

Not to value honest praise, not to enjoy the appreciation of one's fellows, to e indifferent to their good as to their ill opinion, is less likely to be a mark of lofty superiority than of intense self-

Kindly people, friendly people, modest people like to be praised. They find a compliment agreeable which is sincere and not excessive, and in one has deemed it advisable to ascertain the way or the other are pretty sure to man-

Often, however, they do so against making all the time a poor pretense of indifference which they suppose to be demanded by modesty and politeness. Sometimes they go further, and insisdensely peopled manufacturing and in- tently disclaim praise which they can not but know is fairly merited. Again they giggle foolishly, or try to waive the matter aside with an airy gesture and a laugh that does not ring true. Girls especially, who are most likely to receive compliments, are least likely to receive them well. Often a pretty girl will destroy a delightful impression by her silly embarrassment at a few-natural words of admiration for her youth and freshness. Or a clever girl, who thinks it due to her reputation for cleverness to despise compliments, will repel where she has just attracted by airs of poorly-acted

There is no real difficulty in accept ing a compliment. It is neither vain nor undignified, but rather gracious and becoming, to take pleasure in giving pleasure. Therefore, if a girl has given pleasure, either by her appearance or by her actions, and if some one tells her of it there is always something honest, simple and suitable that she can say in reply:

"I'am glad that you were pleased," "I am glad you think I did well," or "I am glad you approve my work."

There is no need either to disclaim or to assent to the praise uttered, therefore there is no reason why one should be embarrassed in its acceptance. Let everyone admire honestly, but let one also honestly receive admiration that is courteously and properly expressed.

It is lovely to be loved, delightful to be admired, agreeable to be praised. That is what every girl feels, and what no girl need be ashamed frankly to ac-knowledge. She need be ashamed only if she magnifies a compliment, which is after all a trifle, into something suffi-ciently important to disconcert her, or rewards honest appreciation with in-

MIDWINTER FAIR.

CALIFORNIA MIDWINTER INTERNA-TIONAL EXPOSITION — DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY AND PROMOTION. [Weekly Circular Letter-No. 23.]

The mistaken impression seems to have gone abroad that the California Midwinter Exposition has reduced its charge for admission and its attractions as well.
This impression is erroneous in both particulars. The charge for admission to the grounds is still 50 cents, except on Sunday, when it has been decided to make it a normal and a second or a sunday. make it a popular price show. An experiment is also being made with a 25cent rate on five evenings in the week after 5 p. m. The reason for this change is that no one in the state of California, and particularly in the city of San Francisco, shall lack an opportunity to visit the exposition before its close. The fair management recognizing that the finan-cial success of the enterprise has always exceeded their most sanguine expecta tions, is now willing to make concer to the public which had heretofore been deemed unnecessary. The exposition has not only paid expenses to date, but it has wiped out a debt of nearly $100,-000 which hung over it at the start, and, whatever the attendance may be during the few remaining weeks, there is sure to be a satisfactory fund on hand for the winding up of its affairs.

The attractions at the exposition have been constantly on the increase, and none of those who were with the enterprise at the beginning have withdrawn from the arena. Among the most re-cently added attractions is the company every county and municipality in the of South Sea Islanders, who came here state, every republican nominee being only about a fortnight ago and are still elected." If a report like this can be telegraphed from Oregon to the East, it warriors from the Southern Seas parade around the grounds several times during the day and a wondering crowd each time follows them to the big Franz Joseph hall in the Vienna Prater, where they sing their weird songs and dance their unique dances. The Mexican band has also made a great hit. It has a tambourine player who acts as a soloist and who is a musical entertainment in himself. Their characteristic music seems to have found wide appreciation in this cosmopolitan community, and the seats concert hours are full of people of all nationalities, but with perhaps a strain of the Spanish element in the majority. Jean Weitzman, the Wizard of the Air, has been walking on a high wire from the electric tower to the top of the should neglect going to the polls, for the Liberal Arts building for a number of days now, and so far has failed to break his neck or any other portion of his anatomy. The risk that he runs in this vote for the restoration of our suspended direction, however, is proving a great of the lions of the fair.

Every country has the discontented. California attractions. Fruit has had ful citrus displays about which so much has already been said, and within the The democratic party is too dangerous last few weeks the flowers have been speaking for themselves in no uncertain tones. There have been no days in the history of the exposition more beautiful or more attractive in every sense of the word than those where California's rare profusion of flowers have been exemplified. Everyone remembers the beautiful Niles Almond Blossom day, the Berkeley Rose day, the Wild Flower show, and all the rest of the floral festas on the exposition calendar, but during the past week there has been a rose show in the Agriculture Building that surpassed anything of the kind ever undertaken even under the favorable climatic advantages of California. This display of roses was accompanied also by a display of other flowers, though roses largely predominated. There were 600 different varieties of roses on view. The arrangement of these beautiful flowers was as artistic and effective as anyone could wish. It was all done under the auspices of the State Floral Society of California, working in company with the department of horticulture, and experts say that the world has never seen such an exhibition. There were large displays of rhododendrons, of callas, azelias, ixias, orchids, glorias, poppies and hundreds of other varieties of flowers that are far too beautiful to be satisfactorily described. Sweet peas were piled upon tables and upon racks against the wall until the air was actually laden with their perfume. There were great tables of carnations that looked like great lakes of beautiful colors, and there were beds of pansies where the faces of thousands of people seemed to be peeping up at you. These flowers came from every part of the state by the trainload, and each locality vied with the other to have the finest display.

> sition has decided to outdo even this rose show, and to do it out-of-doors. Saturday, May 19, has been set apart for a grand floral festival in the central court of the exposition. Thirty floats have already been entered for competition by different counties and different individuals throughout the state, and there will probably be half a hundred private carriages covered with roses and other flowers and entered in the same competition. There will be thousands of little bouquets given away for pelting purposes and the battle of the flowers will be fought out in full view of the assembled multitudes. Great ropes of roses will be stretched from the top of the electric tower to the four corners of the court, and festoons of flowers will be draped all along the fronts of the exposition buildings. The beautiful coloring of all these decorations will be seen on the afternoon of Saturday, and in the evening there will be the grandest illu-mination of the court that has yet been seen. The floral floats and barges and private equipages will pass in review under the search lights, and colored glasses will be used for kaleidoscopic effects. It is confidently expected that this will be the grandest success of any festival in the history of the exposition.
