SHORT SIGHTEDNESS.

When the U. P. sent the old Baker down over the rapids to Portland, all the old timers here said a foolish thing was being done, and present conditions prove it. In the first place the Baker was not needed on the lower river for already there the boneyard was full of just such boats. Here every summer there is urgent need of a steamer, and this season a boat would prove exceptionally useful. From present indications there will be from a week to two of interrupted travel. With a boat on the river this interruption would not be so keenly felt. It is true the Regulator is here and is available for any reasonable use the company might want to put her to, but to use the Regulator would cost the U. P. money, and that it does not feel like paying out. However the company can chuck its stars the Regulator is here for before the track is again in condition for travel it will be found indispensable. It is true there was nothing to justify the running of the Baker, but she could have remained in a boneyard of her own here, as well as in the big one at Portland and been brought out when the occasion demanded.

Next Monday the political battle will be fought—and won. The republican party is today invincible in Oregon. In view of the conditions, national as well as local, the individual members of that party should see to it that every name on the ticket is carried through with the same vote that every other name gets. This is no year for swaps, no time for trades. Wasco county is republican by 200 majority, and if any democrat gets into office it will be by republican votes. If the full ticket cannot be elected this year, it never can, and if every republican does his duty, it will be a clean sweep from top to bottom.

There is nothing that is absolutely an unmixed evil. While we are shut off from communication with the outside world, we can console ourselves with the reflection that Penoyer is at the same time shut off from us. Some things are worse than high water, or that other arrangement, the profane sometimes prefix to the term.

Henry Preserved Smith is a heretic. He has been so adjudged by his peers. Poor Henry! the name is sufficient excuse for the punishment, for with so many fresh Smiths why should one be fled away with the preserves?

PERSONAL MENTION.

L. E. Morse, democratic candidate for sheriff, is in the city.

HER HAIR FULL OF WEALTH.

How a Young Lady Stole Gold Dust and Diamonds.

"A young lady employed by a gold and silversmith in New York has only her good looks to thank for the fact that she was allowed to resign without being prosecuted for theft," remarked a resident of Brooklyn, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "She has an extraordinarily fine head of hair, which she allows to hang loosely over her shoulders and nearly down to her waist. From time to time it was noticed that the gold used in the room in which she worked did not go as far as it ought in making jewelry and gem settings, and that even allowing for the filings, which are most carefully preserved, there was a distinct leakage."

"Steps were taken to subject the employee to a more rigid search, but no discovery was made until the young lady with the long hair quarreled with her roommate over a love affair, and in a fit of jealousy her rival gave away the most interesting story. The young lady had kept her hair well greased, and then while at work would frequently pass her fingers through it casually, as though it were a mere matter of habit."

"By the process she accumulated a good deal of gold dust in her hair and sometimes dropped some diamond chips as well. Every night she combed out her locks with the smallest of tooth combs, carefully collected the peculiarly purloined treasure-trove and sold it without any difficulty. She broke down completely when taxed with the offense, made restitution as far as she was able, and her tears and promises were so profuse that she was then allowed to depart in peace, although her employer somewhat inconsistently took measures to prevent her obtaining further employment in the business in which she was an expert."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

"It came upon me very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both.
