JUNE JUNGLINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Fresh bread Wednesday morning at
A. Kellar's.

Hood River strawberries were sold here today for 85 cents a crate.

Twenty-two head of horses were taken below on the Regulator this morning.

The Winans brothers caught nearly five tons of fish with dip-nets yesterday.

By Saturday most of our business men will be moved back into their old stands.

The Umatilla restaurant closed after dinner today. Supper will be served at the house.

The Hood River Sunday school will have an excursion to the Cascades tomorrow, on the Regulator.

A. A. Brown has moved back into his old quarters, 170, Second street, and is prepared to furnish groceries to everybody.

The regular ticket went through straight from top to bottom yesterday.
Straight tickets have a habit of doing that this year.

Seventeen grand lodge representatives went down on the Regulator this morning—A. O. U. W. and Woodmen of the World members.

The D. P. & A. N. Co. has its old office on the corner of First and Court streets opened, and is ready to receive freight or express.

Twelve wagon loads of passengers were brought down yesterday evening from the Almota and taken below on the Regulator this morning.

Blakeley & Houghton have moved back into the old store, and the central and long-distance telephone offices are with them at the old stand.

There was a stiff breeze yesterday and a strong west wind prevails today. It is somewhat disagreeable on account of dust, but still is just what we need.

Seven hundred crates of berries will be up on the Regulator this evening, and will be hauled over to the Almota tonight. This will require ten teams at the least.

The Regulator brought up a good load of freight last night, and will come loaded hereafter. Yesterday the portage road worked nicely until the last trip, when the rails spread, letting the engine down, and causing a delay of a couple of hours.

Mr. John Kotter of Tygh valley was in the city today. He tells us the grain crops are looking fine, but will be late.
A heavy rain fell Saturday night, the rain reaching as far north as Dufur.

There was more excitement yesterday evening over the city election than over that of the state. There was one regular scrapping match and several talking matches but no serious damage was done.

Wool is arriving very freely again, and some grain is coming in. The Regulator took down about fifty bales of wool this morning, it being the first shipment since the high water got its deadly work in.

Tom Sullivan was arrested last evening by Marshal Maloney, and a charge of being drunk and disorderly entered against him. Appearing before the recorder this morning the evidence failed to substantiate the charge and he was dismissed.

The Pacific Express Co. sent all their local matter down this morning, their regular messenger accompanying it. In the future the express company will send a messenger with every lot of matter, coming up for connection with the Almota.

In many places the braces put in to hold the sidewalks down are still in place, causing great inconvenience. It is easy to dodge the rocks, but the braces should be taken down at once.

If the Dalles purposes doing anything in the way of celebrating the 4th of July it is high time that something was being done. Hood River has arranged for a big time, and no doubt many will go there unless something is done to keep them at home.

The Regulator brought up a very large lot of passengers last night and the Umatilla house was filled to its utmost capacity. When the lower floor rooms are again in shape it will be hard to crowd the old stand-by, for Sinnott & Fish always find room for all comers.

The weather bureau reports the Snake as having risen at Riparia .1 of a foot in twenty-four hours, ending at 8 o'clock this morning, and at Umatilla the Columbia as falling .2 of a foot during the same time. The indications are that the river will be at a stand for several days.

Saturday evening while A. E. Sutton, employed at Ward & Kerns' stable was hitching a horse to a buggy, the animal kicked, jerking the single-tree hook through the middle of his hand, tearing the tendons and nerves in a terrible manner. Dr. Hollister dressed the wound.

Hawthorne was brought before U. S.
Commissioner Huntington yesterday charged with the murder of Karpolis.
He waived preliminary examination and was taken below on the Regulator this morning by Deputy U. S. Marshal Dan Maloney. The Dalles has probably seen the last of him as the federal authorities keep fast hold of what they get, and if convicted he will probably be sent to some penitentiary in the east.

When the Baker Gets In.

The Baker will be up today, is a remark that is heard as soon as one gets out on the street in the morning, and it has been repeated until it has gotten a decidedly chestnutty flavor. We would be glad to see the Baker, or some other company boat because it will be a necessity in repairing the railroad. The Baker is, however, not here yet, nor is it likely to be very soon. Yesterday she got up a very short distance above the Dalles City landing with the aid of lines, but came near wrecking. She had two lines on her and when she took a dive for the bank one of them was cut, saving her from wreck. As it was she crashed into a fish-wheel, breaking out part of her wheel and tying up for the balance of the day. She has fifty cords of wood on board and will make a further attempt today. Nearly a mile of cable has been placed in the river and she expects to pull herself up with this to Sheridan point. This will bring her to where the first struggle begins, and to a point where the Dalles City can now go without the aid of lines. From Sheridan point up to the locks the pull is a hard one, and the chances are a hundred to one, that the old Baker will either go to the bottom, or the lines will be cut and she go sailing down the Columbia before she travels half the distance.
We do not believe the Baker will ever plow the waters of the middle Columbia, unless at low water she is brought up to the locks and hauled overland. The Undine or Lurline might make it to the locks now with some aid, but the chances of any boat surviving a pull by line from Sheridan point to the locks are as one to one thousand. The Baker will be here when she gets here—overland.

Drowned at the Cascades.

Two accidents occurred at Cascades yesterday, both of which terminated fatally. In the first case, a man named Jeff Wilkensen, who was employed by Geo. Stevens in fishing above the rapids, in company with another man went down to Stevens' upper fish-wheel, near the head of the rapids. They landed the boat at the head of the scow as they had been accustomed to do, but the falling water had changed the current and when the boat struck the scow it upset and was immediately drawn under the scow.
One man held to the scow and was pulled out, but Wilkensen went under with the boat, and in a moment was swept out and down towards the rapids.
He held on manfully, while parties on shore vainly tried to throw ropes to him, but none of them would reach him.
When the boat struck the boiling whirls of the rapids it and Wilkensen still clinging to it, were sucked down and seen no more. Mr. Wilkensen had been transferring berries across the portage for the Hood River Fruit Growers Union.
His parents live a short distance above Cascades. He was well known and liked by all who knew him being a frank, honest, industrious young man. In the other case, the particulars are somewhat meagre. All we could learn was that a man fell off a scow below the rapids and was drowned.

The General Purpose Cow.

Beef production and milk production in the same animal are often useful to the farmer, but should not be the aim of him who desires to receive the greatest amount of profit from the dairy. A first class beef and milk and butter cow, combined in one animal, is rarely, if ever seen; either the beef tendency will prevail, or the dairy qualities. All animals require so much food for support, and the balance that they are able to digest goes to keep up heat in the body and to the production of fat. This fat will not be evenly distributed—half in the animal frame and half in the milk pail. If the animal has been bred long in the line of beef production rather than milk and butter, the greatest amount of this fat will go to beef, and the reverse. The first class dairy cow cannot be made very fat while in good flow of milk. She cannot digest enough rich food above the amount required to maintain support to deposit a large amount of fat on her bones and maintain a heavy flow of milk at the same time. The general purpose cow, then, is not a strict reality, though there may be good milking strains of beef breeds, which are useful where beef is the main object.—Am. Agriculturist.

The City Election.

The following is the official canvas of the vote yesterday:
Mayor—Bolton, 1st ward, 166; 2d ward, 368; total, 534.
Recorder—Dufur, 1st ward, 121; 2d ward, 176; total, 297; Koontz, 1st ward, 48; 2d ward, 200; total, 246.
Marshal—Blakeney, 1st ward, 87; 2d ward, 224; total, 311; Crate, 1st ward, 58; 2d ward, 64; total, 120; Bills, 1st ward, 17; 2d ward, 69; total, 86; Aiken, 1st ward, 10; 2d ward, 16; total, 26.
Treasurer—Burger, 1st ward, 167; 2d ward, 375; total, 542.

ward, 140; Lewis, 1st ward, 3; Nielsen, 2d ward, 351.

Handsome Souvenirs.

It is already hard to realize in looking at the buildings how high the water was. Fortunately photographs have been taken of almost every store and building, so that no matter how many disputes may hereafter arise, the pictures will show the exact stage of the river. D. C. Herrin has a very fine selection of negatives, and his pictures are first-class in every particular.
Every resident should have them for future reference and to save his or her reputation for truth.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "la grippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on liver, stomach and kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with sick headache, you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c. at Snipes & Kinersly's drug store.

Cord Wood.

We again have an abundant supply of dry fir and hard wood for immediate delivery at the lowest rates, and hope to be favored with a liberal share of the trade.
Jos. T. Peters & Co.

Watch Lost.

One silver hunting case watch. The inside plate is engraved "Presented by Troop E, 2nd U. S. Cavalry, Louis Burkhard." A liberal reward will be paid for its return to the Skibbe hotel.
