JUNE JUNGLINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Harry Liebe is back at his old stand, 162 Second.

Garretson moved back to his old quarters today.

Hood River berries are selling at from 85 cents to one dollar a crate.

The Winans Bros. caught four tons of bluebacks by the dip-net process yesterday.

This is the longest day of the year.
Begin to prepare for winter. It will be here on the Baker.

The weather bureau reports heavy rains falling over the country east of us and on the headwaters of the Columbia.

Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen went down to the Locks this morning, just for the trip and to see how the water gets down over the rapids.

Morey, who was to have been hanged in Portland tomorrow, has received the benefits of executive clemency, his sentence being commuted to imprisonment for life.

Two crates of strawberries shipped from Hood River to Prineville last week went through in fine shape. This is all the comment necessary on their shipping qualities.

Cloud Cap Inn will be opened July 1st.
It is one of the most delightful places on earth, and every Oregonian should visit it, for no one can claim a knowledge of Mt. Hood without.

The city jail has been thoroughly cleaned, and is now pretty well dried and aired. The city recorder will probably make a trial run on it the first time a hobo shows up.

The grand lodge of A. O. U. W. met at Portland yesterday and will continue in session probably tomorrow. The attendance was large, and Portland, as usual, made it extremely pleasant for her guests.

Hood River will send 800 crates of berries up on the Regulator tonight.
Fourteen teams have been engaged to take them through to Celilo in time to catch the Almotas, which leaves for Umatilla at 6 o'clock.

flood did one mean trick, and that was to upset one or two of the fine poplars near his place.

Two wagon loads of berries sent up to the Almotas night before last, did not get there until after the boat left. The drivers made a mistake and took the road to the free bridge. Truly, Hood River is having a hard time with its berry crop.

The cannery is running to its fullest capacity and every available man is being put to work. The salmon run is almost unprecedented. We are told on reliable authority that one man with a dip net at the Cascades, caught $984 worth of them in three days.

We are told the Baker will not be up today, that the job has been abandoned for a while at least, and that the old boat has been taken down to Portland.
The Baker always was more noted for her speed running down stream. As a matter of fact she never made a record the other way.

This morning a fine crawfish was seen by a reporter, making his way across to the courthouse. It looked lonesome and may have been going after a license to wed. As he poked his old tinner's shears along in front of him, we could not help but think that he did not know the water had receded. His ignorance is inexcusable, for if he read THE CHRON-ICLE he would get the news.

The case of the state against James Crate has been on trial all afternoon before his honor Justice Davis and a jury of six citizens. The case is one of assault and battery, defendant being charged with striking a man named McKelvey the evening of the city election. W. H.
Wilson represents the state, E. B. Dufur the defendant. There were a dozen witnesses, among them two teamsters from Antelope, who have been kept here as witnesses ever since.

Mr. F. C. Clausen of Deschutes Ridge two years ago when in California purchased forty pounds of white Australian wheat, which he sowed on his place here, getting a return of fourteen bushels. This he again sowed, and tells us he has a fine start, the stalks being three feet high. The grain was put in last fall. Mr. Clausen thinks this is going to prove the wheat for this country, as it has for California. He brought in twelve head of beef cattle, which were sent below this morning.

Champions of the Inland Empire.

ANTELOPE, Or., June 18, '94.

EDITOR CHRONICLE: Last Saturday, June 16th, the Prineville and Antelope baseball teams crossed bats at this place for the championship of Eastern Oregon.
Both these teams have claimed this honor for the past year, and for this reason an unusual interest was aroused throughout the country when it was announced that the real champions would be made known by the result of this game. The Prinevilles brought along several ladies and leading citizens to see Antelope get snowed under, bringing along a large banner with the inscription, "Championship," and a multitude of flags with which to decorate their hacks and buggies on their way home. Their nine was in the pink of condition and as they had a professional pitcher and catcher, they were as sure of carrying off the laurels as that the sun would rise in the east and set in the west. The Antelope boys lacked practice to an alarming extent, not having had their nine together once this season, and for this reason they had given up all hopes of winning the game. The day was a splendid one and the game opened up at 2:30 p. m. The Prinevilles first took the bat and in the first inning made one tally. Antelope also made one tally in the first inning but up till the sixth inning Prineville had the best of it and the betting was 5 to 1 on the Crook county boys. In the sixth inning Antelope got down on her metal and played ball, piling up seven runs. This was a deadener on Prineville and she was never able to catch up again, although every effort was exerted. In Prineville's ninth inning she made two runs only, thus leaving the score standing 11 to 7 in favor of Antelope and an inning to spare. At this stage the crowd went wild, and old and young, little and big threw their hats in the air and yelled so hard that the diamond fairly trembled.
It was the most humiliating defeat a baseball team ever experienced, they having always been so over-sanguine that Antelope could never stand a ghost of a show with them. The Prinevilleites were all perfect gentlemen and ladies, however, and seemed to take their defeat in as good-natured way as possible.

A fine ball was given in the evening and everybody enjoyed himself immensely. The Prineville folks left early Sunday morning for home, but their championship banner and the aforesaid flags were not floated to the breeze.
They remained right in the bottom of the back beds. It was the most complete and grandest victory Antelope ever experienced and everybody is wild over the success of our boys. With a little practice as the Antelope boys had they played a remarkably fine game of ball, and the score shows for itself that these two teams are not so far behind the professional nines of the Pacific Northwest.
J. E. Shearer, our pitcher, is a dandy, and fanned out the Prinevilles without any effort. Harry Klepper, our catcher, is also a bird behind the bat, and deserves great credit. This leaves Antelope the undisputed champion of the Inland Empire, and they are without a doubt the finest amateur team in the state of Oregon.

The score stood:
Antelope.....11000720x
Prineville.....120010012 Hurrah for Antelope, the champion baseball players of Eastern Oregon.
