foreigners to come into it and to declare making some effort to annihilate them, with the whole business. we do not know where it is. This great big booby government sits stupidly by, while Slav and Hun shoot into passenger cars wounding citizens of this country who are utter strangers to the lawless mobs. If the state of Pennsylvania intends to stand this, the sooner her constitution is destroyed and she made a territory the better.

If there is not manhood enough left in the Americans of the East to rise up and cold and sore throat, and meeting his sweep the vile anarchists and riotous mobs out of the country, let them call on the West for volunteers. American power, let this firing on passenger trains with it every half hour." cease. Let the mobbing of American miners cease. Let peace reign in the tient, as the druggist handed him the foreign regions of this country, or as bottle. sure as the sun rises, the government of the people by the people will supersede it, and there will be such a cleaning of for years to come.

THE BEGGAR PULLMAN.

The American Railway Union in- so Numerous at Times as to Form a tends to boycott the Pullman company. This is good news to most travelers who tips. With millions of dollars gathered from the travelling public, Pullman gulls from the sea, and beasts evidently multitudes of others? from the travelling public, Pullman still carries on this system of beggary. He does it because he knows that the Scientific American, a fine red fox Chills and fever, congestive chills, can nothing for their services from Pullman.

There are beggars and beggars, but Pullman's company is more kinds of swine at once than any other on earth.

The steamship Signal is expected at Portland today with another batch of Chinese. It looks to a common every day man, like these steamship companies have a very soft snap. They panies have a very soit snap. They load up with Chinese and bring them to American ports. If the Chinese are admitted all right, if not, the companies medicine of its kind only promises, this needed is a law that will inflict a penalty on these companies for bringing passengers to this country whom it knows, or ought to know, are not entitled to land. As it is, a mob of heathen are brought to port, and by perjury or connivance earlier stages, are all cured by it.

It purifies and enriches the make a fee, and the law is trampled upon. The United States should abandon the fee system, and pay its officers stated salaries. When this is done the importation of Chinese will rereive a check, and the selling of liquors to Indians will be a lost industry.

The Telegram says "an income tax is a paternal measure." Our esteemed co-temporary has a queer idea of paternalism. We have always understood that term when applied to the actions of the government, to mean the caring for, giving to, or protecting its citizens, or its industries. Taxing a person or industry could hardly be considered a paternal act. Raising a revenue is not paternalism, nor is the levying of a tariff for the purpose of raising revenue paternalism. Our democratic friends have heretofore seen fit, with more propriety to call the tariff levied for the purpose of protection, by that name; but the levying of a tax and taking a but the levying of a tax and t certain proportion of one's income, is to say the least a very peculiar kind of loving and parental care.

SALT AND WATER.

4 Young Man Pays Dearly for His Ignor-ance of the Latin Tongue.

A little knowledge is more often a iseful than a dangerous thing, and a young man who knows "small Latin and ess Greek" discovered the fact not long ago. The Saturday Gazette tells the story:

A young Boston man had a slight cousin, who is a physician and some thing of a wag, he asked him what to do for it.

"Oh, I'll write a prescription for you," blood out this way surges hot through was the answer. He wrote it, and the vein and artery at the bare mention of gentleman glanced at it before taking the eastern outrages. As usual, they were eaten by the native population, both Mahometan and Jewish.

MEADOWS IN ENGLAND.

That idea would fit in nicely the snake at least be brought over to with the theory that central Asia was cease. There is nothing left of the mat- were still allowed to believe it, and hay making is certainly an art mainly practiced in cold countries for winter

Probably there are no meadows in the world, says the Spectator, so good as those in England, or so old. Yet from the early Anglo-Saxon times old meadow has been distinguished from "pastures," and has always been scarce. Two-thirds of what is now established meadow land still shows the marks of ridge and furrow; and from the great time required to make a meadowyears at least on the best land, a hundred on the worst-men have always been reluctant to break up old pasture. The ancient meadows, with their great trees and close, rich turf, are the sole portion of the earth's surface which modern agriculture respects and leaves in peace. Hence the excellence of the meadows of England and the envy of Holland's Three Cities.

In the strange little country of Holland the three principal cities are Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague. These cities, says the Dublin Independent, are a peculiar medley of canals and streets, trees and masts, bridges and boats. Amid their apparent disorder there is more or less of symmetry. Amsterdam is a semi-circle. Rotterdam an equilateral triangle, and The Hague a square. The difference between the three cities socially has been aptly put: "At Rotterdam fortunes are made; at Amsterdam they are consolidated; at The Hague they are spent."
