JUNE JUNGLINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

The river is at 43.5 today and receding very slowly.

The Regulator took down about 500 sheep this morning.

If a hall can be obtained, the Smith Bros. will give one of their old-time parties July 4th.

License to marry was issued this afternoon to Mr. F. M. Confer and Miss Mary A. Derthick.

Geo. A. Young has sold his entire clip of wool, amounting to about 70,000 pounds, at private prices.

Don't forget that Hood River is to celebrate the Fourth of July, and make your arrangements accordingly.

Pease & Mays' building is in the hands of the painters and is receiving a thorough cleaning and repairing.

The steamer Spokane came down this afternoon from Umatilla to Celilo bringing quite a number of passengers.

Mays & Crowe are having their spacious rooms kalsomined and painted and are rapidly getting their stock in shape.

F. W. L. Skibbe has taken a contract to board the U. P. employes engaged in repairing the track above here. There are some 200 of them.

Yesterday showed the best returns from the fish-wheels and nets in this vicinity of any day of the season. Stone's wheel caught eleven tons.

The funeral of Mrs. Peaslee took place this afternoon from the residence of Mr.
A. S. Macallister, the services being conducted by Rev. Curtis.

Postmaster Nolan informs us that he has received instructions to deliver the mails to Captain Coe, contractor. They will be carried on the steamer Irma.

The ferry boat has been busy nearly all day transferring sheep to Rockland, from which place they will be driven to the mountain pastures about the base of Adams.

There is no longer any excuse for rocks and old irons remaining on the sidewalks, and they should be removed at once, before some serious accident is caused by them.

A photograph of Sheriff-elect T. J.
Driver and Deputy Sheriff Phirman was captured by someone about the courthouse and this morning it was found hanging in the rogue's gallery with a placard attached offering 10 cents for the return of either of them.

A large force of men is at work between here and Celilo, and have the road in shape as far as the cannery. It will be finished through to Celilo in a week or ten days.

Wool teams are numerous. They report the roads in terrible condition on account of cloudbursts. Sherar has a large force of men at work, and will soon have his road in first-class condition.

As the portage at the Cascades gets better the pile of freight unloaded by the Regulator every night grows larger.
This morning there was a pile of boxes and sacks big enough, it looked like, to fill the boat.

Will Langille, the proprietor of Cloud Cap Inn, has been, and is yet, quite sick; but this will not prevent the opening of the Inn July 1st, as advertised.
Doug Langille will be on hand to welcome visitors on that date.

The wool from Dayville and that neighborhood is unusually late in coming in this year on account of bad roads.
The clip is extra good, and the yield heavy. The indications now are that the wool shipments for the year will aggregate 7,000,000 pounds.

Suit was commenced Monday by the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. against the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, to foreclose the mortgage on their road and rolling stock, suit being brought in the United States court, which made an order appointing Edwin McNeil receiver.

This has been an unusually disagreeable day. The wild and woolly west wind has evidently taken a contract to return to whence it came all the sediment and dust left us by our late visitor, the Columbia. Consequently there was plenty of dust in the air, and bound eastward.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve strawberries, ice cream and cake in the rooms formerly occupied by Mrs. LeBallister, next door to I. C. Nick-elsen's, this evening from 7 o'clock until 10:30. Ice cream and cake, 15 cents, with strawberries, 20 cents.

The case of the state against Walter Douglas was up again this morning, the testimony closing at 11 o'clock. Douglas is charged with larceny from a building in Sherman county. The principal witness on whom the state relies is young Eaton, who was a party to the offense and turned states evidence.

Quite a number of Hood River people have come to town over the old Dalles and Sandy wagon road. This is done because to come on the Regulator requires them to stay two nights in order to attend to any business. The road is not in very good shape, and the bridge being impassable at Hood River makes the trip a long one, the crossing at Tuckers being several miles out of the way.

The trial of James Lotan, Seid Back and E. P. Thompson, accused of smuggling opium, began in the U. S. court at Portland yesterday. These parties were tried before, the jury disagreeing. Nat Blum, the informer, returned from Washington recently, and will be the principal witness against them. Nat is loaded with figures and dates, is utterly hardened and is altogether a hard witness for the defense to either entangle or brow-beat.

The Wasco warehouse is the liveliest place in town. Young & Son's wool was baled yesterday and this morning, and other lots are being compressed as fast as the work can be done. Most of it is awaiting the falling of the Columbia so that it can be shipped by boat.

Over 100,000 pounds of wool were received yesterday, and 80,000 pounds Monday. A large amount of merchandise is handled daily, teams loading all the time for Goldendale and points south.

An Indian from the Warm Springs came into our office today desiring to sell a mortar, one of the prehistoric days, found at that place. It was a very perfect affair of its kind, being made of a solid granite boulder, and very pretty in shape. The outside is carved rudely, yet with true triangles, four just reaching around it. The price asked for it was $5, which was $4.90 more than we could dig, so we did not trade.

The county clerk tells us there are several marriage licenses issued, but that the parties interested request that they be kept from the public until the ceremonies are performed. It is really too bad to spoil an item our lady readers especially, are interested in, but we know how it is ourself. If there is anything on earth that awakens our tenderest sympathies and deepest veneration it is the uncertain but blissful importance of a young couple that are expecting and preparing to marry. If they don't want the public to know it, that settles it with us.

For hours today a small crowd of men have been standing at the corner of First and Washington watching the circus attending the loading of a flock of sheep on the ferry-boat. The only sounds that can be heard are Shoo-o from the men and bas from the sheep, for the profanity their actions must cause is not loud, but deep and heartfelt.
The measly animals circle round and round like a democratic platform, and are intense in their desire to go anywhere and everywhere except on the boat. By the exercise of a great deal of patience a batch of them are gotten on board, but every boat load causes a repetition of the game.

"Novelty Tea."

Dalles Lodge, No. 2, I. O. G. T., will give a "Novelty Tea" at K. of P. hall next Saturday night. A very enjoyable program will be given. If you feel that temperance is a help to the community come and spend an evening with us.
We promise you a good time. Admission, 25 cents, including lunch.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. R. Bone is up from Hood River.

Mr. G. D. Snowden returned from Tacoma last night.

Mr. Taffe, the grand duke of Celilo, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. E. W. Winans is up from Hood River visiting his sons Aud. and E. T.
Winans.

The DeMoss family arrived from New York last night on their way to DeMoss Springs, in Sherman county.

Mr. R. W. Baxter, superintendent of the Union Pacific, came up last night on business connected with the road.

Hon. J. F. Moore, register of the land office here, is expected from Prineville this week to assume the duties of the office.

Mr. Charles Wintermier, a former resident of this city, came up from Eugene last night, and is shaking hands with old friends.

Mr. George Young and son Fred, came up from Portland last night, bringing with them Miss Elsie Bills, a relative who accompanies them home for a summer's visit.

Mr. John Yagle of Quincy, Ill., brother of Mrs. Laughlin and uncle of B. E. Laughlin and Mrs. Lord, arrived here Monday evening on a visit to his relatives above named.

DIED.

At Center Ridge, June 25th, the infant daughter of L. R. Johnson, aged 8 weeks.

"Many of the citizens of Rainville, Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton druggists.

There is nothing but danger in the intimacy of a married heart with an unmarried one, unless there be other relationships which justify it.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison Co., Mo., says: "For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences.
There is no danger in giving the Remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

The charitable bequests in London every year exceed $5,000,000.

There are over 3,000 charitable organizations in the United States.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it.
Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal.
