A PECULIAR STRIKE.

The strike of the American Railway Union went with the sweep of a conflagration over the northern half of the United States. Beginning in an attempt to boycott Pullman, from the very nature of the latter's business the railroads were drawn into it. The grievance against Pullman that caused the boycott was the reduction of wages in his shops, the employes insisting that he was trying to squeeze them by reducing wages, while making no reduction in his charges to the public. The union declared a boycott against him, and the railroad employes refused to handle his cars, or trains running them. The railroad companies refused to run trains without Pullman cars, and this forced the issue, as between them and their employes. As soon as the latter refused to move trains with Pullman cars attached, they were discharged, and the union considering their discharge unjust, stood by them and a strike is the result. It is far-reaching and of tremendous proportions. In Chicago alone 18,000 men are out. Engines are "killed," and the cars stand idly on the tracks.

The issue is squarely made, and it looks as though the fight would be to a finish. The effect of the strike, if maintained for any length of time, will be appalling. The loss in wages alone to the strikers will be over a million dollars a day while the loss incidental to the strike will be double that. The loss to California fruit growers, whose crops are just now ripening, will run into the millions, and the paralyzing of business will add many millions more.

It is to be hoped that some solution may be reached soon, in the interest of all. What the result will be it is impossible to foresee, for it is a case wherein an irresistible force has struck an immovable body. That this strike, however, will be the cause of bringing nearer the day when the government will control the railroads and telegraph lines, we firmly believe. The country cannot afford to have its business paralyzed while labor is settling its grievances with some corporation, as in the present case.

The peculiarity of the situation is that the union has a quarrel on its hands with its employers over a matter that the latter are not interested in. The hope of the strike is in the weakness of some one company, for if one concedes the demands of the union, it will do a tremendous business at the expense of the others, and it is quite probable this will be done. If not, the strikers must lose, for the roads can remain idle longer than the men.

THE WHEAT OUTLOOK.

The government reports decreased acreage the past two years 5,500,000 acres. The Prairie Farmer claims about the same acreage now as in 1892. Export crop reporters predict a yield in 1894 varying from 380,000,000 to 500,000,000 bushels. Many grain merchants seem to expect a crop of about 450,000,000 bushels. It is conceded the world's acreage and yield shows little if any decrease in the past decade. Some statisticians claim consumption has increased about five million bushels yearly. The London Economist is authority for the statement that the Vienna congress meets this year for the last time. India has only exported since April 1st about 45 per cent. as much as last season same time. Argentine shipments this crop year have increased about 35 per cent. Beerbohm reports total shipments to Europe for forty-four weeks as 276,160,000 bushels, against 265,440,000 the previous season; the continent importing about four bushels for every five Great Britain took. Germany's imports August 1st to April 30th last were 15,120,000 bushels, against 13,824,000 last season. Italy imported the same nine months 16,600,000 bushels, against 26,992,000. Spain's imports same time were 11,272,000 bushels, against 9,588,000 bushels.

The Mark Lane Express of the 18th inst. reports only 10,000,000 bushels remain in English farmers' hands, against 13,600,000 bushels a year ago. That cereals everywhere throughout Great Britain promise badly, owing to the cold weather. That France shows a similar state of affairs, and Germany will certainly be short. That rust extends through the Australian and Hungarian wheat fields, and they have also suffered from storms. That the Russian harvest, including Bulgaria and Roumania, promises well. Cables from Havre, Marseilles, Antwerp and Berlin are somewhat complex, reporting changeable weather. Roumania's reports are good. Belgium wheat and rye promise an average crop. Few or no complaints come from our early winter wheat fields now being cut. The more northern and western winter and spring wheat belts seem to be about as varied and spotted as European reports indicate their crops are.

Summing up the world's crop, we are led to believe the acreage and yield will show a possible 5 to 8 per cent. shortage, while consumption will be increased on account of the very low price. The freight from Chicago to this city is but 4 cents per bushel, against 40 cents thirty years ago. To Liverpool about 2 1/2 cents, against 25 cents thirty years ago. The bread loaf in London was never cheaper. We look for weather markets, and, generally speaking, higher prices, with more speculation, increased export demand, and a decrease in the export surplus the coming year.—Weekly Market Letter.

HOW OLD IS SHE?

Little Miss Haight, of No. 286 Madison avenue, graduated from her incubator Wednesday last, after a four months' residence there and took her place among the full-fledged patrician babies of New York. It will be remembered that the wife of E. Clarence Haight, died February 24th last, just after the birth of a daughter, who arrived some three months before she was expected. It was not for a moment thought that the baby would long survive her mother, but Dr. Carleton had an incubator made immediately, and the little one, who weighed less than two pounds, was put in it. She is today as strong and healthy as any young baby of her age.

It looks to an outsider like the railroad boys are working against their own interest in refusing to run construction trains. There is not a particle of danger of the Union Pacific hauling Pullman cars over this part of the road, not at present any way. The road should be put in condition to run when the strike is settled sometime. This part of the country is not interested in Pullman cars, being willing to travel on anything larger than a wheelbarrow.

Kent Notes.

Farmers are commencing to get ready for harvest. Hands seem to be scarce. Most machine men have commenced to engage their help. A good many will head and thrash. Grain looks good, the prospects being the best we ever had, but no prices. Everything seems to go the wrong way for the poor. Some of the republicans started out to boycott the populists, but as hands are scarce, they have commenced to look after some of the same ones they had refused to give work to some time ago; but alas! the bird had flown.

Gillis Kelsey will commence haying today.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods, from near Moro, were visiting friends and relatives at and near Kent last week.

A little boy of Mr. Peters' was thrown from a horse, caught and dragged to death a few days ago. We did not learn any of the particulars. Parents should be more careful about letting their little children ride so young. They do not realize the danger.

Squire Comstock is doing the bachelor act this week. His wife is visiting near Moro.

Bennett Bros. are engaging their hands for heading and thrashing. They will head and thrash this season.

Fred Merchant and James Spoonmore came up from Southern Oregon last week. They made the trip in five days and one-half, in an overland flyer. The boys seem to think there's no place like Sherman county.

W. H. Bennett made a flying trip to Moro last week on business.

Zack Taylor is hauling damaged wheat from M. H. Bennett's place.

J. Donahue and B. M. Brown are in The Dalles with wool this week.

Rev. Hinton of Grass Valley preached to quite an attentive audience in the blue schoolhouse yesterday. Come again, Mr. Hinton, we like to see the good work go on. UNCLE ISAAC.

KENT, June 25, 1894.

Center Ridge Items.

Died on the 25th inst., the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, aged 2 months and 11 days, of whooping cough. The remains were interred at Warren's cemetery.

At Long Hollow schoolhouse, on the 29th inst., an entertainment was had at which the school children participated. A very enjoyable evening was spent, much to the credit of its teacher, Miss E. M. Ball. A. R. M.

Deserving Praise

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, as we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their real popularity purely on their merits. Snipes & Kinerly's druggists.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

AN ANIMAL'S GRATITUDE.

How It was Clearly Shown by a Wild Tigress.

"Savage beasts, even in their native wilds, sometimes recognize an act of kindness, and show their gratitude by the most unmistakable signs," remarked an old sea captain recently. "A number of years ago the ship which I then commanded was becalmed off the coast of India, and taking a boat of men, I went ashore in search of fresh water. In some way I became separated from the crew, and in wandering around was a good deal startled at coming directly upon a full grown tigress. Much to my surprise, the beast did not make any hostile demonstrations toward me, but crouching on the ground looked steadfastly first at my face and then at a tree a short distance away. For a time I could not understand this conduct, and, not daring to run for fear she would at once overtake me, I stood rooted to the spot. Presently the tigress arose and walked to the tree, looking backward as she went. On turning my gaze aloft, I saw among the branches of the tree what had caused the evident solicitation of the tigress. There, perched in one of the limbs, sat a big baboon with two little tiger cubs in its arms. Having an ax with me I started to cut the tree down, the tigress watching me intently all the while. When the tree fell and the three animals with it, the tigress pounced upon the baboon and with great fury dispatched it. After gently caressing her offspring, she turned to me with a look which plainly expressed her thanks for the service I had rendered her. She then disappeared in the forest, her two cubs trotting behind her."

Look up, and not down, if you're a suffering woman. Every one of the bodily troubles that come to women only has a guaranteed cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That will bring you safe and certain relief. It's a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, and it builds up and invigorates the entire female system. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength. For ulceration, displacements, breaking-down sensations, periodical pains, and all "female complaints" "Favorite Prescription" is the only guaranteed remedy. If it even fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
