THE SAME OLD WEAKNESS.

It is passing strange that labor will learn nothing from example, but such is the indisputable fact. Strike after strike has met its downfall from attempting to use force in attaining its ends. And yet, in spite of these examples, the first thing a lot of strikers do is to not only run against the corporation employing them, but against the

The history of strikes from the first shows that this one fatal weakness, the loss of self control and the failure to recognize the rights of others, is the rock on which all of them split. The present strike was large enough and strong enough to have won, by simply doing nothing; but impatient and hotheaded leaders will kill it just as surely headed leaders will kill it just as surely as the sun rises. They have, indeed, already begun to stab it at every oppor-tunity. At Red Bluff, California, the tracks were greased, the treatles burned. tracks were greased, the trestles burned, the latter perhaps not by the strikers, but still they are blamed with it. At other places the militia has been called out to protect the non-union called out to protect the non-union men. Had the strikers maintained a negative policy, the public sympathy would have remained with them, but the moment force is used to intimidate or drive any other workman away from work he is willing to do, then public sympathy is against them.

In other words, the right to work, or let at alone must be granted to every man, and this being done, no man can object sto any other man doing work for such wages and under such circumstances as /he may choose to accept. Since this strike is on, we would like to see it business at Kingville, Mo., has so much fought to a legitimate conclusion, and hence regret the action of the men who era and Diarrhoea Remedy that he warhave prevented this.

A Racking Cough Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genessee St., Lockport, N. Y., says :

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was and had about decided to sit up all night in my easy chair, and procure what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments, I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."

twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I give it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to .giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. MARLOW, M. D., Tamaros, Ill.
