A LYING HISTORIAN.

We have recently read, with mingled feelings of amusement and indignation, Hubert Howe Bancroft's History of Utah, a charming sketch, viewed as a literary effort, but as unreliable as a democratic senate.

According to this scrub quill driver, posing as a historian, but never rising above the dignity of a penny-a-liner, the murder of 119 emigrants at the Mountain Meadows was a Christian act, compared to the treatment the Mormons had received, and the murders of Doctor Robinson, the Parrishes, and dozens of others were all caused by the wickedness, not of the Mormons, but of the parties.

We know something of those times personally, and after a careful perusal of Hubert Howe Bancroft's work, we can say, without prejudice, that if he ever knew the truth about anything connected with Utah, he never told it.

The strike is still on, but the strikers are no longer in command of the situation. Slowly the railroads are resuming business, but that they are resuming indicates that the end is coming.

The conference committee, appointed by the senate and house to reach some agreement on the Wilson bill, is in session daily, or rather the democratic portion of it is. They ought to reach some agreement soon, if they reach it at all, which we do not believe they will do.

Astronomers tell us that two comets are now visible from the earth. Gates' comet is visible through an ordinary opera glass, while the other, known as Temple's, is so faint that only the most powerful telescope can distinguish it.

A disbanded Coxeyite, while looking at the cars standing on the track at Spokane, remarked, "Time sets all things even, and it is now boss and boss. Six weeks ago the railroad managers stopped the trains rather than let us Coxeyites ride. Now the other fellows are stopping them and they can't ride themselves."

The following deed was filed for record today: Wenceslaus Pashek and wife to Max. Vogt and Phillipine Chapman 80 acres in W 1/2 of SW 1/4 sec. 30, tp. 1 n, range 15 e.

W. H. Nelson, who is in the drug business at Kingville, Mo., has so much confidence in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he warrants every bottle and offers to refund the money to any customer who is not satisfied after using it.

THEY SWORE OFF.

But the Young Man's Will Was Weak and He Learned a Lesson.

A prominent young man of the city has been an inveterate cigarette smoker for several years past, and he indulged in the habit to such an extent that it was injuring his health.

It was hard work for the young man, but every time he hungered for a wad of nicotine his mind pictured the form of his fair one parading down the street with her face looking like a pan of dough, and he desisted.

They were to go to the theater and the young man called with the cab. The young lady was at the door, her face closely veiled, and in her hand the bouquet that cost him five.

"Just as you say," was the quiet response. "Well, I say no. I am not traveling with freaks now. We'll go back alone."

A corps of women militia is the latest step in the emancipation of England. The ladies expect to fill all the war-office conditions of efficiency and promise to be ready to take the field should war break out.

THE SPANARD, however courteous he may be, never invites a guest to dinner. In Italy, too, the privacy of the family is seldom invaded at the dinner hour.

Sufferers from chills and fever, who have used quinine as a remedy, will appreciate Ayer's Agree Cure. This preparation, if taken according to direction, is warranted a sure cure.

SOUTH AFRICA is having the hottest summer known in fifty years. During the early part of last month the average shade temperature at Cape Town was 90 to 95 degrees, the heat in the sun ranging from 130 to 150.

Malaria in any of its forms, Chills and fever, congestive chills, can be prevented or cured by the use of Simmons Liver Regulator, a purely vegetable medicine, superior to calomel and quinine.

A PARIS newspaper offers prizes for the best designs for a new issue of French postage stamps. The present stamps, issued in 1875, have always been subjected to much harsh criticism.

The Modern Jack Horner. "Little Jack Horner sat in a corner, Eating a Christmas pie; He put in his thumb and pulled out a plum, And said: 'What a good boy am I!'"

But little Jack Horner became a deep mourner when older he grew and a relation. For his liver, it is said, was like a dead weight, As he drank wine and ate too much mutton.

Poor Jack's time of grief, however was brief, And of his grief he ceased to be fearful; For a poor friend said "Well let's try Pierce's Peppermint Cure."
