IMMIGRATION INDEFENSIBLE.

The Oregonian, in an editorial yesterday, deprecates the growing sentiment against immigration, and points out the fact that a few years ago immigration boards were looked upon as of public benefit. At the same time it suggests that "the importation of 100,000 or 150,-000 Huns, Slovachs, Bohemians, Poles and Italians annually for five years would only make one per cent of our population." The Oregonian is theoretically correct; practically wrong. It reasons from false premises, and of course arrives at false conclusions. Its first premise is that this immigration is composed of classes similar to our own population; while the truth is that, while of the native population one-fifth, or perhaps one-third, of one per cent are criminals, of the element spoken ot ten per cent are naturally criminals, and eighty per cent, from their ignorance, lack of understanding of our system of government and inability to stand freedom, are easily led into oppothat some of our best citizens are foreign born; but the element spoken of do not make good citizens. Besides, looked at from a business standpoint, White Salmon. Judge Read of Colothe country has all the laborers it can rado, who is on his way to Portland, acfind work for.

Our esteemed cotemporary recently the San Francisco papers for holding out promises of work to the unemployed of that city if they would go to Portland, because the high water would necessarily create a demand for laborers. We have all the men the industries of the country will support. Those who come will either find no work, or take the job needed by our own people.

Until the foreign laborer is needed he should be kept out. The big mining did, and in two days was able to be therein in case said contract shall be corporations flooded the country with undesirable laborers. The perpetual turmoil and crime pervading the mining regions are the unanswerable arguments against further continuing the practice of encouraging, or even permitting that class of immigration.

TROOPS NOT NEEDED.

The Wallace Miner of Shoshone county, Idaho, demands the establishment of a permanent military post in the Cour d'Alenes, claiming that lawlessness has such a control of the country that it will be impossible to work the mines otherwise. It is a spectacle indeed when American laborers in America have to be protected at their work from attack by foreign laborers. Cour d'Alene does not need a permanent post. It needs a judge and a jury who are not afraid to do their duty. If the civil authorities are not strong enough to cope with the armed law-breakers let the troops be called upon to arrest them. this date. I. I. Burger, City Treas. Then let the courts and the citizens do their duty. Administer justice speedily and sharply. Let red-handed murderers know that the law is swift and certain and that death is the penalty. To establish a permanent military post in a onehorse mining camp to keep in restraint a few hundred assassins, is establishing a precedent this country neither wants nor needs. What the country needs more than soldiers is judges and prosecuting attorneys who administer the law instead of laying down wires for re-budding anarchy and strikes, the country has gone from bad to worse. To crown it all, our champion yacht, the Vigilant, has gone over into British waters and has been beaten in the five races in which she participated. And now on top of this Oxford beats our Yale men all hollow in every sort of athletic sport. Eighteen hundred and ninety-three was a hoodoo, but it was only a starter as compared to its successor, 1894, which is only half grown, but has broken the record for all kinds of "cussedness."

Jas. Hards, who was convicted af the May term of the circuit court in 1893 for the killing of Eara Arneld on Big Butte, in this county, about 30 years ago, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 15 years and lately pardoned out, returned to Jacksonville, says the Times. He "Love at Seventy" .. by Albert Ross. 50c served little over a year. Hards married Arnold's daughter or step-daughter, and, it appears, at the special instance of Arnold. After Hards had been married for sometime Arnold took his wife away from him and would not let Hards come to the house to see her. This state of affairs existed for sometime and Hards went to the house one day to get his wife, or remonstrate with Arnold for keeping her away from him, when trouble ensued between them, and Hards shot and killed him. A Racking Cough

Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genessee St., Lockport, N. Y., says:

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was

and had about decided to sit up all night in my easy chair, and procure what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments, I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."
