JULY JINGLINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Pendleton ladies have organized a bicycle club, and are going to wear bloomers.

The Dalles baseball boys will play a team from Hood River at the fair grounds Sunday, commencing at 2 o'clock.

The wires went down shortly after 2 o'clock, cutting us out of our dispatches.
The service when completed will about fill three columns.

The funeral of the late C. E. Haight will take place from the family residence on Fourth, between Liberty and Union, at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Don't forget that the Regulator will make a trip tomorrow. Take advantage of it to get out of the dust and heat and enjoy a ride on the grand Columbia.

The Regulator will leave for Cascade Locks tomorrow about 9 o'clock. This is the time fixed now, but should time be made up by the train, it may go earlier; but at any rate not before 7.

Sheriff Driver owned a bear, but owns him no longer. It was only a small cub, but it was all bear, what there was of it. Yesterday it got loose and in the course of half an hour ate up Tom's crop of spring chickens.

Draymen complain that with the immense amount of freight arriving every day it is almost impossible to make anything, owing to the inconvenience of the wharf. Mr. Dan French had the side wharf extended yesterday, but until the lower wharf is reached the inconvenience will have to be borne, as it cannot be helped.

Merchants in the interior want to put it down in the tablets of their memory that they can get anything they want in the merchandise line in The Dalles. Big supplies of sugar, salt and sulphur are on hand, harvesting machinery is abundant, and our merchants are ready to stock up their neighbors in the interior at prices that will compete with those of Portland.

We incline to the opinion that the statement made by the Glacier that 166 persons reached the summit of Mt. Hood an error, as only thirty four took the goat rank. It is more probable that that number gathered around the mountain, but did not make the ascent.
The election of H. D. Langille, to the office of vice-president was a deserved honor.

Death of Charley Haight.

At five minutes past 8 o'clock last night Charles E. Haight dropped dead in Kinerly's drugstore. He had been rowing on the river in company with Mr. Mohr, and came directly from the river to the drugstore. He had his coat over his arm and after talking a moment to Mr. Kinerly and Frank Clarke went to the back end of the store where there is a box with shoe-blackening and a brush, laid his coat on a pile of wall paper, and prepared to black his shoes. In a moment Kinerly and Clarke heard a fall, and Charley Clarke called them, saying Mr. Haight had fallen. Charley was near him and looking at him when he fell. Mr. Haight had gone to the box and as he reached it began to stagger, fell over against the counter catching it with both hands and in a few seconds turned over to the right and fell on his back. Drs. Sutherland and Doane were both near the store and came hurriedly in, the latter after a momentary examination prepared and administered a hypodermic injection of digitaline, following it with one of brandy. In the meanwhile Dr. Sutherland had opened his shirt and found but a faint fluttering of the heart, with a scarcely discernible pulse. The blood was running from his mouth, and to give him a better chance to breathe he was turned on his side, but after a gasp or two he was dead.
The body was taken to Michell's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial.
Rev. Whisler and Dr. Hollister in the meanwhile informing as gently as possible, Mrs. Haight of the sad bereavement that had fallen upon her. The little lady bore up bravely and if the sympathy of the entire community can avail to lighten the blow, it surely is here.

Deceased was 38 years of age, of a jovial, kindly disposition, and leaves innumerable friends to mourn his sudden taking off. He was a member of Friendship lodge, K. of P. and will be buried according to the ceremonies of that order, the funeral taking place tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock.

THE ASCENT OF MT. HOOD.

The Mazamas Reach the Summit in a Thunder Storm.

The Mazamas assembled in force at Cloud Cap Inn and Government Camp, and although the weather on the morning of the 19th was anything but propitious for the ascent, all were eager to make the start. A thunder storm came up at 2 o'clock in the morning, and later on a terrific wind storm, with rain at 8 o'clock. On the south side of the mountain the early climbers were treated to a hail storm.

The Portland party, from Government Camp, were the first to start, and their advance reached the summit at 8 a. m.
At that hour a regular hurricane was blowing and the party had to hug the snow drifts for shelter. The climbers from Government Camp kept arriving at the summit until 2:55 in the afternoon. The Cloud Cap party left the Inn at 9:30 and reached the summit in five hours. The following named persons reached the summit of Mt. Hood from Cloud Cap Inn:

Miss Alice Cleaver, Miss Della Watson, Miss Olive Hartley, Miss Ida Foss, E. C. Stuart, Frank McClure, Griff Per-rott, Ed. Williams, S. E. Bartness, W.
W. Nason, H. J. Mand, C. H. McIsaac, E. T. Simmonds, James Dimmick, J. E.
Hanna, Will Mercer, A. J. Johnson, H.
D. Langille, P. C. McGuire.

The Cloud Cap party left the summit at 3:55 in the afternoon and made the descent in 1 hour and 45 minutes; all arriving at the Inn in good shape.

One hundred and sixty-six climbers reached the summit during the day.
Eighty-four others failed to reach the top of the mountain or turned back on account of the storm.

The Mazamas organized on the summit of the mountain with 35 charter members, 25 from the Government Camp party and 10 from Cloud Cap.
The following officers of the society were elected:

W. G. Steel of Portland, president; H. D. Langille of Hood River, first vice president; — Wilbur of Portland, second vice president; Prof. Chapman of Eugene, third vice president; A. J.
Johnson of Astoria, fourth vice president; Miss Fay Fuller of Tacoma, historian; C. H. Shoals of Portland, secretary; F. C. Little of Portland, treasurer.

While the Cloud Cap party were on the mountain the atmosphere was clear and the view to be had of the surrounding country was grand. The snow peaks in sight were Mts. Jefferson, Thielsen, Shasta, Three Sisters, Adams, Rainier and St. Helena. They could see the Columbia river below Portland, and Eastern Oregon to the Blue mountains.
Carrier pigeons were sent to the Oregonian by Mr. Parrott—the first from Cloud Cap and three from the summit.
Those sent from the summit seemed to appreciate their altitude, for after flying around once above the mountain, commenced circling down and down until lost from view far below in a more congenial atmosphere.

Those making the ascent from Cloud Cap speak in high terms of the management of Doug. Langille. His new route from the inn makes the ascent much easier. About one thousand feet of rope made fast near the summit and stretching down the steepest part of the mountain made the descent comparatively safe.

Mr. McIsaac of Portland, weighing over 200 pounds, made the ascent with ease. Another man, 52 years of age, reached the top of the mountain.

S. E. Bartness, Ed. Williams, Griff Parrott and Frank McClure left Cloud Cap at 2:10 yesterday morning, along with Perry McCrory, arriving at Hood River at 7:05. To this party we are indebted for incidents of the trip.

Following is a list of the arrivals at Cloud Cap Inn:

Miss Jeanette Williams, Miss Grace Williams, Miss M. Grace Hollister, The Dalles; C. H. McIsaac, E. T. Simmonds, E. C. Stuart, Mrs. E. C. Stuart, Miss Bertha Stuart, Miss Kate Sitton, Portland; A. J. Johnson, Astoria; James A. Snyder, La Crosse, Wisconsin; S. J.
LaFrance, Ed. Williams, Miss Olive Hartley, Miss Della Watson, Lee Hoffman, Mrs. Lee Hoffman, C. F. Swigert, Mrs. C. F. Swigert, E. E. McClure, Griff Parrott, Portland, and 25 campers.—Glacier.

Help Us Keep It Up.

We present to our readers today the cream of the dispatches. Should the Regulator not bring up the mail tomorrow—Sunday, these dispatches would not reach here through the Portland papers until Monday night, and would not be seen by most of our people until Tuesday morning. It costs money to keep up the service, and we hope our citizens will assist us in keeping it up by giving us a generous patronage.
THE CHRONICLE should be in every house in the city.
