Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets finflamed you have a rumbling sound or -imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; aine cases ont of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an infamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarth what cannot be cured by Hall's Catarth Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

EARLY MARRIAGES.

Reason Why Such Are to Be Regretted-Here and in Europe

Though in this country early marringes are less frequent than in Europe, because here the occupations of women are so numerous that nearly every young woman can maintain herself respectably by carning her own living, while in Europe the same class find matrimony almost the only avenue . through which they can escape from a dependent position at home, says the Boston Herald. It is none the less important to know that the marriages contracted before the parties have reached 20 are to be regretted. The reasons are that the offspring of women who are married before 18 inherit the imperfect physical development of their mothers and do not reach mature life with strong constitutions. The healthiest offspring are born to mothers between 20 and 30, who are united to husbands between 30 and 40, and it has been found in Europe, where carly marriages are very common, that the deaths of children from weak constitutions are twice as large among the children whose mothers were under 20 years of age as they were among the children of mothers who were over 20. The difference between America and Larope in this matter of early marriages is chiefly due to the way in which our girls are able to reach out to self-support after they have attained a maringeable age. Dr. Cyrus Edson, in the North American, gives important statistics to show that, although in this country the evil of early marriages is not so great as it might be, the number of brides under 20 who were married in New York city in 1891 was 2,839; in 1892 it was 5,959. The number of grooms under 20 years of age in New York city for that year was 145. By far the greater number of brides are reported to have been 25 or 26 when they were married, which is a healthy showing for an American city, and New York is probably a fair evidence for the age of brides in other large towns and cities. In Hungary the girls become women at the age of 13, and in that country 15 per cent. of the marriages shows the brides to be under 30 years of age, and in England 12 per cent, are under that age. In America girls are practically free to marry when they please and the instinct of self-preservation has guarded them well.

DO AS THEIR FATHERS DID.

Philadelphia People and Their Curious Notions of Social Eligibility.

Philadelphians well deserve their reputation for slowness. Progression is an unknown word in the Quaker city. The fashionable people scorn any innovations, as they desire to continue to do as their fathers did. When of the world's Columbian exposition, you look upon the number of slow and the regular price is fifty cents, but as we uncertain horse-car lines and the aggravating speed of their cable cars, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Dispatch, you can well judge the temperament of a people who will stand by and suffer such things. Philadelphians are perhaps the most peculiar, clannish, unchangeable people that exist in any city of the country. They possess certain traits of character and ideas regarding sociology, which will probably be found still thriving and strong by anyone going to Philadelphia a hundred years hence. The ef-ly assist 1,778,000 persons. fect of the absurd idea that the eligibility to soar in the mystic circles of ionable Onakerdom is to be d termined by the answer to the question whether he resides uptown or downtown can never be appreciated by one who is not a Philadelphian, or, at least, well acquainted with that city's social peculiarities. It causes people to pay twice as much rental in the downtown residence district for houses not half as good as could be gotten uptown, not to say anything of the questionable pleasure of living among saloons, groceries and shops of all kinds. Instead of dying out, as one would expect it to do in this enlightened age, this feeling regarding the difference one's place of residence makes upon his social standing is positively becoming more bitter. This is one of the peculiarities that Philadelphia will retain as long as it exists. Any attempts that have been made to obliterate the dividing line have only ended in dismal failure, leaving the situation much worse than before. The Death Watch Superstition.

The little insect popularly called the death watch or tick is a limber-boring insect which usually commences its sound late in the spring, and is no other than the call by which the male and female are led to each other, the same as with birds during the mating owing to the voice of the insect but to its beating on or striking any hard substance with the shield or fore part of its head. The prevailing number of strokes are from seven to nine and eleven, and it is this circumstance which probably adds to the ominous character it bears among ignorant and superstitions persons by the women who are ailing and suffering, or weak and exhausted. And, to every such woman, hely is guaranteed by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For young girls just entering womanhood; women at the critical "change of life"; women approaching confinement; nursing mothers; and every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, it is a medicine that builds up, strengthens, and regulates, no matter what the condition of the system.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nervine, and the only guaranteed remedy for "female complaints" and weaknesses. In bear-ing-down sensations, periodical pains, alceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It is said by experts that practical, even-tempered' men usually write a plain, round hand, in which every letter is legible, and that more ambitious men write hastily and carelessly.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I give it the usual treatment in such cases, but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. MABLOW, M. Scientists Trying to Find Out if the Earth Is Off Its Base.

It may not be very generally known, writes a Washington correspondent, that observations are to be made simultaneously at Washington and at Manila, in the Philippine islands, which is almost directly opposite Wash-ington on the other side of the globe, to see what is the matter with the axis of our little planet. Observations show that for some time the earth has not been revolving on that important. if imaginary, support, as she has done for centuries, and scientists have decided that it is time to find out, if possible, what it all means. Those who have studied the subject declare that, if the variations continue, in the course of some very long and very indefinite period we shall have an arctic climate at Washington, and the latitude of every place on the globe will be changed, and our geographies will useless. An equatorial telescope has been finished and sent to Manila, and before long diligent inquiry will be made into the whys and wherefores of the peculiar performances of old Mother Earth.

While one set of scientists are trying to find out about the axis another party is endeavoring to find out why the magnetic needle varies so, as these variations of the needle affect not only the mariner, but real estate owners. and in large cities where every foot is valuable this is not to be overlooked. These latter observations are being made by the geodetic and coast survey and will not be completed for several years.
