JULY JINGLINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Tomorrow is collection day, the saddest day of the year.

Those desiring to ship fruit in the carload being made up today, will find Mr. Brown, who is in charge of the experiment, at the Umattilla house.

A fine run of big chinooks is on the way up the river and should reach here Friday or Saturday. The fishermen will only have a week to gather them in, as the close season begins on the 10th.

Four people suffering from that tired feeling were before the city recorder this morning, explaining just what made them weary, and in the end they were fined $5 each, which they will work out.

The Columbia is still twenty-five feet above low water mark here. The upper end of the lower wharf is beginning to show, and an addition is being built to it so that teams can hereafter turn on that wharf, which will be a great convenience.

Governor Penney and State Treasurer Metschan are to be, or were at the Locks today for the purpose of examining the state portage road and arranging for having it put in running order. The damage is comparatively slight, and the expenditure of a thousand dollars will probably make it as good as new.

Mr. Willis Brown, representing the Oregon Fruit Union, is in the city, and engaged in getting a carload of fruit for shipment east, which he will probably do today. The idea of the union is to ship directly to the dealer in the East, and so avoid commissions. The result of the experiment will be awaited with considerable interest.

Last evening Marshal Blakeney and Night Watchman Gibbons found a weary citizen slumbering in a dry goods box near Harris' corner. In order not to disturb his dreams, being tender-hearted people, they just picked the box up contents and all, and walked up to the city jug with it. The sleeper was quietly rolled into a bunk, and the box brought back and set for another one.

The O. R. & N. has notified the managers of the D. P. & A. N. that no transfers will be made after today, as the road will be opened through to Portland. The work of repairing the line has been pushed to completion in a remarkably short time, and the result is largely due to the efforts of Superintendent Borie. Mr. Borie excels in such work, grasping all the details at a glance, and so managing that the work rounds up and is completed all at once. Mr. McNeill made a wise selection in making Mr. Borie superintendent of the system.

The Meeting Last Night.

The meeting last night to take steps towards ending a hose team to Oregon City was attended by some of the best and most energetic citizens of the town. Promptly at 8:30 the doors were opened to the spacious and well lighted council chambers, but the large and good-natured crowd were enjoying the cool evening air and discussing the proposition, so that for a few moments no footfall disturbed the stair, or foot sank ankle deep in the Persian rugs that cover the otherwise rugged floor. At 9 o'clock the crowd still showed no desire of getting up stairs, and Mr. Lochhead proposed an adjournment sine Deo, which was unanimously carried. Those present besides Mr. Lochhead were Mr. Harry Clough, Mr. Brown, Mr. McInerney, another gentleman and the reporter. It was a fine crowd, what there was of it.

A Little Buggy.

The Salem Statesman is one of the brightest of our exchanges and the copy we received this morning was certainly the liveliest, for it contained a small, but energetic bedbug, with his diminutive hide filled with rich red blood, which he or she had imbibed either in Salem or on the way up. We are able to know this because on this side of the range everybody is blue blooded. After examining the bug sufficiently to establish the fact that it was a tenderfoot, we jabbed it in the small of the back with our mighty shears, spreading its gory form over the paper and giving color to the statement that "a horse kicked J. S. Shafer in the Freemyre house."

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.

Malaria in any of its Forms.

Chills and fever, congestive chills, can be prevented or cured by the use of Simmons Liver Regulator, a purely vegetable medicine, superior to calomel and quinine.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 27, 1894.

Republicans have been astonished at the extent of the demoralization in the democratic ranks, as exposed by public confessions of leading democrats during the past week. The democratic senators have held two caucuses, but have reached no more definite conclusion than to order a renewal of the conference on the tariff bill, and as three democratic senators—Hill, Murphy and Irby—refused to attend either of these caucuses the outlook for the endorsement of the conference agreement, even supposing that one can be reached, is far from bright. Should those three democratic votes be cast against the agreement tariff legislation at this session would be leader tan a last year's bird's nest. It is not believed that any agreement can get through the house that does not modify the sugar schedule, not to mention coal and iron ore, and the Louisiana senators have given notice that they will vote against any agreement that makes the sugar schedule less favorable to the sugar planters of their state than it was when the bill passed the senate.

Mr. Cleveland's attempt to boss the tariff-smashing job, has made a terrible mess of it, and Don Dickinson, the man who is credited with having persuaded him into it, is getting almost as much abuse from democratic senators as is being given to Mr. Cleveland himself. There are said to be a considerable number of democrats in the house who are in favor of accepting the senate amendments, but if that be true they are keeping very quiet about it. The republicans are very well satisfied with the situation as it stands. It is entirely a democratic fight, and will continue to be such until the conference reports some sort of an agreement; then the republicans of both house and senate, particularly the latter, may have an opportunity to put in some licks that may decide the fight, and the opportunity will not be lost, if it occurs.

There is more than the misnamed "raw-materials" at stake in the fight between the free trade democrats, headed by Mr. Cleveland, and the protect-my-own-interests democrats, headed by Senator Gorman. Free "raw materials" is the rallying cry that Mr. Cleveland has adopted to force his nomination for the presidency for the fourth time by the democratic party. This fact is fully known by Senator Gorman and the democratic senators who are associated with him, and makes them all the more determined that Mr. Cleveland shall not have his way. Senator Hill is also fully cognizant of Mr. Cleveland's little game and his pretended support of the president is merely to keep the fight up by stirring up the Gormanites, whom he has had no love for since their desertion of him at a critical period during the Chicago convention, in order that he may get Cleveland downed and out of the way as a candidate. It is well known that Senator Hill will not vote for the bill, no matter whether Cleveland or Gorman wins, as long as the income tax is retained therein, and neither side is likely to strike it out.

Senator Caffery of Louisiana this week did what the senate investigating committee has so far failed to do—proved that the sugar trust dictated the sugar schedule of the senate tariff bill. Mr.

Caffery said the schedule was not satisfactory to the Louisiana senators, but that Senator Gorman compelled them to choose between it and free sugar as provided for in the original Wilson bill.

A photograph of an order for the purchase of sugar stock, signed by Senator Camden of West Virginia, is in the possession of the senate investigating committee. Mr. Camden claims that his signature is a forgery gotten up for blackmailing purposes, but it seems a little odd that a comparatively poor man should have been selected by the alleged blackmailers when there are so many rich men in the senate. It is said that if the committee succeeds in getting the corroboration testimony, it has a reason to expect that impeachment proceedings against Senator Camden, and at least one other democratic senator, will almost certainly be commenced, if there are not some resignations.

See the World's Fair for Fifteen Cents. Upon receipt of your address and fifteen cents in postage stamps, we will mail you prepaid our souvenir portfolio of the world's Columbian exposition, the regular price is fifty cents, but as we want you to have one, we make the price nominal. You will find it a work of art and a thing to be prized. It contains full page views of the great buildings, with descriptions of same, and is executed in highest style of art. Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
